On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. VAN SICKLE. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Ways and Means for further amendment.

The motion was agreed to.

The SPEAKER (Wilson G. Sarig) in the Chair.

USE OF HALL OF HOUSE GRANTED COMMITTEES

Mr. RUTH. Mr. Speaker, I move that the use of the hall of the House be granted on Wednesday afternoon, April 10, 1935, at 2:00 o'clock, for a public hearing jointly before the Committee on Ways and Means and the Committee on Highways on House Bills No. 28 and 1611.

The motion was agreed to.

STATEMENT BY MR. JOHN A. SMITH

Mr. JOHN A. SMITH asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement:

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, for the information of the House and in substantiation of the stand taken by the Speaker, I desire to refer to the record in the House History, page 29, showing that the bill presented by Mr. Ruth was referred to the Committee on Constitutional Amendments on January 21st, reported as committed on January 21st—page 155 of the Legislative Journal—wherein Mr. Diehl asked and obtained unanimous consent to report from the Committee on Constitutional Amendments House Bill 147 as committed. If you will refer to the first page of the calendar, on January 22nd you will find that House Bill 147 was given first reading. Therefore, the record before you substantiates the decision and the stand taken by the Speaker.

STATEMENT BY MR. WITKIN

Mr. WITKIN asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement:

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the gentleman has just read from the House History on page 29. House Bill No. 147 referred to was introduced on January 21st, referred to the Committee on Constitutional Amendments on January 21st, reported as committed on January 21st.

Mr. Speaker, it is my recollection, and I think I am correct, when I say that was on a Monday night when that bill was introduced. It was immediately referred to committee, and when it was before the committee it was not printd in pink.

There is no sense in trying to read into the record that it passed first reading January 22nd. The history to which they referred shows that it was reported as committed the same day it was introduced. I do not know when it could have been printed if it was introduced on the 21st of January in the House and was reported as committed on the 21st of January, and assuming that nobody here is a magician who could print bills that quickly and have them come out the same day. The gentleman in referring to the House History merely reaffirms what the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Blumberg, said. I don't say this to make any particular point of what happened to that bill, it may have been wrong, it may have been right, but to assume that the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Blumberg, is incorrect, is wrong.

The SPEAKER. The Chair wishes to inform the gentleman and the House that the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Blumberg, was incorrect. The gentleman asked to have the bill read for the first time tonight and under the Constitution it could not be read for the first time tonight. The Constitutional Amendment bill was not read when it was reported from committee; it was read the following day.

QUESTION OF INFORMATION

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, in order to settle the question, I rise to a question of information.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia will state his question of information.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, if a bill is introduced tonight can that bill without being printed be referred to a committee and reported out tonight?

The SPEAKER. The gentleman is informed that it can be referred to a committee and reported out tonight, but it can not be read for the first time until it is printed in pink. Does that answer the gentleman's question?

Mr. WITKIN. It certainly does, Mr. Speaker.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from York, Mr. Cohen, the sponsor of the bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from York permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, Section (a) of the bill reads "the employment of any means for the purpose of ascertaining the abnormalities of human eyes." Does the gentleman from York think that a man with three or four years education in eye work would be capable of using drugs for the diagnosis of an eye condition and also the treatment of this eye condition with drugs?

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Allegheny has read into Section (a) something that does not exist. Section (a) does not intimate that drugs can be used in the treatment of eyes.

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, may I ask what interpretation the gentleman from York would give of the word "any means" in that particular paragraph?

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, in reply to the question asked by the gentleman from Allegheny I would state that Section (a) only gives the right to the utilization of any means whatsoever in diagnosing the condition and does not allow the utilization of any drugs in the treatment of the condition.

Section (b), if the gentleman from Allegheny will read further, says "the correction of faulty and defective vision without the use of drugs." There is a specific restricting clause in the act itself that does not allow the optometrist to utilize drugs in the treatment of the condition, but does allow the optometrist to utilize whatever means are in his power to ascertain and diagnose the abnormalities in the condition of the eye, but no drugs whatsoever in the treatment. That is clearly set forth in Section (b).

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, I do not think the gentleman understood my question. My question was, in paragraph (a) what is the meaning of "any means" for the purpose of ascertaining the abnormalities of the human eye.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the interrogation of the gentleman from Allegheny, I can only state that the words mean what they say, that they are allowed to utilize whatever means are in their powers to ascertain the abnormalities of the eye. The gentleman must not read that section alone, because it might convey a different impression, but if he will read section (a) and section (b) he will note that it provides that they are not allowed to use drugs.

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, and members of the House, paragraph (a) specifically states "employment of any means for the purpose of ascertaining the abnormalities of the human eye." The words "any means" implicates the use of drugs, which constitutes one of the principal methods of diagnosing the eye's conditions. The gentleman from York says that section (b) specifically states not to use drugs in the treatment of the eye. That is correct.

The first paragraph deals with the diagnosis, the second with the treatment, and those are two different things entirely. In this first paragraph,—the eye, as is well known, is only a portion of the body. The correction of vision is only one thing that can be wrong with the eye. Conditions of the eye can occur from other conditions in the body. The use of drugs in ascertaining the diagnosis, naturally in the hands of a person not an expert, or one who does not know the human body may cause some deleterious effect, may even ruin one of these special senses that we all have.

I rise to oppose this bill. This bill apparently seems to be a very good bill otherwise, and I asked the gentleman from York to correct this measure, but so far it has not been corrected. Therefore I should like to ask the members of this House to vote against this bill.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I appreciate the thoughts of the gentleman from Allegheny, Dr. Sarraf. I appreciate the fact that he has mentioned that the bill in all other respects as far as he is concerned is a good bill. I can recommend this bill to the consideration of the House,—it is a good bill. It seeks to raise the practice of optometry to the high standard it has gained after being one of the approved licensed professions in this Commonwealth over a period of possibly twelve to fifteen years. Today the practice of optometry is in the same position that dentistry was possibly ten years ago. They require a three-year course in an accredited institution, covering three thousand seven hundred hours.

The only objection that Dr. Sarraf has to the consideration of this bill is section (a), in which is stated the "employment of any means for ascertaining the abnormality of the eye." It must be borne in mind that there is no indication in this bill that drugs should be utilized in correcting the conditions that might exist. It does allow the optometrist to use whatever means are in his power to ascertain what those conditions are, and if the optometrist finds the condition, finds a pathological condition, one that he is not equipped to treat he can refer that case to the proper medical man. I doubt if there are any medical practitioners graduated from any class in a medical college who has had the training in the eye that the men who graduate from the institutions in Pennsylvania have, that the men who actually practice optometry have as far as the consideration of the treatment of the eye is concerned.

I can say as Doctor Sarraf says that the bill in all other respects meets the highest support of the medical profession, and if the gentleman will read in the proper light sections (a) and (b) together the bill will impinge no hardship whatsoever on the people of this community and will only tend to give people of this Commonwealth an opportunity for better service.

Mr. SUMNEY. Mr. Speaker, I agree with Dr. Sarraf that that is a defect in the bill and a very great one, and for that reason unless the bill is amended, I shall oppose it.

Mr. HINDMAN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I also agree with the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Sarraf, regarding this bill. I also believe that it is an excellent bill. We had the subject matter of this bill up with the sponsor last week and at that time we assured him that we would be for it if this amendment were made to it, but this amendment has not been made in the bill.

If a drug is used for diagnostic purposes or for curative purposes and if you have an individual who is susceptible to a drug and is poisoned by it or it has a deleterious effect, then regardless of the purpose for which it might be used, it should not be used, unless it is used by a competent physician who has been thoroughly trained in the art of therapeutics.

So far as the bill itself is concerned, we think it is an excellent bill and we agree with the gentleman from York that this branch of the science has made a very great advance, but I wish to state to the members of the House that as it now stands it is unsafe and is opposed by the State Medical Society, and we feel that it would be an unfair thing to pass this bill as it is.

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, to verify the fact that it means the use of drugs. The statement just preceding Section (a) specifically states, and it has been eliminated "the employment of any means other than the use of drugs for the measurements of the powers of vision and the adaption of lenses for the correction and aid of the vision of human beings." Now, that should no doubt be brought out in section (a) and the fact of using drugs in the diagnosis of eye conditions.

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 50, entitled:

An act to amend section one of the act approved the fourth day of April, one thousand nine hundred and one, (P. L. 65), entitled "An act to punish kidnappers, their aiders, assistors, and abettors," by imposing the penalty of death in all cases of kidnapping with intent to extort money or other valuable thing.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. KANE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I want to call to your attention the fact that I think the sponsor of this bill, with a good idea in the back of his mind, has unintentionally got to the stage of third reading a bill which in its present form at least would tend to defeat the purpose for which he introduced the bill, namely to curb kidnapping and prevent the danger to law abiding citizens of this crime. I would call your attention specifically to the fact that the law, as it stands, provides that the court might impose a life sentence or a sentence for a lesser period of years. The bill as amended and before you now takes away the discretion of the court and places the responsibility upon the jurors of inflicting life imprisonment or death.

The preceding bill provided that the death in this case shall be by electrocution. I wish to call the attention of the sponsor of the bill, particularly because I think he has a good idea here and does not get what he wants, that it has been widely discussed in the magazines and has been a subject of debate among the legal fraternity that bills of this nature have a tendency to cause juries to refuse to convict in cases where the circumstances are not rather drastic; where the jury has no option to condemn a man either to life imprisonment or death if they find him guilty at all. There are a good many jurors who would not be willing to convict under ordinary circumstances, who are not willing to send a man to his death or to life imprisonment. Many of the guilty would thus escape if this bill became a law.

I would further call attention to the fact that it is believed many kidnappers under certain circumstances would have a tendency to return their victim alive, but if the penalty is as great if the victim should be returned alive as the penalty would be if the victim is killed, many of us who practice law believe that kidnappers would have a tendency to kill their victims if taking the life of that victim in any way enhances the chances of the kidnappers. If the fact that the victim lives tends to hinder the escape of the kidnapper it is probable that, facing death in any event, whether the child or victim be killed or not, that he will kill the victim.

I think the idea behind this bill is good. Perhaps this measure should be brought forward in another form, but it is now on third reading, and I should apologize for not offering an amendment when I ought to have done so, but unfortunately in its present form the members of the House who do not want to encourage kidnapping should vote against this bill. The thing that destroys the crime is not the severity of the punishment, but the certainty of capture and the certainty of conviction. It is my conviction that neither of those things would be assured by the passage of this bill in its present form.

Mr. STEVENS. Mr. Speaker, ladies and gentlemen of this House, the intent of this bill is to discourage the practice of kidnapping. It has been going on for quit a long time in this country of ours and especially in our Commonwealth. The most hideous crime in the world is kidnapping, lower I would say than murder. Any man who is a father of children whose child is snatched from under his eyes and possibly killed, or even though the child is not killed, to be dragged away from his parents and break the hearts of the parents is a very hideous crime, and the intent of this bill is to discourage that crime, and not so much to punish, even though the death penalty or life imprisonment will be inflicted, that is going to show the kidnapper who commits this crime what is facing him, and I am sure the passage of this bill will discourage kidnapping.

Mr. KANE. Mr. Speaker, perhaps I did not make myself perfectly clear to Mr. Stevens, the sponsor of this bill.

I would be very glad to support this bill if the gentleman would be willing to recall it for the purpose of entertaining an amendment to the bill. I belive if the death penalty were to be inflicted in certain cases or life imprisonment were to be inflicted in certain cases, what the gentleman says would be true, that kidnapping would be discouraged, but I think the bill as it now stands would merely tend to force the kidnapper who wished to make good his escape he would take no chances in dragging his victim with him he would either kill or dispose of his victim if he thought he was going to be captured. Might I suggest that if the victim were returned alive and well within a certain time that the death penalty be not imposed, but in case any injury of any kind were done to the victim then perhaps the death penalty should be inflicted.

Mr. STEVENS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, we now have a law on the statute books that prohibits murder. Now this act will bring into effect a law that will prevent kidnapping. We know that these criminals will kill rather than be caught. They do that at the present time, but their abbettors and assistants have been getting away with it, and they should be dragged in and made to face the music the same as those who committed the actual crime.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

SENATE

TUESDAY, April 9, 1935.

The Senate met at 11:00 o'clock A. M.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Thomas Kennedy) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. William E. Howard, D. D., offered the following prayer:

We adore and magnify Thee, O blessed Lord God. Thy name is above every name and Thy glory transcends the effulgence of the most dazzling noon-tide sun. All the powers of nature are subservient to Thy will and move at the command of Thy voice. In comparison with Thee "what is man that Thou art mindful of him and the son of man that Thou visitest him?"

How fitting and wise it is for us to be Thy willing servants, for Thou has made us and not we ourselves. Remake us each day so that Thy likeness may shine forth in our countenance and Thy purposes may be achieved by our activities.

Operate through the actions of this deliberative and legislative body of men so that the coming of Thy kingdom upon this earth may be hastened.

The burden of this prayer is that Thy holy name may be glorified. Amen.

Mr. REED. Mr. President, I move to reconsider the vote by which the bill passed third reading.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. REED. Mr. President, I voted "aye".

Mr. CHAPMAN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. CHAPMAN. Mr. President, I voted "aye".

The motion was agreed to.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. REED. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent to amend the title of the bill by striking out the word "and" after the word "Affairs" in the fourth line.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection? The Chair hear none.

The amendment was agreed to.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading as amended?

It was agreed to.

And said bill having been read at length the third time and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. WOODWARD. Mr. President, I wish simply to explain why I vote "no" on this bill. In the Sterling report, which is now called the Democratic bible, whenever the committee came up against ex-officio boards they had not a good word to say for them. This bill transfers the administration of the fund from the Welfare and Mothers' Assistance Board to an ex-officio board composed of the Lieutenant Governor of the Commonwealth, the Secretary of Internal Affairs and the Secretary of the Commonwealth. I submit that those gentlemen will take less interest in the administration of the fund than the Department of Welfare and the Mothers' Assistance Board. Now I understand that the blind ought to be considered pensioners and not beneficiaries, but I fail to see why if they are under the jurisdicton of the Mothers' Assistance Board why any stigma or slur of any kind is put upon the blind. The Mothers' Assistance Board administers the old age pensions, and why should not they administer the blind pensions. So far as I know it is doing that very well and I think we all have the highest regard for the Mothers' Assistance ability to administer the fund that goes to the blind.

Mr. ARON. Mr. President, I would like to read a statement to the Senate regarding this bill. I oppose this bill, and the reasons are contained in this statement.

Before I voice my objections to Senate Bill No. 147, I want to declare my sincere interests in the Welfare of the Blind. As an individual as well as a Legislator, I would like to do everything possible to lighten the burden of the sightless citizens of Pennsylvania and my opposition to this bill is based on the fact that I believe that this bill is detrimental to the best interests of this handicapped group.

The administration of the Pensions of the Blind by the Mothers' Assistance Fund gives to those blind who need it, the same case work service which has made the M. A. F. work with widows and children an asset to the State. I know that under the M. A. F. administration blind people have not only been given financial assistancee, but have been given health care and wise advice with their problems; that opportunities for work are being sought for them, and that plans are being made to give them more recreation and more education.

The group of the blind which oppose this administration say that they do not want investigation and yet Senate Bill 147, provides that investigation must be made to show that the income of the pensioners does not exceed $1200.00 a year. The same kind of investigation is needed to establish an income of $1200.00 as to establish an income of $366.00, or $488.00, the incomes permitted by the present law.

Residence qualifications require careful investigation in both laws and Senate Bill 147, requires citizenship investigation to establish citizenship, so that all the investigation needed to establish their eligibility under the present law, will be required under S-147, with the addition of the investigation for the certification of citizenship.

The group in favor of this bill objected to periodic examinations for the totally blind. There is nothing in the present law which demands annual periodic examinations of the blind and I have been informed by those administering the act that it requires only that examinations shall be made in the case of people with partial sight if there is indication that improvement is possible. But Senate Bill S-147, does provide for yearly re-examinations.

Senate Bill 147, provides that all persons entitled to pensions under provisions of the law shall receive the full amount of such pension until the funds provided have become exhausted. This might mean that the funds appropriated might become exhausted at the end of five or six months, giving no continued financial security to the blind pensioners. The present system, based on need, grants at least financial security to those accepted for the current biennium.

Senate Bill 147, excludes that large group of partially blind who by reason of the small amount of their vision may be unable to compete with sighted people or to take their place in society without special help. To all intents and purposes these people suffer the same handicaps of the totally blind. This group is left under the administration of the M. A. F.

Surely it it apparent to you that two departments administering the same kind of help to the same class of people is a waste of money and effort—and surely you do not wish to exclude from the benefits of Pensions for the Blind that group of people to which you voted aid only a year ago.

Those in favor of Senate Bill S-147, favor it because it provides what they call a flat pension to all totally blind people. Behind that demand is the philosophy that certain groups of people irrespective of their need are deserving of assistance from public funds.

In these days of acute distress the public funds are barely sufficient to relieve the most dire need and it seems to me far better that we use these funds to help as many of the people as possible to attain the minimum standards of life and health rather than to give more adequate assistance to certain favored groups.

I ask you, therefore, gentlemen, to leave the administration of Pensions for the Blind with the State Welfare Department; to continue to give them a graded pension, because I believe in that way the State funds will do the greatest good to the greatest number of blind people; to continue to ask careful investigation to establish the need so that only those who are dependent on public funds shall receive them; and to continue to give those eligible for this public aid the health care and supervision which will make them as comfortable and as happy and as useful as possible under the circumstances.

In the interest of the blind themselves, I ask for the defeat of Senate Bill 147.

I say that I am opposed to this bill and its bad legislation.

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, and members of the Senate. It was not my purpose to speak on this bill, but in view of the objections raised by my distinguished colleague, the Senator from Philadelphia, Dr. Woodward, also my distinguished colleague, the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Aron, I feel it is due to the blind people of Pennsylvania, whom I am seeking to represent, to state as concisely as I can the reason why I believe this bill should be adopted by the Senate.

In the first place, I do not want to make any criticism of the various boards who are now administering this fund, the Mothers' Assistance Boards, of Pennsylvania. They were created for a definite purpose, and in performing their duties I believe they are functioning honestly and rendering a loyal service to the public, but this bill stands upon a different basis. I urge this bill because it is an answer to the direct mandate of the people of Pennsylvania that a pension system be provided for the blind. At the election in 1931-1933, by an overwhelming vote of 1,092,001 votes for, and only 355,405 opposed, the people of Pennsylvania read into section 18, article 3, of the Constitution:

"No appropriations, except for pensions or gratuities for military services and to blind persons," and the words "and to blind persons" were the new words read into the law, "twenty-one years of age and upwards, shall be made for charitable, educational or benevolent purposes, to any person or community, nor to any denominational or sectarian institution, corporation or association."

Now, it is my view that the people of Pennsylvania had a very definite purpose when they amended that provision of the Constitution, and that was to place the blind persons of Pennsylvania in the same category as those who are entitled to pensions for military service.

My friend, the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Aron, has read a statement of someone who has an opinion as to the best method for the blind, but I say that in sponsoring this bill, I am representing the sentiments of least 95 per cent of the blind people themselves, and when we are dealing with the blind of Pennsylvania we are not dealing with a special class, only special at least in the fact that they are suffering from the most terrific handicap that a human being can have, the handicap of total blindness. The blind have considered this matter, the bill which I have proposed is the request, yes, the demand of the blind of Pennsylvania, and I believe they know, or ought to know their wants and demands better than anyone else; and in making this request, they are simply following out what is the clear mandate of the people of this Commonwealth as expressed in the election of 1933.

Mr. President, I say that when they ask for a commission composed of three of the high officers of this Commonwealth, the Lieutenant-Governor, the Secretary of Internal Affairs and the Secretary of the Commonwealth, they are making a fair and reasonable demand, and, for one, I resent the insinuation that these three high officers of the Commonwealth will not administer this law honestly and fairly, and according to its purpose.

Mr. President, I cannot see wherein this bill there is one cent of additional expense. This commission serves without compensation; this commission will be at liberty in each county to use existing agencies, it may be the Mothers' Relief investigator, if they so desire, or any other agency to make this necessary investigation; but the point is that the people of Pennsylvania have said that the blind shall have a pension, and that pension means that it shall be administered by a commission and not by a welfare organization.

I am sure that there is no man in the Senate of Pennsylvania who would contend for one moment that were we to enact a law providing for a pension for soldiers, providing for a certain amount to be paid to veterans, that it should be administered through the Mothers' Relief Board. This is not the function of that Board, I say, Mr. President, and so I stand here under the Constitution asking this Senate to heed the cry of these our unfortunate citizens who, under their rights, have a right to voice their demands, and I ask this Senate to follow out the mandate of the people and enact this bill which the blind of Pennsylvania so urgently demand.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I want to say that I have watched with a great deal of pleasure the activity of Senator Reed in connection with this bill, and I appreciate the sincerity of his purpose. I know the question of his ideals in the matter. I am not asking anyone to vote against the bill, I am only expressing my views, so that the people may not misunderstand my vote—my reasons for voting against this bill. They are, first, because I believe the bill does not carry out the intention of the parties who are interested in the bill. I understand from the Senator from Dauphin, Mr. Reed, that it is the desire of the people interested to take this administration out of the welfare department.

Now, as I read the bill, it is quite inconsistent; first, if you will read page 2, it provides on page 2:

"Any blind person eligible to or a recipient of the pension for the blind, provided for by existing law, shall without further stipulation or qualification become eligible to the provisions of this act"; and on page 5: "But no person receiving a pension under this act shall be entitled to receive a pension under said act of January seventeenth one thousand, nine hundred and thirty-four."

I take it that those two inconsistent provisions put this bill in such a position that I cannot vote for it. If the answer is, however, that those who receive pensions under the old existing laws shall not receive it under the new laws, let it mean that only those new persons come in, or those whose applications have not been acted on, can come under the provisions of the act, and, therefore, the very purpose of the parties interested in this bill is not served, because a very large number of people will be receiving under the welfare department, and a very small number of persons, afflicted as they are, will be under the new Board, for whom, under the terms of the act, there is no appropriation, and in my humble opinion I cannot see how they will carry out their intention. It would seem to me that if the blind people do not like the method of administration, we might be able to amend the existing law, but when we prepare a new Act and create two boards functioning under the same circumstances on a subject matter, with the majority in one ward and a minority in the other, we are not making good legislation.

In addition, I call your attention that this bill provides that the Board itself may make such investigations for the few people who will come under its jurisdiction in any manner it may see fit, to the extent that "it may contract with any municipality or poor district, or with privately maintained agencies to make such investigations in the various localities within the State, and may pay a reasonable compensation for such services".

We will have one investigation made by the welfare department and we will have another investigation made by privatel yowned investigators, and we will have a condition of chaos which will make these people come back to us again in the very near future to correct a condition which they themselves have created in the hope that they are going to better their situation, and I will be in favor, if there is any mis-administration, or mal-administration, to try to correct what is a bad condition under the old Act; but to present a bill of this kind dealing with one class of persons only, and to say that we are taking care of all, is beyond my comprehension.

I call your attention to the fact that this bill deals with people who are destitute of sight, and the old Act deals with people who had a certain minimum amount of vision, so that persons who can see, and at the same time who can take care of themselves, are taken care of under the old Act. Under this Act, only those people who are destitute of sight come under the terms of this Act, and only those who are destitute of sight are being taken care of under the existing law come under the old Act, and for these reasons I cannot vote for this kind of a bill.

Mr. McCREESH. Mr. President, I might say that I am for pensions for the blind, and I might also say that this bill has been recommitted several times, and every time it comes back on the floor there is something wrong. The blind committee at the last public hearing were satisfied with anything they could get, and the bill was changed from $50.00 and cut down to $30.00. I suggest that we vote on this bill now.

And the question recurring

BILL ON THIRD READING

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 246, entitled:

An Act to amend section eight of the act, approved the twenty-ninth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one (P. L. 280), entitled "An act relating to delinquent taxes on seated lands, and prescribing interest charges on nonpayment thereof; requiring the receivers and collectors of county, city, borough, town, township, school district and poor district taxes to make a return to the county commissioners of such unpaid taxes, and providing for the lien thereof; authorizing the county treasurers to collect such taxes, and to sell seated lands at public sale for taxes heretofore or hereafter returned as unpaid; and authorizing the county commissioners to purchase such lands and resell the same under certain circumstances," as amended, by increasing the commission of the county treasurer; and providing that the same shall be for the use of the County.

And said bill having been read at length the third time,

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill?

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, I am opposed to this bill. The bill, in substance, increases the rate of commission that is allowed to the county treasurer in tax sales. I do not think there is a county in this state that wants to go into real estate business and increase this rate of commission from two to five per cent. Any county just simply imposes an additional burden, an additional hardship, in the redemption of property after it has been sold by the county commissioners.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, as I read the title of this bill it might imply that the county treasurer would receive as compensation himself, addtional money, as I understand it that is not the case, but the county treasurer receives nothing at all, except he transfers the money from one fund to the other in the county treasury. I desire to interrogate the sponsor of the bill to ascertain if I am correct.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Warren, Mr. Chapman, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. CHAPMAN. Mr. President, I was asked to introduce this bill at the request of the County Commissioners Association of Pennsylvania. This bill increases the commission of the county treasurer from two to five per cent which is to go back to the county commissioners for relief purposes.

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, to clarify the situation, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 246,

BILL OVER IN ORDER

Mr. THOMPSON (Westmoreland). Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Senate Bill No. 701 (House Bill No. 1354), on third reading, entitled:

An Act to amend the act approved the fifteenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-three (P. L. 624), entitled "An act relating to the business of banking and to the exercise of fiduciary powers by corporations; providing for the organization of corporations with fiduciary powers, and of banking corporations, with or without fiduciary powers, including the conversion of National banks into State banks, and for the licensing of private bankers; defining the rights, powers, duties, liabilities, and immunities of such corporations, of existent corporations authorized to engage in a banking business, with or without fiduciary powers, of private bankers, and of the officers, directors, trustees, share-holders, attorneys, and other employes of all such corporations or private bankers, or of affiliated corporations, associations, or persons; restricting the exercise of banking powers by any other corporation, association, or person, and of fiduciary powers by any other corporation; conferring powers and imposing duties upon the courts, prothonotaries, recorders of deeds, and certain State departments, commissions, and officers; imposing penalties; and repealing certain acts and parts of acts," by further providing for the powers and limitations upon the acts of corporations and persons authorized to engage in a banking or a fiduciary business, or both, and of affiliates of such corporations or persons, and of officers, directors, trustees, and employes of such corporations and persons.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, may I ask the purpose of putting this bill over in its order. After bills go over in order they come back again and take up our time.

Mr. THOMPSON. (Westmoreland). Mr. President, the purpose is to further study the bill. It is an involved bill. I have here a communication this morning about it and I would like to give it more study, that is all.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, for the information of the Senate, I would like to say that this bill is a bill prepared by the State Banking Department to take care of a critical situation with reference to certain banks that need additional capital. The bill has been studied, as I understand it, by representatives of the banks in the State and all are agreed on this bill. Doctor Harr tells me that it is very urgent that the bill be passed. I do not want to oppose the request of the Senator from Westmoreland, Mr. Thompson that the bill go over in its order, if it is understood that it be brought up tomorrow. I think it is important that this bill be acted on very promptly.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, the request of the Senator from Westmoreland, Mr. Thompson, is that it go over in its order. That will bring it up on the calendar tomorrow for a vote and in the meantime there will be sufficient time for all of us to study the bill.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I was wondering if it would not be well to just postpone it until this afternoon.

The PRESIDENT. The bill will simply go over in its order and it can be called up this afternoon.

Is there objection? The Chair hears none.

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Ordered, That the Clerk present said bill to the House of Representatives for concurrence,

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 754, entitled:

An Act making an appropriation to the Trustees of Temple University at Philadelphia Pennsylvania

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. PRINCE. Mr. President, I expect to vote "no" on this bill. It is a protest against our policy of appropriating moneys to private institutions of learning. There are fifty-four colleges in Pennsylvania exclusive of State College, and only three of them receive an appropriation. It has long been the custom of the Legislature to grant appropriations to the University of Pennsylvania, Pittsburgh and Temple, I do not know exactly what the tie-up is between the university and the Commonwealth, but it is my strong impression that the other two, at least, are semi private institutions. I represent a private institution myself which is much older than the other two. We do not receive and we do not want to receive one cent of appropriation from the state and I merely vote "no" on this bill in order that we may perhaps, in the course of the next two years, reconsider and revise our policy of appropriating public funds to strictly private institutions of learning.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I move that the question together with the further consideration of the bill be postponed for the present.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I do not see any reason for that. This is a regular appropriation bill. It comes up here every session and if there is any college in this Commonwealth that does wonderful work for its students it is Temple University and I do not think this bill ought to be kicked around like a football.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

It was not agreed to.

In the House of Representatives, April 1, 1935.

Whereas A number of investigating committees have been created by the House of Representatives to investigate the affairs of local relief boards in particular counties and

Whereas It is apparent from the widespread dissatisfaction that some inherent defect exists in the present system of relief distribution and that enormous sums of public money are being expended and are requested for the next fiscal biennium when no taxpayer appears to be assured that such expenditures are actually needed and

Whereas Taxpayers are demanding that the light of publicity be thrown upon the whole system of distributing public relief and that some system be devised to call from the list of recipients of relief those who are unworthy those who abuse the aid extended to them and those who paint false pictures of economic conditions in order to fasten a dole system foreign to American traditions on the body politic and

Whereas The system of investigating relief distribution in particular localities while beneficial to the locality affected fails to approach the task of placing relief upon a sound Statewide business basis whereby red tape may be eliminated and those actually in need aided in a manner suitable to an American citizen therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur That the Speaker of the House of Representatives and the President Pro Tempore of the Senate shall each appoint three members of their respective Houses whose duty it shall be (a) to make a searching and impartial study and investigation of the distribution of public relief throughout this Commonwealth (b) to ascertain whether and in what respect the present system is open to abuse (c) to ascertain whether additional legal safeguards should be provided (d) to ascertain whether appropriations for relief may be reduced (e) to collate and digest reports of other investigating committees and (f) to investigate such other facts and circumstances as may be deemed necessary and advisable to enable the General Assembly to act with some degree of certainty and establish an impartial unpolitical unwasteful and business system of aiding those of our unfortunates in need and of eradicating and punishing those who take advantage of distressing economic conditions for their personal selfish ends whether as recipients of relief or as distributors thereof.

Resolved That said committee shall make a preliminary report of its findings to this General Assembly as early as possible and shall make a final report to the General Assembly not later than February 1, 1937.

Resolved That the said committee shall have power to issue subpoenas under the hand and seal of its chairman requesting and commanding any person or persons to appear before them and to answer such questions touching matters properly being inquired into by the committee and to produce such books papers records and documents as the committee may deem necessary Such subpoenas may be served upon any person and shall have the force and effect of subpoenas issued out of the court of this Commonwealth Each member of said committee shall have power to administer oaths and affirmations to witnesses appearing before the committee Any person who shall wilfully neglect or refuse to testify before said committee or to produce any books papers records or documents shall be subject to the penalties provided by the laws of the Commonwealth in such cases

EXECUTIVE SESSION

By unanimous consent,

A motion was made by Mr. SONES,

That Rule 38, which requires nominations made by the Governor, to lie on the table one day be dispensed with, and the Senate do now resolve itself into Executive Session, for the purpose of acting upon the foregoing nominations:

Which was agreed to.

Whereupon,

A motion was made by Mr. SONES,

That the Senate do advise and consent to the nominations reported.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, two weeks ago I objected to the confirmation of John R. Klima of Roslyn Farms, Allegheny County, Carnegie, Pa. At that time I voiced my objection because of the fact that I had no knowledge of the gentleman's character or ability to fill the position to which he had been appointed. Since that time I have made some investigation. I find the gentleman is a man of character, enjoys a very splendid reputation in his community, and will be eminently fitted to fill this position. Therefore, I now withdraw any objection that I had to the confirmation of his nomination, and urge the confirmation of John R. Klima as Justice of the Peace of Roslyn Farms.

On the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

AMENDED RESOLUTION RETURNED FOR CONCURRENCE

RESOLUTION NO. 110

In the House of Representatives, April 1, 1935.

Whereas, A number of investigating committees have been created by the House of Representatives to investigate the affairs of local relief boards in particular counties; and

Whereas, It is apparent, from the widespread dissatisfaction, that some inherent defect exists in the present system of relief distribution, and that enormous sums of public money are being expended and are requested for the next fiscal biennium when no taxpayer appears to be assured that such expenditures are actually needed; and

Whereas, Taxpayers are demanding that the light of publicity be thrown upon the whole system of distributing public relief and that some system be devised to cull from the list of recipients of relief those who are unworthy, those who abuse the aid extended to them, and those who paint false pictures of economic conditions in order to fasten a dole system, foreign to American traditions, on the body politic; and

Whereas, The system of investigating relief distribution in particular localities, while beneficial to the locality affected, fails to approach the task of placing relief upon a sound State-wide business basis, whereby red tape may be eliminated and those actually in need aided in a manner suitable to an American citizen; therefore, be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the Speaker of the House of Representatives and the President Pro Tempore of the Senate shall each appoint three members of their respective Houses, whose duty it shall be (a) to make a searching and impartial study and investigation of the distribution of public relief throughout this Commonwealth, (b) to ascertain whether, and in what respect, the present system is open to abuse, (c) to ascertain whether additional legal safeguards should be provided, (d) to ascertain whether appropriations for relief may be reduced, (e) to collate and digest reports of other investigating committees, and (f) to investigate such other facts and circumstances as may be deemed necessary and advisable to enable the General Assembly to act with some degree of certainty and establish an impartial, unpolitical, unwasteful, and business system of aiding those of our unfortunates in need and eradicating and punishing those who take advantage of distressing economic conditions for their personal, selfish ends, whether as recipients of relief or as distributors thereof.

Resolved, That said committee shall make a report of its findings to this General Assembly as early as possible.

Resolved, That the said committee shall have power to issue subpoenas under the hand and seal of its chairman requesting and commanding any person or persons to appear before them and to answer such questions touching matters properly being inquired into by the committee, and to produce such books, papers, records and documents as the committee may deem necessary. Such subpoenas may be served upon any person and shall have the force and effect of subpoenas issued out of the courts of this Commonwealth. Each member of said committee shall have power to administer oaths and affirmations to witnesses appearing before the committee. Any person who shall wilfully neglect or refuse to testify before said committee or to produce any books, papers, records or documents shall be subject to the penalties provided by the laws of the Commonwealth in such cases.

With the information that the Senate has passed the same with amendments, in which the concurrence of the House of Representatives is requested.

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the amendments.

The amendments were read by the Clerk as follows:

Amend resolution, page 2, line 21, by inserting after the word "a" the word "preliminary;" also in line 23, by inserting after the word "possible" the following: "and shall make a final report to the General Assembly not later than February 1, 1937."

On the question.

Will the House concur in the amendments made by the Senate?

They were concurred in.

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE

Mr. EBERHARTER. Mr. Speaker, I desire at this time to call up House Bill No. 1737, Printer's No. 515, on page 9 of today's calendar, bills on final passage postponed.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. Eberharter.

The House resumed the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1737, entitled:

An Act To amend the title and the act approved the twenty-eighth day of April one thousand eight hundred ninety-nine (Pamphlet Laws one hundred seventeen) entitled "An act making it unlawful for any person to hold himself out or advertise himself as a lawyer attorney-at-law or counsellor-at-law in any county of the State of Pennsylvania unless duly admitted to practice by a court of record of any county in this Commonwealth and providing a penalty therefor" as amended by extending the scope of the title defining and further prohibiting the practice of law and providing additional penalties including the forfeiture of corporate charters for violations of the act.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. TUMELTY. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the sponsor of this bill, the gentleman from allegheny, Mr. Eberharter.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny County, Mr. Eberharter, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. EBERHARTER. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. TUMELTY. Will the gentleman from Allegheny state whether this bill takes in persons, as well as partnerships, associations, and corporations?

Mr. EBERHARTER. Mr. Speaker in answer to the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Tumelty, I would say that the bill does take into consideration persons partnerships, associations and corporations.

Mr. TUMELTY. May I ask, Mr. Speaker, under the provisions of this bill, if a licensed real estate broker in the State of Pennsylvania sells a property, can he draw the necessary papers to convey the property, create a mortgage, if necessary, a bond or judgment notes, whatever might be necessary, to complete the transaction?

Mr. EBERHARTER. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman from Philadelphia, I would say that the real estate broker could. That is incorporated in the bill on page five under paragraph (f) wherein the real estate broker is given the right to draw the necessary papers to complete the transaction.

Mr. TUMELTY. Mr. Speaker, would the gentleman from Allegheny say that a real estate broker has an interest in a property where a client comes in and merely asks him to draw a deed, transferring the property to another member of his family?

Mr. EBERHARTER. Mr. Speaker, in answer to that question from the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Tumelty, I would say that the provisions which I just mentioned relate to real estate transactions in which the broker has a consideration or some interest in the way of a commission or in the way of a consideration for his services in selling the real estate.

Mr. TUMELTY. Mr. Speaker, do I understand the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Eberharter, correctly to say that where a licensed real estate broker actually sells a property he is considered capable of handling the conveyancing, but where he does not actually sell the property it then becomes a legal matter and he is not capable of making the conveyance?

Mr. EBERHARTER. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Tumelty, I might say this, that where a real estate broker has an interest in a transaction by way of a commission or anything of that sort the law allows him, as it does at the present time, to draw the necessary papers. I would say this, if it is in the actual transaction of his business, he can draw those papers, but this act would prohibit him from going out and soliciting the drawing of papers such as mortgages and deeds, where he has no other interest in the transaction other than the drawing of legal papers.

Mr. TUMELTY. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Eberharter, if a licensed real estate broker advertises a house for rent and succeeds in getting a tenant, under this act he is permitted to draw the lease, but if he does not succeed in getting a tenant, and the owner of the property collects the rent himself, he gets a tenant and wishes a lease drawn the licensed real estate broker under this act, as I read it, is not capable of drawing that lease, is that correct?

Mr. EBERHARTER. Mr. Speaker, I don't know whether I could say a licensed real estate broker is not capable.

Mr. TUMELTY. Mr. Speaker, I will change my language, I will say "not permitted."

Mr. EBERHARTER. I would say, Mr. Speaker, that under the provisions of this bill he is not permitted to solicit the drawing of leases, the drawing of mortgages, deeds, deeds of trusts, trust agreements, and other legal papers, with which he has no actual and direct financial connections.

Mr. TUMELTY. Mr. Speaker, at no time am I referring to a man soliciting business. I am speaking of business that comes to him without solicitation. Would he then be entitled to draw the lease or deed or anything else that he did not solicit.

Mr. EBERHARTER. Mr. Speaker, the act provides that any person who is not an attorney cannot hold himself out as being capable of drawing legal papers such as mortgages, deeds, deeds of trusts, and so forth, unless it is directly connected with his business. If a real estate operator wants to draw leases, mortgages, trust agreements, deeds, and so forth, for the general public, I would say that he would be prohibited from so doing under the provisions of this act.

Mr. TUMELTY. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Eberharter, could a licensed real estate broker or any representative of a real estate board appear before a taxation body, whether it be with regard to school taxes or otherwise, and protest against an increase in taxes or any assessment of taxes on properties and so forth.

Mr. EBERHARTER. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman from Philadelphia, I would say that a person who would appear before a board in that capacity would not be considered as practicing law. I do not think that any person in that category would have anything to fear from the provisions of this bill.

Mr. TUMELTY. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I rise to oppose this bill on the ground that the state of Pennsylvania, under the Department of Public Instruction, licenses a real estate broker and gives him permission to sell and convey property. Our schools and our colleges have courses in conveyancing, in commercial law and various other forms of law that might all come up in commercial use.

I believe that under this act commercial law would no longer be permitted to be practiced by anybody except lawyers, and I do not believe that up to this time commercial law has been considered real legal work. Under the provisions of this act a condition exists in our county, as I presume in every other county in the state, where building and loan associations are forced to take back properties from people who could not afford to pay for them. The present law gives the building and loan association an opportunity to save for the building and loan association the costs of a sheriff's sale by transferring the property back to the building and loan association. In many cases this work is handled by a conveyancor who in most cases does not receive any compensation, because the building and loan association is not in a position to give him compensation. I suggest that if this bill is passed it will drive practically every real estate man out of business in our county, and I think it will drive a lot of justices of the peace out of business throughout the state. Under this bill they would not be allowed to draw a bill of sale for a horse and cart, if one farmer decided to sell it to another. I say that under the provisions of this act a man who is licensed by the Board of Public Instruction of Pennsylvania will not receive any license outside of a peddler's license.

For that reason, I oppose this bill so that the real estate business may still be on the high plane that it has always been.

Mr. BURKE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Tumelty?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Tumelty, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. TUMELTY. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BURKE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman, am I correct when I assume that the gentleman thinks a real estate man should not be deprived of the opportunity of drawing a deed?

Mr. TUMELTY. Mr. Speaker, I will answer that by saying he should not be deprived of the opportunity of drawing a deed to real property.

Mr. BURKE. Mr. Speaker, I am going to ask the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Tumelty, two questions and in order to be fair about these questions I am going to give him a copy of each question, to give him an opportunity to look over them, so that I might not be considered unfair in asking the questions. I want, first of all, to ask the gentleman to refer to the question marked number one. Does the gentleman have that question?

Mr. TUMELTY. I do, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. BURKE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Philadelphia if a real estate broker is asked to draw a deed, giving a piece of real estate to A for his life time, then to A's children for their lives, and then to A's grandchildren absolutely, at the time the deed is drawn A is single, what is the gentleman's opinion on that type of deed?

Mr. TUMELTY. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Burke, I do not believe—I will not say it for a fact—that it is possible to draw such a thing. I believe, after it goes to one person it then must go out absolutely, if I remember the law correctly. However, if I found myself in such a position, I would get out the law books and find out.

Mr. BURKE. Mr. Speaker, am I to construe the gentleman to mean that the property would be held by A for life, then by A's children for life, and then by A's grandchildren, that is, if the gentleman remembers the law correctly?

Mr. TUMELTY. Mr. Speaker, from my interpretation of the law, I would say that you cannot create a life-estate any more.

Mr. BURKE. Mr. Speaker, coming to the second part of the question, I would like to ask the gentleman from Philadelphia, if he were asked to draw such a deed, what part of the book he would go to, and what part of the index he would refer to?

Mr. TUMELTY. Mr. Speaker, I do not think that there is anything in this bill which covers these questions, and I probably would consult a lawyer if it got too deep for me.

Mr. BURKE. Mr. Speaker, do I understand that the gentleman from Philadelphia admits that he knows nothing about the answer to question No. 1?

Mr. TUMELTY. Mr. Speaker, I will admit that I am not fully familiar with it, but I can become fully familiar with it.

Mr. BURKE. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the gentleman from Philadelphia, can he become familiar with it by consulting a book?

Mr. TUMELTY. Mr. Speaker, I presume I can.

Mr. BURKE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Philadelphia what part of the book he would look in to find the answer to that question?

Mr. TUMELTY. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Philadelphia whether this is a trial of me or is it a trial of the bill?

The SPEAKER. The Chair is unable to decide what it is.

Mr. BURKE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to further interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Tumelty.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Tumelty, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. TUMELTY. Mr. Speaker, I will try to answer anything pertaining to the bill but nothing pertaining to my personal habits.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia will confine his remarks to the bill?

Mr. BURKE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Philadelphia, a question that pertains to the conveyancing of real estate, and I would like to ask the gentleman from Philadelphia if he knows that I am confining my remarks to the bill in a question that concerns a conveyance of real estate?

Mr. TUMELTY. Mr. Speaker, I believe he is, if he refers to the conveyance of real estate, but if he refers to my knowledge of conveyancing of real estate and tries to compare it with a lot of other brainy conveyancors, I think it is unfair to the other brainy conveyancors.

Mr. BURKE. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Tumelty, refer to the second question which I gave him? I take it for granted that the gentleman has assimilated the question.

Mr. TUMELTY. Mr. Speaker, in looking over the question, I do not think it pertains to the bill. It pertains to my personal abilities.

Mr. BURKE. Mr. Speaker, I did not hear the gentleman.

Mr. BURKE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Philadelphia if the question does not pertain to the conveyancing of real estate?

Mr. TUMELTY. Mr. Speaker, I will say that it does, but he asks me how I would do it and that is my personal ability.

Mr. BURKE. Mr. Speaker, doesn't the gentleman believe that House Bill 1737 raises the question as to the capacity of a real estate agent to draw a deed, or involve the capacity of a real estate agent to draw a deed?

Mr. TUMELTY. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the question I will say that it does not raise the question, as under certain provisions of the act, where the real estate broker makes a sale according to this, he does have the capacity to draw it, and where he does not make the sale he does not have the capacity to draw it.

Mr. BURKE. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman if he will not admit that the bill before the House concerns the authority of real estate men to draw a deed, and as such it must necessarily include every possible kind of deed which could be drawn that would pass an interest in real estate?

Mr. TUMELTY. Mr. Speaker, I would say that it should concern every possible kind of deed drawn pertaining to real property and having nothing to do with personal property. But I still say that the bill permits a real estate broker in one place to draw papers, where he has actually made the sale, and in another provision of the bill he cannot draw papers if he did not make the sale.

Mr. BURKE. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman answer my question, if the bill concerns the authority of a real estate agent to draw a deed, that the bill therefore concerns the authority of a real estate agent to draw any kind of a deed pertaining to real property.

Mr. TUMELTY. Yes sir, Mr. Speaker, it covers that.

Mr. BURKE. Mr. Speaker, does not the gentleman think that if he upholds the capacity or ability of a real estate agent to draw a conveyance of a piece of real estate, that he should also be able to substantiate the real estate man's position insofar as any deed is considered transferring real property?

Mr. TUMELTY. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman, I might say that I am not qualified as a lawyer, I am not holding myself out as authority for real estate brokers or conveyancors. I do not claim to be the best real estate broker and conveyancor in the state of Pennsylvania, and there is a possibility that there are some things that I am not quite familiar with but which I can familiarize myself with if necessary.

Mr. BURKE. Mr. Speaker, I will ask the gentleman if he did not admit to me in answer to a question which I propounded that he did not know in what part of the book to look to find the answer to one of those questions.

Mr. TUMELTY. Mr. Speaker, I say again that that is a question with reference to my personal ability and has nothing to do with reference to the bill.

Mr. BURKE. Mr. Speaker, does not the gentleman admit that there are certain types of conveyances which some real estate men may not be able to draw?

Mr. TUMELTY. Mr. Speaker, I will admit that there might be places where they will get stuck and will have to refer to their books the same as a lawyer.

Mr. BURKE. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman has answered my question by saying that he might have to refer to the books and he has stated on the floor of this House that he is unable to tell me what book he would refer to or what part of the index in his book he would refer to.

Mr. TUMELTY. Mr. Speaker, I still say that is a question with regard to my personal ability and not with regard to the bill.

Mr. BURKE. Mr, Speaker, does not the gentleman admit that there are conveyances or real estate transactions which involve the ability of a real estate broker?

Mr. TUMELTY. Mr. Speaker, I do.

Mr. MOUL. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, there is a very vital principle being covered over in this interrogation. The gentleman infers that a real estate man such as Mr. Tumelty or any other broker should be able to tell him on the floor of this House exactly where he could find answer to a certain question. I have been in consultation with many attorneys who went and referred to their law books and said in many cases, "If you come back in a day or two I will give you an answer to the question." I do not believe that it is fair to infer that any man in this House, whether he be an attorney or otherwise, should be able to tell exactly where he could find an answer to a particular question, which the interrogator himself has figured out and wrote down on a piece of paper. Gentlemen of the House, the gentleman is trying to cover up an issue here that is fundamental to a number of people in your district who are not real estate brokers.

I would like to interrogate the sponsor of the bill, Mr. Speaker.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Eberharter, the sponsor of the bill, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. EBERHARTER. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. MOUL. Mr. Speaker, under the provisions of this bill, is it not true that no one except an attorney has the right to draw any deeds, leases or other legal papers, chiefly deeds, unless he has an interest in the deed,—in the transaction?

Mr. EBERHARTER. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman, I would say that that is not quite true. Any person that is a member of the family of the person who is conveying or buying property, may draw the deed, or any person directly interested in it. In addition to that, a real estate broker, or a salesman or anybody that has a consideration involved can draw the deed,—can draw the necessary papers.

Mr. MOUL. Mr. Speaker, may I ask, would a justice of the peace, an alderman or a notary public have an interest in any case where he was approached by a friend, who asked them to draw up the necessary papers?

Mr. EBERHARTER. Mr. Speaker, I would say that a justice of the peace, an alderman or a notary public would have no interest unless he is receiving a commission on the sale or on the rent to be collected.

Mr. MOUL. Mr. Speaker, and members of the House, ever since the state of Pennsylvania has been in existence, we have recognized the fact that justices of the peace, aldermen and notaries have had the legal right to draw up deeds in certain cases. In other words, a transaction takes place,—a very simple transaction,—one man sells a property to another, the title is searched by an attorney, or the title may not be searched by an attorney, whichever the gentleman transferring the property may desire. Under the present method he goes to a justice of the peace, an alderman, or a notary public, and asks him to draw up a deed. I recognize the fact that the justice of the peace, the alderman or the notary public has the right to take an affidavit or acknowledgment to the deed transferring the property to the purchaser. That condition has existed ever since the state of Pennsylvania was in existence. If we pass this present bill in its present form, we are going to take that privilege away from all justices of the peace in the state, all aldermen and all notaries, and we are going to make a complete change in our present system of conveyancing. My experience in dealing with attorneys has been that in most cases the fees which have been charged for the conveyance have been far in excess of any that have been charged by a justice of the peace, an alderman or a notary.

Before we consider this bill and make it a law of the state by our votes, I think we should consider seriously whether or not it is advisable to make such a complete change in the state of Pennsylvania.

Mr. SHEPARD. Mr. Speaker, I rise in support of this bill, not because I have any brief for the lawyers or the real estate men, but in the interest of a large number of people who received mis-information and have often times suffered serious losses because they have gone around the corner some place and gotten some real estate man or some other person to draw a legal document. These men have given mis-information, sometimes causing serious loss.

This bill simply provides that a real estate man shall do the things that are provided for him to do, according to his professional training. When we want medicine, when we are sick, we go to a doctor. Simply because we have had courses in college in hygiene or physiology, it does not permit us to practice medicine. This bill defines who shall practice law and it prevents people other than lawyers from practicing law and I think it is fair to both groups, I think it is emminently fair to a large number of people who have suffered loss. I think that we ought to see to it that a lot of chiselers do not go around professing to do things that they are not qualified to do. Lawyers ought to give advice on legal matters. Real estate men have a right to conduct their business and to do anything that is legal in connection with the transaction. That is far enough for them to go. If we want health in our bodies, we go to a doctor; if we want to know anything about heaven or hell, we go to a preacher.

I think that this is a fair bill and I ask you to support the measure.

Mr. PFAFF. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I arise to oppose this bill, because I believe if it is enacted into law, under its provisions it will work an undue burden, an additional burden, on the already overburdened building and loan associations in the city of Philadelphia. I do believe that quite a lot of building and loan associations down our way are hanging on the ropes and they could not stand any additional operating costs. I am sincere in my belief that this bill is enacted into law, it will not only cost the building and loan associations more in their operating expense, but I think in real estate transactions, it will also be more expensive to the individual.

Mr. RUTH. Mr. Speaker, I am not a real estate man nor am I a lawyer but this bill was drawn up by the Attorney General and I ask the members of the House to support it.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, in reply to the gentleman from Philadelphia, I would call your attention to the fact that the courts are full of cases brought by lawyers, trying cases due to mistakes made by other lawyers.

Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Burke.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Burke, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. BURKE. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the gentleman from Philadelphia if he ever knew a lawyer who was not competent to search a complicated title?

Mr. BURKE. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman I would say that I imagine there are many lawyers, I will not confine my answer to one, but will say that there are probably many lawyers who, because they have not specialized in this highly specialized field, may not be as able as other lawyers who have specialized in it to search those complicated titles.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman. The gentleman admits that every member of this House knows, that there are many lawyers who are not competent to give advice to laymen, who specialize in some particular branch of the law. This bill presumes that the laymen, having an interest, is not competent to know when he needs a lawyer and I submit to you that it is neither reason nor common sense to have the lawyers in this Legislature pass a law telling us when we need a lawyer.

Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Pittsburgh, Mr. Eberharter.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Pittsburgh permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. EBERHARTER. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the gentleman from Pittsburgh, whether under the terms of this bill it is ever proper for an alderman to draw a will under any circumstances?

Mr. EBERHARTER. Mr. Speaker, I would say in answer to the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews, that the bill as drawn does prohibit the drawing of wills by any alderman.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I thank the gentleman for the answer.

The patient is in extremis; he is dying; there is nobody there but a layman and a doctor, and we have to delay the death so that the man can make a will, and I say that is placing entirely too much responsibility upon the poor doctors. It cannot be done.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, may I ask, does the gentleman intend to interrogate me or cross-examine me?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman has no preconceived notion of whether this will be an interrogation or a cross-examination. A great deal will depend upon the answers of the gentleman from Cambria.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I will not be cross-examined.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman refuses to be cross-examined, and unless the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Turner, definitely states that he does not wish to cross-examine the gentleman from Cambria, he will be out of order.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I am quite amazed at the answer of the gentleman from Cambria knowing his adroitness, that he should be unwilling to be cross-examined at any time, but as long as he does not desire to be cross-examined, I will interrogate the gentleman from Cambria.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I will entertain the interrogation, and reserve decision as to the answer.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews, whether he has ever heard of libel suits against a newspaper being in the courts?

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I have heard of libel suits being in the courts and whenever I found a libel suit I have generally found a misguided layman led astray by a fee seeking lawyer.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, and members of the House, the answer which the gentleman from Cambria gave was exactly in line with what I said previously about the adrotiness of the gentleman from Cambria. I can well understand, and I trust that I am not transgressing the rules in saying that under the occupation which the gentleman from Cambria usually pursues, both in and out of the sessions of the legislature the gentleman from Cambria would look upon all libel suits in the same way as he has expressed it. But, members of the House, I have heard of verdicts by juries against newspapers in libel suits, so not only the lawyer and the client may have been misguided, but the twelve men and women of the jury must likewise have been misguided.

I asked this question for this reason: The gentleman from Cambria has said that the courts are filled with law suits that are occasioned by mistakes made by lawyers. Of course, that is incorrect and is not a statement of fact. The courts are filled with lawsuits which arise by reason of the difference of opinion by lawyers as to what is the interpretation of the law while as we all know, especially those who have practiced it, the last guess is that of the Supreme Court of the State and of the United States. So it is very difficult to determine just what the law may be. But if the courts are full of cases which arise by reason of the mistakes of lawyers, there are also many cases that arise by reason of the mistakes of newspaper men in the writing articles which they believe to be news, but which turn out to be pure libels and are so treated in the courts and by the juries.

The gentleman from Cambria has further illustrated, it seems to me, the need for this very piece of legislation, because if we admit for the sake of argument, that the fact is true that there are many cases in the courts arising by reason of the mistakes of lawyers, those mistakes having arisen out of the judgments of men, or the misjudgment of men, who have had years of experience and years full of training, certainly there is every reason to preclude men from entering into the writing of wills and into the writing of deeds and other forms of conveyance, which are referred to and controlled under this act, who have not had the opportunity for training.

The bar has spent many years in building up the standards of the bar. A man now to be admitted to the bar must complete a four years' college course, and must spend three years in an accredited law school. He must take an examination at the end of that time for admission to the bar. He must spend an apprenticeship in a law office as a registered student at law before he is admitted to practice.

Therefore, it seems to me that the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Shepard, hit the nail right on the head in his speech because why should we permit a man who can go and within a very few months time study up enough to become a licensed real estate broker, or why should we permit the man who is elected in a district as a magistrate or alderman do these things. Certainly people do not elect him to write deeds and wills; they elect him to try certain actions that are given to him and are under his jurisdiction under the laws of this Commonwealth. Why should we permit these men without that preliminary training to do these things? Certainly if the lawyers after their four years in college, three years in the law school and training in a law office make mistakes certainly those mistakes are multiplied many hundreds of times by the men who have not the training and not the experience.

I think some one referred to the lawyers looking up the law. Well the practice of law is both in knowing where to find it, and after you find it knowing what the law is when you have read it. Now if a man neither knows where he can find it, nor has had the training to determine what the law is on a certain subject after he has read it, how can he advise people, and how can he properly do it.

I want to say to you that in my twenty-five years of experience at the bar I have had a great deal to do with real estate, I have had a great deal to do with conveyancing, and I know that in my experience there came into my office hundreds and hundreds of mistakes that have been made by real estate men, who have attempted to draw up the papers involved in a real estate transaction. Those are mistakes for which the people must suffer.

Last night this House voted down a bill that provided that optometrists could not use drugs in cerain cases. That was the interpretation that the medical profession put upon it. The medical profession said they were in favor of the optometrists doing certain things, but they were opposed to their using drugs because they didn't believe they were sufficiently experienced to use them.

I say to you that the same thing is true in this bill. It is a technical subject. You are dealing with a subject that we all know a man who has had years of experience and training is likely to make mistakes in the doing of these different things that come before him. So there is every reason why it should be restricted as far as it is possible to restrict it, as has been done in this act.

Mr. REISING. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I have heard the discussions pro and con on this subject between those interested from the legal standpoint and from the business standpoint. I rise at this time to interrogate the sponsor of the measure as to what effect it might have on a possible client in the field in which I may possibly be some time.

The SPEAKER. Will the sponsor of the bill, the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Eberharter, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. EBERHARTER. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. REISING. Mr. Speaker, can the gentleman tell us just how much the increased costs of transferring property under the new arrangement or under the provisions of this bill—how much the cost is increased over what it is at the present time.

Mr. EBERHARTER. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman from Beaver, Mr. Reising, I do not think that it will cause any increase whatsoever in the cost of the transfer of property. I think as a matter of fact in the long run there will be a saving of thousands of dollars to the people of Pennsylvania in the aggregate. There should be no fear whatsoever that there will be an increased cost in the transfer of property by reason of any of the provisions of this bill.

Mr. REISING. Mr. Speaker, is it not a fact that the commission or the fees charged by the legal profession are higher than that of the real estate broker, the justice of peace, or the notary and so forth?

Mr. EBERHARTER. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman, I do not believe that is true as a matter of fact, as a general rule, I believe that it is a recognized fact that some lawyers charge a good deal more than other lawyers. The same thing is true of justices of the peace and real estate men. A client or person having a real estate deal can very easily pick out the kind of service he wants. If he wants high priced service, he can pick out that kind of a person to do his work. If he wants low priced service, that is up to him.

Mr. REISING. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman seems to be quite well versed on this bill, and I would like to ask him if he can tell us about how much additional money it will mean to the legal profession than what they are now receiving in handling matters of this kind.

Mr. EBERHARTER. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman from Beaver, I will say this, that in the aggregate it will mean less money to the legal profession because there will be thousands of cases in the State of Pennsylvania that will never reach court, which reach court under the present conditions, or under conditions as they were in the past. This measure is for the public protection for that very reason.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, It seems to me that the discussion on this bill has gone far afield. At the present time the present law is that a notary cannot practice law. A notary public in Philadelphia did set herself up in the business of writing deeds, and that case was taken to court, and the Supreme Court of Pennsylvania ruled that notary publics could not do it, and a perpetual injunction was issued.

All of the discussion I have heard thus far has been, "Can the real estate man do this," and "can the real estate broker do that?" Many of the things that have been contended for as rightfully belonging to the real estate man do not under the law today belong to him. Lawyers can go to court and can enjoin such a real estate broker from doing those things.

The object of this law is briefly this: under Pennsylvania law those who practice law, and who violate the law that prohibits them from practicing, there is no penalty for that. The only remedy today is an injunction. This bill seeks to cure the evil by imposing a penalty against those who unlawfully practice law. Now, how did this bill come about? Years ago many physicians were practicing in this commonwealth who were not capable physicians. A board was established to examine them and then there was a provision put in the medical code, imposing a penalty on those who practiced medicine without passing the examination. Today nobody dare practice medicine without fulfilling the necessary requirements, but there is in Pennsylvania no penalty imposed when they practice law without those requirements, and in all of the items enumerated in this bill today any man can be restrained from doing so by an injunction. The only remedy which apparently the Attorney General of this Commonwealth is seeking to bring about, is to penalize the little, smart guy that hangs around the corner or in some neighborhood barber shop, and tries to practice law under the guise of being connected or associated with some lawyer. The real object is to prevent lawyers from having understudies of that kind. The real object is to cut out this runner business, cut out this fixing business, put that kind of practitioner out of business. Now the lawyers for themselves welcome this bill in order to clear up all of the mess that has gone heretofore, and this House is asked to aid the bar and the courts to clean up all of the stuff that has existed heretofore. At the present time the only remedy is an injunction. If you permit this bill to pass then judges will have some control over these matters. Now, just think for a moment. Suppose you go to a man with your confidential affairs and you ask him to prepare a deed or prepare a will or prepare some other paper and you confide to him your secret. You are not protected under the law. Those statements can be divulged by that man. That man can be forced to testify. You should have the benefit and the public should have the benefit of having these secrets confided to an active practitioner of the bar admitted to practice so that you will have this protection. The system that exists today leaves the public, leaves the layman open wide, so that his secrets can be divulged anywhere. I ask the members of the House whether this is reasonable. If it is proper for the doctors to have a penalty in their law, it is proper for the lawyers to have a penalty in their law. It is proper to give this remedy and this penalty to the courts so that the courts may clean up the terrible condition that exists today.

I ask you to vote for this bill.

POINT OF INFORMATION

Mr. SCHWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of information.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia will state his point of information.

Mr. SCHWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask whether under Rule 72 a lawyer and a real estate man can vote for this bill or vote against it.

The SPEAKER. The Chair will read Rule 72 for the information of the House:

"A member who has a personal or private interest in any measure or bill proposed or pending before the House shall disclose the fact to the House and shall not vote thereon, as required by the Constitution, Article III, Section 33."

Mr. SCHWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, I thank you very kindly for the information.

The SPEAKER. The Chair is afraid that if this rule is enforced, there will not be a quorum present in the House.

Mr. RUTH. Mr. Speaker, I move the previous question.

The motion was seconded by Messrs. Simon, VanSickle, Stone, Carson, Moomaw, Haberlen, Westrick, Finnerty, Ominsky, Ruffennach, McHenry, Sarraf, Holstrom, Brumbaugh, Murrin, Klingler, Hetrick, Decker, Shaw, Shugarts, George E. Downey, and others.

On the question,
Shall the main question be now put?
It was agreed to.
On the question recurring,
Shall the bill pass finally?

QUESTION OF PARLIMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. TUMELTY. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of parlimentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his question of parlimentary inquiry.

Mr. TUMELTY. Mr. Speaker, was the ruling of the Chair that the attorneys and real estate men be permitted to vote on this bill under House Rule No. 72?

The SPEAKER. Every member is privileged to vote on this bill.

Mr. TUMELTY. Mr. Speaker, I am not a real estate broker at this time.

On the question recurring,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

The SPEAKER. The reasons will be filed with the Clerk.

Mr. SPROUL. Mr. Speaker, my reason for voting "no"———

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman will state his point of order.

Mr. WOODSIDE. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman is not allowed to state and give his reasons at this time.

The SPEAKER. There is nothing in order but the calling of the roll. The Chair has stated that the reasons shall be filled with the Clerk, and the gentleman from Delaware will send his reasons to the desk.

(After the calling of the roll)

REASONS FOR VOTE

Mr. SPROUL. Mr. Speaker, I voted "no" on this bill and desire to file my reason.

Mr. Speaker, the bill does not allow the writing of a will by a trust officer or witness in an emergency so that the property of a sick or dying person may be disposed of according to his own ideas or desires. The amount involved may be a large sum of money and no interference in its disposal should be made by limitation of law on a person's own free will.

BILLS ON THIRD READING

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1634, entitled:

An Act to amend section two thousand five hundred and sixty-eight of the act approved the twenty-third day of June, one thousand nine hundred and thirty-one (P. L. 932), entitled "An act relating to cities of the third class; and amending, revising, and consolidating the law relating thereto," providing the city treasurer as collector of city, school and poor taxes shall proceed against the personal property before filing liens for such taxes, when instructed so to do by the taxing authorities, but otherwise at his own discretion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. MENTZER. Mr. Speaker, I would like the sponsor of this bill, Mr. Eroe, to explain the provisions of the bill, briefly.

Mr. EROE. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, this bill is trying to eliminate the necessity of a tax collector in third class cities from making a statement that is generally false, inasmuch as under the present law he must say that after proper efforts he could not find sufficient personal property out of which the said taxes or any part thereof could be met or collected, as provided by aw. In other words, he has to make a statement that here was not enough personal property there, or else proceed against the personal property. They generally make a statement that there was not enough personal roperty there. The act provides under this amendment hat he can make an affidavit, "that although he found uch personal property, he did not consider it advisable o proceed against the same, and that he had not been nstructed so to do by the taxing authorities. The inten-ion of this amendment being that the said treasurer may t his discretion proceed against such personal property, ut if instructed so to do by the taxing authorities such ction shall be mandatory." In other words, if he does ot deem it advisable, he so states. That is excepted. ut if the taxing authority orders him to proceed against at personal property, then he must proceed.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the eas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

The PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE (Mr. John G. Homsher) in the Chair

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. William E. Howard, D. D., offered the following prayer:

Save us, O Lord, from the sin of undue self-esteem. We realize that we must place a proper estimate upon our own persons and powers, else we would achieve naught in life. May we grant our fellow men the same privilege. May we not forget that only one perfect man has ever lived and that He was God as well as man. And how humble and unassuming He was!

Whatever our belief concerning Him may be, we must admire His perfection of character, His superior intellectual power and the lasting impression He has made upon the race. Yet He set for Himself the task of going about to do good, bearing the burdens of others and making the world brighter and better.

Give Thy councel unto the members of this Senate, O God, so they may be, like the Man of Galilee, a source of blessing and hope unto the multitudes who look to them for helpful legislation

We ask it in His name. Amen.

Whereas, There is not sufficient money in the General Fund to provide for the Commonwealth's contribution for the balance of the month of April and May, 1935; and

Whereas, It is of paramount importance that the poor and needy of Pennsylvania shall not be permitted to go hungry or starve; and

Whereas, There was introduced in the House of Representatives on the 8th day of April, 1935, by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Blumberg, bills designed to permit the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to accomplish the above by borrowing the sum of seven million five hundred thousand ($7,500,000) dollars for the use of the General Fund by transfer to the General Fund from the Liquid Fuels' Tax Fund, the Liquor License Fund, the Veterans' Compensation Fund, the State Store Fund, and the Motor License Fund, the said sum of seven million five hundred thousand ($7,500,000) dollars for the purpose of meeting the requirements of the Federal Administrator for unemployment relief; now therefore be it Resolved, (if the House of Representatives concur), That the General Assembly hereby authorizes the Governor and the fiscal officers of the Commonwealth to transfer to the General Fund from the Liquid Fuels' Tax Fund the Liquor License Fund, the Veterans' Compensation Fund, the State Store Fund, and the Motor License Fund, for deposit in the General Fund, the sum of seven million five hundred thousand ($7,500,000) dollars, and the General Assembly hereby pledges that it will pass appropriate legislation validating the action of the Governor and the fiscal officers in making such transfers and providing such moneys if the legislation enacted for the purpose of making said transfers and providing said moneys shall provide for the repayment of such moneys to the said funds from which the same was taken on or before December 31, 1935.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the Resolution?

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, I feel that this is a cowardly thing to do. The last Special Session of this Legislature did nothing but transfer funds. This is not raising funds; it is merely escaping taxation. These funds will have to be paid back, and I feel that if we were in a state of war here today, my good friends on the other side would forget politics; that we would all forget politics, and raise some revenues to meet the situation.

I feel, Mr. President, that we are in a worse condition today than if we were in a state of war; I know the people in my district are suffering more than they ever suffered under any war; and here we have been in this Senate, of the State of Pennsylvania, for three months fiddling our time away. Our people are patient—I know people back home that are losing their homes; the people who have saved all their lives, saved for a rainy day, saved for old age, and something, somehow, has happened, something has come along and has swept their wealth right from under their feet. People are walking the streets starving, and I see misery, want and woe written on every face; and yet in this Senate, of the State of Pennsylvania, are playing politics.

Now, I know the gentlemen on the other side—I know some very fine men, almost all of them are very fine men, and it is natural to play politics—we all play it more or less; but, as I said before, if we were in a state of war I am sure that this week we would put through in this Senate revenue bills that would meet the situation.

Now, what does this resolution propose? It proposes taking money from the Liquid Fuels Fund, the Motor License Fund, the Soldiers Bonus Fund, the Liquor Control Fund. Now, those are taxes that have been paid by the masses of this State. They have done their duty during the past five years of misery and depression and woe and suffering; they have gone without luxuries and they have paid into these funds hard-earned dollars; and during these five years I have observed the Utilities of Pennsylvania drawing down dividends the same as they drew down in the midst of prosperous years of this country, and there has been not a move during these five years to reach out and tap the sources of wealth in Pennsylvania.

Our Governor said the other day, that there were $6,000,000,000 of taxable property, taxable wealth, in Pennsylvania escaping taxation. Now, it does seem to me, after five years of this awful depression, of this suffering, of these failures and suicides, that this Senate would relieve the masses of Pennsylvania, would reach out and tap some of the wealth of this State in this terrible situation. I believe that in every district in Pennsylvania, every Senatorial district, the conditions are the same as in mine; I believe the people are suffering in every district as they have never suffered before; and I feel that we should forget our party politics here. I have heard nothing offered from the other side, except from one member, I believe, and he took it upon himself to say that he did not represent his Party but represented himself only, and that is the only suggestion I have heard here for three months, to meet a most terrible situation.

I know that our hospitals need money; I know that many tuberculosis patients are suffering throughout this State, and cannot get into any hospital. The Emergency Relief needs this money, and the idea of shifting this money from funds where the masses of this State dug down in their pockets to fill those funds, and letting the Utilities and the manufacturers escape taxation, when they have drawn down dividends in the midst of depression same as they have drawn them down before—I say to you it is a crime to go on the way we are going and allow that thing to continue.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, in addition to the moral aspect of this situation, which my colleague, the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. McGinnis, has so eloquently discussed, there is a very practical fiscal aspect to such proposed transfer, which we are entirely neglecting.

This resolution proposes to take $2,000,000 from the Liquid Fuels Fund, in addition to the $3,766,000 taken at the 1934 Special Session; to take $1,000,000 from the Liquor License Fund, in addition to the $2,173,000 taken at the 1934 Special Session; and to take $2,000,000 from the Motor License Fund, in addition to the $5,140,000 taken in the 1934 Special Session. Somehow or other we are coming to the climax, in the State of Pennsylvania, of an inferiority complex on the part of our legislators with regard to the levying of taxation. We have seen for years, growing up in this State, an inadequacy of our tax measures. We see, for instance, in our Insane and in our Tubercular Institutions an absolutely inadequate condition; hundreds if not thousands of patients have for years been on the waiting lists of those institutions; and we have not offered—our legislators have not offered to levy taxes, in order to bring those institutions up to the standard that should be in the State of Pennsylvania, and provide accommodations for the needy that should be in those institutions. We know, down to our Special Session of last September, we saw that same practice coming more to the fore, when we transferred the enormous amount of funds that were transferred last September, and made, in that session, no provision to repay those funds; and no provision was ever presented in these legislative halls to provide for repayment to those funds until the Governor's Budget message came into the halls ot fhis Legislature this year.

Now we propose a further raid upon these especial funds; and, mind you, these funds we are proposing to deplete today are in the nature of trust funds. The Highway Fund is regarded as a trust fund for the building of highways; the Veterans Compensation Fund—spoken of so eloquently by Senator Reed on Monday—was voted by the people of Pennsylvania as a fund for the purpose of paying the Soldiers' Bonus, and now we are attempting to raid that fund. Furthermore, let us consider this Veterans Fund a little bit. We all know that if we vote to transfer money from this fund it will be absolutely illegal and unconstitutional, and for the following reasons: First, the money contained in the Veterans Compensation Fund was derived from the sale of bonds authorized at a referendum, I believe, two years ago—for the specific purpose of paying the Soldiers' Bonus. The Veterans Fund now has $5,637,000 in it. $2,450,000 of that total is presently due—due now for the payment of interest and Sinking Fund requirements on the $50,000,000 bond issue that was made to procure this fund.

If $2,500,000 is transferred out of the Veterans' Compensation Fund, there will not be enough money left to take care of the applications for the bonus which are now on hand, and many of which have already been approved but checks not yet drawn.

With regards to the $2,000,000 which it is proposed to transfer from the Liquid Fuels Tax Fund, the actual balance on hand today is $2,019,562. Such a transfer would absolutely strip that fund.

The same holds true of the $1,000,000 which it is proposed to take from the Liquor License Fund, which now has on hand $1,174,000.

This fact must be remembered—that if $2,000,000 is taken from the Liquid Fuels Tax Fund, and $1,000,000 from the Liquor License Fund, making a total of $3,000,000, that money would be taken away from thousands of communities, small and large, in the State to which under the terms of our jurisprudence this money belongs—by reason of our lack of courage to face a taxing situation which calls for taxation and not interminable transfer of funds, when God knows where, after seven weeks from today, these funds are going to come from.

Coming on top of the $5,900,000 transferred from these funds at the 1934 Special Session, we would have approximately $9,000,000 taken away from cities, towns and boroughs which, in making up their budgets for this year, treated these funds as collectible from the State and budgeted them accordingly.

Mr. President, I say this is the unsoundest and unwisest kind of fiscal maneuver, to try to capture these funds at this time for purposes for which they were never intended, while we still sit here and fiddle about things which we have to do and are afraid to tackle, namely, the levying of taxation. We know we have got to do it. We know the end of this biennium is only seven weeks away; and, if we have no taxation provided for, what are we going to do in seven weeks or two months from now? What will we do in seven weeks from now, when we start to work on our budget, or the budget which we are supposed to have filed by that time for the biennium which starts in June of 1935?

Certainly, there is no one in this Senate more in favor of levying taxes for relief purposes, to relieve taxation on real estate, than I am. No one is more anxious to see that money procured. But I say to you, Mr. President, and gentlemen of the Senate, this is a cowardly way to get out of this situation. This is a matter in which we are deliberately shirking the duties of our office, which we pledged ourselves to carry out when we entered this Senate; and I appeal to you, Mr. President and members of the State Senate, to screw up your courage and get down to this business of taxation, which we all seem so reluctant to look squarely in the face, to let the people of this State of Pennsylvania know they have a Legislature in session, to let them know they have a group of men who are finally willing to perform their constitutional duties, and not shirk the duties which the people of this State have imposed upon them.

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, it seems to me that we are all wrong in regard to this transfer proposition—as to the purpose. I would like to know what the purpose of this transfer is. If it is to meet the issue which has been put up to the Governor of Pennsylvania by the head of the Relief organization at Washington, it is absolutely meaningless, because what was asked for was a revenue system which will show where the money is coming from during the next biennium, not where we are going to get immediate money for the next six weeks.

We are proposing to transfer money out of the various funds—that is a habit we have in Pennsylvania, of transferring money from funds, whether rightly or wrongly, and I believe there have been transfers in the past that were absolutely in defiance of the moral law. When you take funds which have been set aside, for use of the municipalities of the State of Pennsylvania through liquor licenses or highway funds, and that have been budgeted by those municipalities on the promise of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania that they would receive those funds, you are not keeping faith. Those municipalities have, very properly, reduced their real estate assessments, or reduced their millage rate, because of this promised money. Now we are going back, at the very time when we are trying to relieve real estate from excessive taxation, and we are saying to these municipalities, "you have got to put more taxes on real estate, in order to raise this money which we are taking away from you."

On the question of the money taken from the Soldiers' Bonus Fund I am satisfied that we have not the power to authorize the Governor or anybody else to transfer this money. This is set aside by a bond issue for a specific purpose, and if this transfer were to go through the Veterans Organizations throughout the State of Pennsylvania would take you into court on the legal question of whether you have the right to make the transfer or not.

There has been too much, in the last two years, in Pennsylvania, of the attitude of meeting these problems by just simply forgetting everything and saying, "What is the Constitution among friends?" We have asked for Constitutional Revision because we feel it is needed, but we are not willing to scrap the Constitution now and say we will defy the Constitution and transfer the money anyway. Money has been transferred and raised in the past without compliance with the ordinary method of amendment to the Constitution of Pennsylvania; but we are not going, here in the Legislature, to agree to transfer these funds now in defiance of the State Constitution. We have been asked to propose and give to the people of Pennsylvania a revenue system which will raise the money to meet the problems of the next biennium; instead we are simply offering a transfer of some funds.

Gentlemen of the right, are you going to take the position that when these people ask for bread you will give them a stone? That is what you are doing today, with this legislation; and I am unalterably opposed to such a transfer. I want to see the problem met fairly and squarely. If we are afraid of a tax because we fear it is going to cut off sources of private revenue, rather than publice rvenue, let us come out and say so.

Last fall, in the Special Session, the Legislature refused to act to raise new revenue. On the eve of an election they dared not increase taxation on the small man. At the same time there was an apparent fear of increasing taxation on the special and privileged interests, for fear it would cut off contributions and special favors, and injure personal friends. Let us get away from that; let us get down to a point where we will look after the interests of all the people in Pennsylvania indiscriminately, and work for the people. Get a taxing program that will be effective, and that will provide for the needs of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania for the next biennium. Forget these transfers and work on our real need for a taxing program.

Mr. STAUDENMEIER. Mr. President, I am exceedingly sorry to be here this morning to hear all of these talks about being cowardly. From what I know of the personnel of this Senate, I sincerely doubt whether that term can be fittingly and appropirately applied to the men who go to make up this Senate, and I depreciate in no uncertain way the statement that we are now "engaged in war". I heard that call years ago, and I sincerely hope that neither I, nor those belonging to me, or any of you, or those belonging to you will hear this talk of war as we know that term. This is no time to talk about cowardice—this is no time to talk about war—what we are talking about here this morning is a resolution to do what—to do nothing more than what we did in this very Session, a transfer of funds for hospitalization, a transfer of funds for old age assistance, an action which was concurred in whole-heartedly and unanimously by my colleagues on the left. If this is so wrong today, what has happened in the interim to make that which was right several weeks ago wrong today? And have we not lost sight of one fact? These transfers are not to be made with the thought in mind that the money will never again go back to those funds; that is not the thought. The thing that makes this resolution so necessary and so vital this morning is the statement of the Federal Relief Administrator that on and after April 15th the State of Pennsylvania will be compelled—to do what—to have $5,000,000. in money to go towards the relief burden in the State of Pennsylvania.

I am not unmindful of the fact as I stand here today, that my own county of Schuylkill has the greatest relief burden of any county in the State of Pennsylvania, according to the last figures that were released, and I have not turned from white to black and black to white. Not yet. I am not traitorous to the people back home, just as I am not traitorous to the people in general in this Commonwealth, but if that statement of the Federal Relief Administrator, that on April 15th Pennsylvania must have $5,000,000. to match the Federal fund, then I say, here is an appropriate method of doing so. I say in all sincerity that just like my friends on the left, so my Republican friends on the right, I believe each and every man in this Senate is doing his best to work out a tax situation that will meet the needs of those who are entitled to relief in this Commonwealth.

I do not like these charges of insincerity. I think they come with poor grace, and perhaps on the spur of the moment we are inclined to forget our better sense and use expressions here which in our own hearts we do not mean, because after all, just as sure as I am standing here today, this problem is going to be worked out, it is going to be solved. There are going to be taxes, there is no doubt about that, but to take care of this present emergency, by this date of April 15th, certainly, my fellow Senators, there is no harm in passing this resolution. Just as at a caucus here a short time ago, we realize that this transfer from the Soldiers' Bonus fund would in all likelihood be declared illegal, and you might say 'ab initio,' from the time of its inception, if it be wrong. We discussed that and we said, "let this resolution be passed here with the understanding that over in the House an amendment will be offered to strike out the figures $7,500,000. and make it $5,000,000; that takes care of the transfer from the Soldiers' Bonus fund.

That resolution was amended as passed by the House. It only need come back here next Monday evening, and I am sure that this Senate will concur in the amendment, and then were it to go down to Washington that "here we have the $5,000,000, the money is here for you, we are not shirking our duty as Pennsylvanians, that is not our thought, but before we, as Pennsylvanians, pass a tax program, we want to be sure and be satisfied in our consciences that the taxes that are levied and about to be collected from ciizens of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, are the taxes which, in the best judgment, the best minds of the administration, of the House and of the Senate, are the bills that were passed by the present Session of the Pennsylvania Legislature. That is the only thought we have in mind.

I am sure there is not a man in this Senate who would be so devoid of common decency as to harbor in his breast the thought that we could avoid taxing somebody in this Session in order to take care of those who are in need. No, it is going to be a long day until I will charge a fellow Senator with harboring thoughts of that kind. All we ask here is, pass this resolution, have it amended as I have outlined, in the House, and I am sure that in the course of the next few weeks my friends over on the left will have no cause to complain, and in an irrational moment charge a fellow Senator with being cowardly and will no longer, I sincerely hope, in his zeal, raise this awful spectre of war. There never was a need for raising a spctre of that type—never. Let us be true to ourselves. Let us not be stampeded into doing something which perhaps you and I may sincerely regret after we close this Session. Let us go home when these taxes are levied, with the thought in mind that we have done the best that we possibly could according to the dictates of our consciences.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I call for the previous question.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I second it.

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, I second it.

Mr. ZIESENHEIM. Mr. President, I second it.

Mr. NORTON. Mr. President, I second it.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I second it.

The PRESIDENT. The previous question has been called for.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I desire to rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, is out of order, the previous question has been called for.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I withdraw the call for the previous question.

Mr. OWLETT. Mr. President, I withdraw my second.

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, I withdraw my second.

Mr. ZIESENHEIM. Mr. President, I withdraw my second.

Mr. NORTON. Mr. President, I withdraw my second.

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I withdraw my second.

The PRESIDENT. The previous question has been withdrawn.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, due to the incident that has just transpired, I wish to read on my point of order from Jefferson's Manual, and I do that because Rule 34 of this Senate reads as follows:

"The rules of parliamentary practice comprised in Jefferson's Manual shall govern the Senate in all cases in which they are applicable, and in which they are not inconsistent with the standing rules and orders of the Senate, and the joint rules of the Senate and House of Representatives".

I want to state at this moment that I was on my feet on a point of order before the Senator from Bucks Mr. Buckman called for the previous question.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Harris, will state his point of order.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, there is no objection to the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, speaking. The objection has been withdrawn, and therefore this question is not before the House.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair rules that the point of order is well taken.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, I now read from Jefferson's Manual—

The PRESIDENT. The point of order raised by the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Harris, is well taken, and the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, will confine himself to the question.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, my point of order is this: Rule 39 reads—

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Delaware, Mr. McClure will state his point of order.

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, the resolution is debatable and not the point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, will confine himself to the resolution.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, my point of order is on the resolution. Is that clear? If they will allow me to proceed, I will state my point of order.

Rule 39 of this Senate reads:

"The following resolutions after they have been twice read shall be referred to an appropriate committee—"

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I raise the same question and press my request, that the Senator from Fayette be refused permission to speak on this subject. It is not properly before this body.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Fayette will confine himself to remarks upon the resolution.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, and that is what I am doing.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair rules that the Senator from Fayette is not doing that when he is speaking on the point of order.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, my point of order is that the resolution is not before this Senate legally and logically, under the rules of this Senate, for consideration, and I wish to state my reasons.

The PRESIDENT. The point of order is not well taken. This resolution is properly before the Senate, and the Chair so rules. The Senator can only appeal from the decision of the Chair.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, that question has not been raised. I have arisen to a point of order to have a ruling that this resolution is not properly before this Senate at this time for consideration.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair has ruled that the resolution is properly before the Senate.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Monroe, Mr. Huffman, will state his point of order.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I submit that the Senator from Fayette should be allowed time to present his point of order, and that he has a right to do. Then he can consider it afterwards.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair informs the Senator from Monroe, Mr. Huffman, that the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, has read the Rule.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, am I in order or out of order?

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, the Senator from Fayette has raised the point of order that this resolution is out of order. I think, for one, that he should be allowed to give his reason for stating that it is out of order and then the President can rule on that.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, this resolution is out of order because Rule 39 of this Senate provides the following:

"The following resolutions after they have been twice read, shall be referred to an appropriate committee, without debate, (unless by unanimous consent the Senate shall otherwise direct), and is favorably reported by the committee, shall lie over one day for consideration, after which they may be called up, as, of course, under the appropriate order of business".

Mr. President, I contend that the resolution under consideration is a concurrent resolution and that the resolution has not been on the table a calendar day before consideration of it at this time.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I agree with the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, on the rule, and everything that he reads from the rule has been done.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair rules that the point of order by the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, is not well taken.

The PRESIDENT. The question is on the adoption of the resolution.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. CAVALCANTE and Mr. RICE and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—24

MOTION TO RECOMMIT RESOLUTION

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, I move the resolution that has just been considered, in spite of the vote, be recommitted. We are pledging this Senate to transfer money and to repay money into those funds by this resolution, and a constitutional majority of this Senate has not voted to do that. We are pledging ourselves to legislation, and a constitutional majority has not acted on this resolution.

Therefore, Mr. President, I move that the resolution be recommitted to the Committee and not forwarded to the House of Representatives.

Mr. RICE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, the resolution being a concurrent one has been passed by a majority of the Senators present in the Hall, and, therefore, the motion of the Senator from Centre, Mr. Thompson, is out of order, and the resolution should be messaged to the House in accordance with the instruction of the Senate.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair rules that the point of order of the Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman, is well taken. The motion of the Senator from Centre, Mr. Thompson, is out of order.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced presented communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, April 10, 1935.

To the Honorable, the Members of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

On March 25, 1935, the Federal Emergency Relief Administration served notice that it would halt further relief disbursements in Pennsylvania after April 15th unless this Commonwealth would enact tax legislation which would insure, when the revenues resulting from such tax legislation became available, that Pennsylvania would contribute $5,000,000 monthly as its fair share of the present approximate $20,000,000 monthly relief costs in this State.

In view of the approach of the April 15th deadline fixed by the Federal Emergency Relief Administration, I request that the General Assembly remain in session for the remainder of the present week for a sufficient number of Legislative days in which to pass adequate tax legislation which will assure the Federal Government that the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania intends in good faith to provide its fair share of the burden of unemployment relief.

HOUSE MESSAGE

RESOLUTION RELATIVE TO ADJOURNMENT

The Clerk of the House of Representatives being introduced, presented extract from the Journal of the House of Representatives, which was twice read as follows:

In the House of Representatives, April 10, 1935.

Whereas, an emergency exists in the fiscal affairs of the Commonwealth which threatens to prejudice the ability of the Commonwealth to obtain funds from the Federal Government for relief purposes and

Whereas, the General Assembly to this date has passed no taxing legislation and

Whereas, the fifteenth day of April has been fixed as the dead line for the furnishing of Federal funds unless appropriate action is taken by the Legislature demonstrating good faith inthis critical situation.

Now therefore be it resolved, by the House of Representatives (if the Senate concur) that the General Assembly remain in session during the present week for sufficient number of legislative days in which to pass adequate taxing legislation which will indicate to the Federal Government that the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania intends in good faith to provide its fair share of the burden of unemployment relief.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, I want to call your attention to the fact that this is a privileged resolution and should be acted upon immediately and not referred. Let me call attention to Rule 39:

"All Senate and House concurrent resolutions, excepting resolutions in reference to adjournment" * * * which shall be regarded as privileged."

This resolution, thereofre, is a privileged resolution, and I move you that the Senate concur in the resolution as adopted by the House.

Mr. RICE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Centre, Mr. Thompson.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Centre, Mr. Thompson, be interrogated?

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, I will.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, will the Senator from Centre, Mr. Thompson, state what we propose to do here if we stay the rest of this week?

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, I think that is beside the question.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I would ask the Senator from Centre, Mr. Thompson, to answer the question which is in my mind. I am willing to make a sacrifice of my time, and ask the forty-nine other Senators to do the same if there is something we can accomplish by the sacrifice.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I rise to a point of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Monroe, Mr. Huffman, will state his point of order.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, my point of order is that there is a resolution before the house, and the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, is out of order.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair rules that the point of order of the Senator from Monroe, Mr. Huffman, is not well taken; and that the resolution is before the house and is the subject of debate.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, does the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, renew his question?

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I renew my question.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, in answer to the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, I think there is no doubt about what may be done during the rest of the week if the unanimity of the forty-nine minds, of which he spoke, is expended along the line of reporting some tax bills out of committee and of acting favorably on them on the floor of this house.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, is it not true that there are no tax bills now on the calendar, and therefore even if the Senate were to sit here for the rest of the week nothing could be accomplished, as it takes three legislative days here, and three in the House of Representatives?

I would like the Senator from Centre, Mr. Thompson, to state what tax bills could be passed before Monday of next week; and how we can accomplish anything if nothing can be done to pass the bills.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, the personal property tax bill is in committee. It could be reported out today. It could be passed on first reading today, on second reading tomorrow, Thursday, and could be passed finally on Friday—as could some of these other tax bills which are now in committee.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, is the Senator from Centre, Mr. Thompson, aware of the fact that the personal property tax bill was recommitted to committee for the purpose of amendment, and nobody has sent in any amendment?

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, these amendments could be offered at any time. There are other tax bills—the chain store tax and others—that could be reported out today.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, is it not true that the personal property tax bill was recommitted for the purpose of allowing amendments to be submitted by my friends over on the other side, and that up to this time no amendments have been offered, and we have not seen any?

The PRESIDENT. The Chair wishes to state that while great latitude is desired in the exchange of thought and speech in the Senate, we will get along expeditiously if the Senators will address the Chair, in regular order.

Mr. SHAPIRO. Mr. President, I should like the Senator from Centre, Mr. Thompson, to state whether it is not a fact that so far as the calendar is concerned there are no bills—that no tax bill is on this calendar which can be passed this week, and that no bill that we have before us—there are not sufficient legislative days left this week for us to pass any legislation of the sort he speaks of.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, we have four legislative days in which to act during this present week; and I think the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro, has been in this body long enough to know that it takes only three legislative days in order to pass a bill.

Mr. HUFFMAN. Mr. President, I would like to answer the question propounded by the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Shapiro. There is one bill in the Finance Committee that would net the State about $40,000,000 if passed. It has been passed by the House, it has passed two readings in the Senate, and if reported today, can be passed today and become a law before night.

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, at a meeting of the Finance Committee yesterday, late in the afternoon, the Senator from—I forget the county—offered amendments to the six-mill personal property tax, as we know it. Those amendments are now being given consideration. I also want to state that it is not necessary for the whole Senate to stay here in order to give consideration to the bills that are in committee. The Finance Committee has been working continuously ever since these bills have come into the possession of the Senate. We have had a number of hearings and we are considering these bills all the time. Mr. President, I assure you that nothing will be lost, as the committee will continue its activities over the week-end if this Senate adjourns.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the resolution?

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. CAVALCANTE and Mr. BUCKMAN and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—19

ERRATA

Page 1709, column 1, strike out lines 33 to 42, inclusive, and insert in lieu thereof the following:

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, the Senator from Monroe, Mr. Huffman, asked that he be permitted to present amendments. It was voted down. Then I made a motion, and sincerely so, for the purpose of permitting him to do that very thing. I was amazed to find there was opposition from our Democratic colleagues to give them the right to do the very thing which they desired to do. I then decided that it would suit the purpose better to give those who desired to present amendments a better opportunity to do so in committee. I then withdrew my motion and it was followed by a motion to recommit this bill to give these gentlemen the privilege which they so much desired. I am again amazed to find out from my Democratic colleagues that they are going ot oppose this motion, a motion that would give them the very opportunity they desire, to amend this bill in committee.

I do not think Senator Roberts need have any fear that this bill will be kept in committee. This bill, I think, will come out. I think the Republican members of this body are most anxious and willing to have it on the floor so that they will be recorded, and I desire to say to my Democratic colleagues, if this bill is kept in committee for the purpose of preventing it from being voted on on the floor, I will join with them in a vote to discharge this committee, to give us all an opportunity to vote on this very measure.

Also, page 1655, column 1, at the end of line 51, add the following: "and the Senator from Monroe, Mr. Huffman,"

ADJOURNMENT

Mr. EALY. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now adjourn.

The motion was agreed to.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

EMERGENCY RELIEF

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, April 10, 1935.

To the Honorable, the Members of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

On March 25, 1935, the Federal Emergency Relief Administration served notive that it would halt further relief disbursements in Pennsylvania after April 15th unless this Commonwealth would enact tax legislation which would insure, when the revenues resulting from such tax legislation became available, that Pennsylvania would contribute $5,000,000 monthly as its fair share of the present approximate $20,000,000 monthly relief costs in this State.

In view of the approach of the April 15th deadline fixed by the Federal Emergency Relief Administration, I request that the General Assembly remain in session for the remainder of the present week for a sufficient number of Legislative days in which to pass adequate tax legislation which will assure the Federal Government that the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania intends in good faith to provide its fair share of the burden of unemployment relief.

GEORGE H. EARLE.

RESOLUTION

GENERAL ASSEMBLY TO REMAIN IN SESSION

Mr. RUTH. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to offer a resolution at this time.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give its unanimous consent to offer a resolution at this time? Are there objections?

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, may I ask, before the Chair announces whether there is objection or not, that the resolution be read for the information of the House?

The SPEAKER. The resolution will be read for the information of the House.

The resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

Whereas, an emergency exists in the fiscal affairs of the Commonwealth which threatens to prejudice the ability of the Commonwealth to obtain funds from the Federal Government for relief purposes and

Whereas, the General Assembly to this date has passed no taxing legislation and

Whereas, the fifteenth day of April has been fixed as the dead line for the furnishing of Federal funds unless appropriate action is taken by the Legislature demonstrating good faith in this critical situation.

Now, Therefore Be It Resolved, by the House of Representatives (if the Senate concur) that the General Assembly remain in session during the present week for sufficient number of legislative days in which to pass adequate taxing legislation which will indicate to the Federal Government that the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania intends in good faith to provide its fair share of the burden of unemployment relief.

The SPEAKER. The Chair hears no objections and consent is granted.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I will vote and ask my colleague to vote in favor of this resolution. However, I am frank to state that I believe it merely a by-play. The Republican members of this House realized the situation on Monday of this week, and we endeavored to propose for the consideration of this House certain measures introduced by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Blumberg, which, had they been acted upon by this House and given expeditious attention would have been enacted into law—would have been enacted into law on April 15.

The resolution which I introduced, and which this House would not even permit to be read, would also have provided ample funds for April 15, insofar as Washington was concerned. This resolution that you are introducing can accomplish nothing. What can you gain by this resolution? This House can do nothing more than it has done. I want to say to the members of this House that if you really meant to see to it that the deadline of Auril 15 did not stop employment relief, if you were serious about that, were honest about it and you wanted to make sure that the deadline of April 15 would not have stopped unemployment relief, then you would have followed the precedent set by the Governor of this Commonwealth in the transfer of special funds, and you would have transferred, both by resolution and by acting upon the bills, funds that are presently inactive, so that on April 15 the unemployed should not starve. The responsibility, if on April 15 unemployment relief ceases, rests upon the majority of this House, and the blocking of the resolution from immediate consideration rests upon the Democratic minority in the Senate. This resolution is not going to fool or hoodwink the people in anywise whatsoever. The people know one thing. They know that the Washington administration asked for $5,000,000 for April and May. They know that the Republican Party has sponsored legislation in due and proper time in order that we could give $5,000,000 to Washington so that unemployment relief would not cease.

The people know that on March 26, 1935, the Republican from Delaware, Mr. Turner, called your attention to this fact, and they know that the Democratic party in this House has done nothing to provide for the emergency. They know all those things, and this resolution that we stay in session for the balance of the week is an attempt to fool and bewilder the people. The people think that the responsibility rests on us. The Republicans accept this resolution and will stay here the rest of the week or as long as you want us to stay.

We tell you now that you have been derelict in your duty and you have failed to meet the immediate emergency before you.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Berks, the majority leader of the House, Mr. Ruth.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Ruth, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. RUTH. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, is the House to understand that if this General Assembly has not enacted new tax legislation by April 15 that all contributions to employment relief upon the part of the Commonwealth will cease?

Mr. RUTH. That is the exact order that Mr. Hopkins, the Federal Administrator of Relief, has given. The Federal Administrator did not ask us to rob special funds in order to borrow this money. He simply asked and requested that we pass suitable legislation by April 15, and that unless we have suitable tax measures on our books on April 15, new tax legislation, unless that is done by April 15, the Federal administration relief will stop.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I am not seeking to establish the position of Washington, with reference to this emergency. I am seeking to establish the position of the administration with reference to this emergency and I desire to ask specifically, whether in the absence of tax legislation, and even though there is available money in the special funds, whether in such a situation the state of Pennsylvania is or will terminate its assistance to the unemployed on April 15?

Mr. RUTH. Mr. Speaker, I will answer that by saying that the state of Pennsylvania has not assisted the unemployed for a long time. The Federal government has contributed $58,000,000 to Pennsylvania, and the state of Pennsylvania has not contributed one cent. The Commonwealth could not assist them because there was no money here.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I have so far failed to obtain a specific answer to the specific question which I asked. The question I asked was, if the State of Pennsylvania has in special funds on April 15, one million, two million, three million, five million, seven million, or whatever the money may be, and the demand for unemployment relief continues, will the state of Pennsylvania turn aside the appeals for relief, or will the state of Pennsylvania contribute to the extent of the available money?

Mr. RUTH. Mr. Speaker, the only answer I can give is what the Federal Administrator in Washington has said, that unless we pass suitable legislation there will be no further money, that is the only answer I can give. I do not know what the state is going to do.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I recognize the difficulty under which the majority leader labors in this particular situation. And yet I submit to you with this particular resolution pending, it is up to somebody to tell this legislature what the state of Pennsylvania proposes doing in the event that when April 15 arrives new tax legislation has not been enacted, although the state of Pennsylvania has in special funds available for immediate use a considerable sum of money. That is the vital question. This resolution presents no vital issue. I agree with the minority leader that it gets us nowhere, until we know whether we can draw upon the special funds. There is no need to keep this House in continuous session waiting the eventuality on the other side of the House, and as an individual member of this House, as much interested in the welfare of this state as anybody else can possibly be, I request, as I believe you request, that the majority leader confer with his Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, and bring us a specific answer to the question that I have asked the gentleman from Berks.

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to ask the Democratic members of this House to support the resolution for an entirely different reason. I say to the members of the House that the people of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania realize that an emergency exists and that emergency was created by the attitude of the Republican party, particularly the majority in the Senate. I say that there is a dire reason why we should remain here for the purpose of passing legislation that will correct the conditions existing. I say to the members of the House that the emergency was not created by the majority members of the House of Representatives, but it was created entirely and solely by the attitude of the majority party in the Senate. In that House now there are some bills that will solve the entire problem, and all we need is to have the members of the Senate pass that legislation, and the entire problem will be solved, and the emergency will disappear, and the only reason that the members of this House should remain is for the purpose of listening to any amendments which the Senate may desire to place in those bills. I say that the Republican party is not deceiving a soul in saying that the fault lies with the Democratic party. We have waited weeks on end to hear from them a proposition that might solve the problem of this Commonwealth. We are still waiting to hear something that they propose, some legislation that they sponsor, some concrete proposition that this House can act upon. This last week, if you please, we listened to the floor leader of the Republican party say to us, yes, he had plans but because of a confidence he would not disclose them. He went further and said that he would not tell them until hell froze over. I think I am quoting his exact words. I might say that another reason why we should stay here in the hope that the frigidity of the Senate will become so intense that hell will freeze over, and the floor leader of the Republican party will then be at liberty to explain to this House the plan or proposition which will solve the problems. I say to the members of this House, in fairness to the Republican party, let us hope that the Senate will cause conditions to arise whereby the floor leader of the Republican party can open his mind to this House, and then and only then we may arrive at some common plan whereby a compromise can be arrived at. I say to you, members of the House, the Republican Party today in Pennsylvania is on the spot, to suggest some concrete plan or else agree to the Democratic Legislation as submitted. But at least we have met the needs of the people, and today, if you please, over in the Senate is the place where this emergency should be solved, and the request of the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews, is out of order. He should take the request over to the Senate and ask them why they haven't done something, why they have not relieved the floor leader of the Republican party to the point where he can make some suggestion and introduce some legislation that may solve the problem.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Monroe, Mr. Achterman.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Monroe permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. ACHTERMAN. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, if a crisis arises, does the gentleman from Monroe propose feeding the hungry with Senatorial stubbornness or does he propose using money as long as the Commonwealth has money?

Mr. ACHTERMAN. Mr. Speaker, in reply to the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews, I might state that I believe if we stay here an extra few days the problem will be solved and the people will have food.

Mr. RUTH. Mr. Speaker, I just want to make this statement. I made the statement last week on the floor, as you will find in the record I would like the Republican minority and the gentleman from Cambria, to get this part clear: the Federal Administrator has not asked us to transfer funds; we do not have to transfer funds and take it out of places where we have no right to take it, as we did last fall. The only requirement that he made was that we put the laws on our statute books in good faith, that we raise the money in the future, and even if we pass these tax measures and did not collect the money until 1936, the Federal Government is going to take care of Pennsylvania, but as long as we do not have the laws on our statute books which will raise this money for relief, the Federal Government will not contribute one cent. Whether we borrow money or rob it out of the special funds, that will not solve the problem. It might solve it for a couple of weeks. We spend twenty million dollars a month. If it takes five million dollars a week, seven million five hundred thousand dollars only represents money that will last about ten days. Transferring this money will put this off for ten days and we will be facing the same thing, and no guarantee from any one on the floor of this House or anyone else that the Senate will pass that legislation. Seven and a half million dollars will only put if off ten days longer. We do not need to transfer the money. All we need to do is to put the tax laws on our statute books. We have done that in the House. We have done out part. Nobody will be fooled by the argument of the Republican minority that the majority is on the spot. The majority in the House has done its part and the Senate has failed to do its part. The responsibility rests on the Senate. They have held us up. They are responsible for the crisis.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Ruth.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Berks permit himself to be interrogated.

Mr. RUTH. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Berks if he has been advised by the Federal Administrator that even if Pennsylvania provides the necessary funds, to wit, on the basis of five million dollars per month for the months of April and May that nevertheless Washington would not contribute any sum of money to Pennsylvania.

Mr. RUTH. Mr. Speaker, I have not been so advised and I do not believe that is the case. At the best this will only put this off ten days more. The bills are not for ten million dollars, they are not for five million dollars for April and five million dollars for May; two and one-half million dollars for April and five million dollars for May 6. It simply would put this thing off ten days, that is all it does and we might as well face it now as later.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, then the gentleman from Berks admits that he has received no word from the Federal Administrator that if Pennsylvania, upon the basis of five million dollars per month provides money for April and May, that despite that fact Pennsylvania would not receive any more money from the Federal Government.

Mr. RUTH. Mr. Speaker, I can only answer that by repeating what I have already said perhaps a dozen times, that the Administrator has asked us to put the laws on our statutes, guaranteeing our good faith. He has not asked us to transfer funds or to place the money on the table. He simply said there would be no money coming from Washington unless we have the laws on our statute books. I have said that a dozen times.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, for the sake of argument, let us admit that the Senate of Pennsylvania will not pass these tax laws. Then, Mr. Speaker, I ask the gentleman from Berks whether or not he does not agree with me that the temporary providing for unemployment relief can be accomplished at least for half the month of April and for the full month of May by providing immediately seven and one-half million dollars.

Mr. RUTH. Mr. Speaker, I certainly do not agree with him because you know and I know that it takes twenty million dollars a month. Seven and one-half million dollars is simply enough for ten days.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I presume that the answer of the gentleman from Berks as to the ten days is predicated upon the fact that it is his belief that the Federal Administrator, despite the fact that Pennsylvania would provide here seven and one-half million dollars for relief, would refuse to contribute any money.

Mr. RUTH. Mr. Speaker, I think I have already answered that. He does not say we shall transfer he says unless we have laws on the statute books.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the gentleman from Berks if he has taken the trouble, or if anyone in the Democratic Administration has taken the trouble, to find out from the Federal Administrator whether or not if this House would provide, if this Legislature will provide for the months of April and May in cash, seven and one-half million dollars, whether or not the Federal Administrator will extend the time until the first of June, for the passage of the tax program.

Mr. RUTH. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman, I will say that I have not gone to Washington. I got enough when I was there the last time, and I don't know whether anybody else has gone to Washington. But I know Pennsylvania has kidded the Administration long enough. We kidded them last fall when we said we would provide for unemployment relief. We took about fourteen million dollars out of other funds, and the Administration in Washington had to step in before the thing was over and had to carry us along entirely, and I think that I and Mr. Witkin, or anybody else with common sense would be tired of being kidded by the richest state in the United States.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman indicate to this House that the only way he can procure an answer to the question whether or not the Federal Governmen will stop contributing to unemployment relief in Pennsylvania, if we give seven and one-half million dollars, is by going to Washington and not by the use of the telephone, by His Excellency, the Governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, or by someone in the Administration.

Mr. RUTH. Mr. Speaker, I suppose it could be done by telephone, but that has been done by personal visits in this case. The former Governor of Pennsylvania went to Washington almost every week, and this Governor has been trying to do that.

Mr. BURKE. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Ruth, on behalf of the Democratic Party of this House, and on behalf of the vast army of unemployed, take it upon himself to see to it that some one in authority in the Democratic Administration forthwith communicate with the Federal Administraor in Washington to ascertan from him whether or not if Pennsylvania this week produces in cash seven and one-half million dollars as its share of unemployment relief for the period beginning now until the thirty-first day of May, 1935, whether or not under those circumstances Washington will continue to give unemployment relief funds to Pennsylvania while Pennsylvania is continuing work upon this tax program.

Mr. RUTH. Mr. Speaker, I would be very glad to do that, but I believe it is foolish question number one million eight hundred fifty-six thousand and then some because we do know the answer to the question.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman from Berks do it?

Mr. RUTH. Mr. Speaker, certainly.

Mr. WEISS. Mr. Speaker and members of this House, I have great respect for the intelligence of the minority leader and many members of his party, but we all know that these moneys cannot be taken from special funds. We cannot take them, we have no legal right to take moneys allocated for soldiers' bonus under constitutional amendment, and I challenge any member of this House to give me a legal opinion that gives him the right to take those moneys. Furthermore they have no right to take moneys allocated to the fuel fund or the Liquor License Fund for the specific reason that this money has been allocated to the municipalities and they have already budgeted all this money due them. If they will make inquiry in the Department of Revenue they will find that there is only one million dollars available.

On February 12 the Governor issued a message, plain and clear asking the members of this House, both Republicans and Democrats, the House of Representatives and the Senate, to cooperate and enact the tax program. We are faced now with this problem of relief. We were told then that the United States government had allotted at that time some thirty million dollars and up to the present time they have contributed fifty-eight million dollars, and we have not contributed one penny towards this relief.

I am surprised at the statement made by the gentleman from Cambria, Mr. Andrews, and we know that it is only a foolish jesture on the part of the minority leader in saying let us take this money and use it in order to meet the requirements of Mr. Hopkins and his demand that we have enough money, at least $5,000,000, in order to get the appropriation of $40,000,000 from the federal government. He does not want us to borrow money. He said to us, and I quote him with his very words to the Governor in their conference at Washington on March 25th, "Pennsylvania must show good faith by enacting a tax program to meet the situation." The Governor said to him, "We cannot raise the revenue immediately. It might not come in until January, 1936." "That don't make any difference," he said, "that is equivalent to a promisory note on the part of this Commonwealth that they will enact a tax program."

If you are only getting $20,000,000 which we would derive from the tax on gasoline and amusements and the other emergency measures that would give us $20,000,000 a month and we could pay the United States Government back. Now, I say to the minority leader, go across that Hall and tell those boys to bring out of the pickling committee some of that tax legislation. We can pass it this week and get enough revenue to meet the problems facing us in this emergency and give the necessary rlief in this Commonwealth.

Mr. VanSICKLE. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Witkin, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. WITKIN. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. VanSICKLE. Mr. Speaker, am I correct in assuming that Mr. Witkin, representing the minority party in this House expresses their feelings when he says that they are vitally interested in a solution of this tax problem?

Mr. WITKIN. Absolutely.

Mr. VanSICKLE. Does not the gentleman from Philadelphia agree that unless a solution is had to this problem of unemployment relief that it will result in needless suffering of hundreds of thousands of citizens of the state of Pennsylvania.

Mr. WITKIN. Certainly.

Mr. VanSICKLE. Does not the gentleman agree that a transfer of money from funds is no permanent solution of this problem?

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I will answer that question by saying that when a very serious emergency exists and where people are about to starve and where people are about to go off relief, that I am thoroughly in accord with His Excellency, the Governor of Pennsylvania, who on March 4, 935, came to this House and said, members of this Honorable body an emergency exists, because of the existence of the emergency I ask you to transfer funds. I agree with His Excellency, the Governor, and I say to you now today, a greater emergency than that which existed on March 4th, and for that reason if it will stop starvation for forty-five days then we will stop the starvation for forty-five days and hope and pray that at the end of that time we will have solved the problem, and hope and pray that between now and that time somebody in this Commonwealth who refuses to move one step from his position will bend the knee and bow the head just a little and the problem will be solved.

Mr. VanSICKLE. Mr. Speaker, I didn't ask for a political speech. I asked for an answer to a very simple question, and of course—

Mr. WITKIN. You ask the questions and I will give my answers.

Mr. VanSICKLE. May I be permitted to say that the gentleman, I believe, fully realizes when the Governor asked for a transfer of funds there was submitted to this honorable body, if I may so call it, a program which gave to the members of this body as well as the Senate an opportunity of repaying that money while the Republican program has never given an opportunity of repaying the money.

Mr. WITKIN. I just want to ascertain, Mr. Speaker, whether the last statement was a question or whether I am supposed to answer it?

Mr. VanSICKLE. I was interrupted before I came to the question, Mr. Speaker. As Mr. Witkin realizes these facts does he not feel that if any solution is had by any member of this body that that solution should be given for the consideration of this body.

Mr. WITKIN. I don't just quite understand the gentleman's question, when he says "solution." He means solution to what? Will he please repeat that question?

Mr. VanSICKLE. May I elaborate upon the question or rather change it. Does not the gentleman from Philadelphia feel that it is the duty of any members of this House or any member of the Senate who has a solution to present that solution for the consideration of the House?

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, my answer is yes, and I want to supplement that answer by saying that I have personal knowledge that the Republican majority in the Senate are giving the question of the Governor's budget the most careful consideration; that they are tracing down the figures; that they are daily and constantly in conference, and I verily believe, and honestly believe and know that before very long they will solve the problem by the passage of proper tax legislation in the proper amount.

Mr. VanSICKLE. Did the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Witkin, state on the floor of this House that there was a solution of this problem and due to the fact that it was given in confidence that that solution would not be revealed until hell froze over?

Mr. WITKIN. No, I didn't. So as to clear that situation, the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Shepard, I believe asked me whether there had been made any proposition or any measures proposed other than the twenty-two points, by anyone in the Republican Party. I answered that question by saying that in order to properly answer I would have to breach a confidence; that I had been in a conference wherein certain matters were discussed, and the matters discussed were tax matters, and that that conference was attended by high officials of this state of both parties, and it was distinctly understood that anything that took place in that conference was confidential and I said that I was not going to reveal any proposals that were made at that conference because I was honor bound not to do so and that I would not do so until hell froze over. I repeat and reaffirm that statement. I didn't make the statement that the gentleman has just said I made nor did I say that there had been a solution given or presented to the problem at any time.

Mr. VanSICKLE. Does not the gentleman feel that his moral obligation to the hundreds of thousands of Pennsylvanians who are dependent upon relief and unemployment funds is far greater than his word of honor to a few selected men in a group, and that as this body has been elected by the people of Pennsylvania to pass upon their problems that if he has any knowledge whatever of a solution of that problem that that knowledge should be given to this House?

Mr. WITKIN. First of all I will answer the gentleman this way by saying that there is nothing higher than a man's word of honor and that bars nothing. Second, the gentleman is playing upon something that is simply ridiculous. Whether or not I would break my word on what took place at the conference cannot make a particle of difference in this situation. It is just a futile and idle waste of time of this House to discuss it. I have answered the gentleman that I thought that the problem of the unemployed was great. I think it is so great that on Sunday afternoon, together with the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Blumberg, and the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Turner, we came up here and sat about wondering and laboring to see what was the best means of meeting this emergency. We built up a program and Mr. Blumberg of Philadelphia introduced that program. We presented it to you, five bills. That was done not because of the fact that there was going to be an election next day, but because of the fact that we knew that on April 15 relief would stop unless money was provided. We are not playing politics, you are, because if you were not playing politics then you would take that program—I would say that the laughing by the Democratic members is merely indicative of the fact that all they can do is laugh, they can't answer the argument, and I don't blame them, they laugh when they have no answer to give,—but I say this, if you are sincere and you don't want the people to starve after April 15th, blame the Republican Senate all you want. Let us say that we are bigger and better, if you will, than the Republican Senate, and despite their derilection, if they are derilections and I don't believe they are, we are going to get the money for the next forty-five days and hope by that time the Senate will be better, and perhaps by warnings of war and revolution they may be compelled to give relief to the unemployed in this state. Let us get the money into our treasury so that Washington will be satisfied. If you are so sincere and you are so honest about the unemployed and you are not trying to make political capital of this situation the Blumberg's bills would not be lying in your committee while people are being permitted to starve. That is my answer to you.

Mr. VanSICKLE. I understood from the gentleman's answers to all the questions, despite the oratory, that the plain and simple fact remains that no offer of solution of this problem has been made by the minority party and that they are not at this time offering any substitute program for that offered by the Democratic party, is that correct?

Mr. WITKIN. I will answer that by saying that is not so. The Ways and Means Committee in this House took every revenue raising bill of the Republicans and Democrats that provided different forms of raising revenue—I don't know off hand the number of bills, but if I am correct there were eight or ten—and you took them and you pickled them. They provided other means of raising revenue, but because those bills were not bills that were of the "holier than thou type," the only right plan of raising taxes you killed them. The Democratic Ways and Means Committee killed every piece of taxation that was not included in the "one and only" plan for which you still stand. If you think we Republicans on this side are just plain jackasses to continue introducing legislation into this House when you know you won't report out a single one of them, then you are mistaken. We have done our part and you won't. Let us do what is right for the people. I repeat again and I will repeat it as long as I have a tongue in my mouth, you are playing politics with relief. That is what you are doing and we are not.

On the question recurring,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was adopted.

STATEMENT BY MR. BARBER

Mr. BARBER asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement:

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, for the last few minutes I have been deeply touched, and I know my colleagues on this side of the House, have been deeply touched by the solicitude shown by the gentleman from Philadelphia toward the people who will after Monday be listed among the starving people of Pennsylvania.

I have in mind, members of the House, that three weeks ago, when the message of Administrator Hopkins was read to this House, and when the message of Administrator Hopkins was read to the Senate, that the Republican majority in the Senate, though so much of the starving people of Pennsylvania and of the fact that they might starve that they immediately went out upon the floor of the Senate and defeated one of the largest money raising programs that we have instituted and the largest money raiser that has been passed in this House. I know they were so solicitious of the starving people of Pennsylvania and of the fact that they might starve, that immediately after defeating that largest single measure the Republican majority did not attempt to sponsor any measure that might bring to the state what they have just taken away from it. On the contrary, they decided they would adjourn until the following Monday, and when they came back again, they then took upon themselves to defeat the next item of revenue that would have brought relief to the starving people of Pennsylvania. If that be solicitude, gentlemen, then I hope that we on this side of the House shall never have that sort of solicitude. I hope that we on this side of the House can show those on the other side of the House, and those in the majority in the Senate, what real solicitude means, and not just pass a measure which will carry the people along for a month or two, with the ever present specter of starvation before them at the end of that period, but that we will here now, and that the Republican Senate will here and now guarantee to the people of Pennsylvania, not relief for two weeks, not relief for a month but relief for two year period, and unless the Senate of Pennsylvania and the House of Representatives of Pennsylvania is willing to take upon themselves the duty of carrying on for the people, and representing the people whom they are pledged to represent, then we would be derelict in our duty. I do know that the majority in this House will never consider itself so derelict but they will go along with a program that will only continue to confront the people of Pennsylvania with the specter of starvation.

STATEMENT BY MR. TURNER

Mr. TURNER asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement:

Mr. Speaker, no amount of denial, no attempt to shift the responsibility to other legislative shoulders, no demagogic appeals that direct attenitonaway from the issue can eradicate the fact that the State-aided hospitals, homes, welfare institutions, public schools and universities have been made desperate by the present crisis in their financial affairs. Their representatives haunt the halls of this House wondering what is to become of the sick and distressed if you persist in your present course.

The fact that the Governor has proposed, and a Democratic House has passed, tax bills will not pay wages nor buy food and supplies necessary for the operation of these institutions, many of which have been waiting more than six months for appropriations which the State promised them.

On March 26th I called the attention of this House to the financial situation confronting the Commonwealth as to the appropriation liabilities to June first, 1935. The Democratic majority, through the action of the Democratic-controlled Ways and Means Committee refused to take the logical step by which a program might have been formulated to meet this problem. Almost three weeks have been lost. Three important weeks, if revenue is to be raised.

As of April first, the needed appropriation liability to June first is $37,357,865. Of this amount $10,520,862 is for subsidies to schools, appropriations to the universities, State-aided medical and surgical hospitals, homes and other State-aided welfare institutions; $10,000,000 for unemployment relief for April and May if the State is to appropriate the amount of $5,000,000 per month said to be required by the Federal Government; and $16,339,397 for other expenses of Government.

When the appropriation lapses have been deducted, the ordinary revenue of the State for the months of April and May should provide sufficient funds to meet all appropriation liabilities with the exception of the said amounts necessary for schools, homes, etc.

Therefore fully to meet the appropriation liabilities it is necessary to raise some eighteen to twenty millions of dollars of additional revenue.

It is apparent how to all that the tax program introduced by the Governor would not, and will not, provide revenue sufficient to meet these obligations to our schools, hospitals and homes, not only to the end of this biennium, but also in the first six months of the next, although the Democratic leadership of the House has continually "parroted" the statement that, if adopted, these problems will melt away in the sunshine of the Democratic tax dollars that would flow from the Governor's program.

Even if all these tax measures were passed, the first six months of the next biennium would present such difficulties in financing the appropriations of the next biennium that it would be almost impossible to meet the deficit of the 1933-1935 biennium as it pertains to hospitals, schools, and homes.

If, as stated by the majority leaders of the House, it is not necessary to raise $10,000,00 for unemployment relief for the months of April and May (because the Federal Government is willing to waive that appropriation if we will but pass the Governor's Tax Program), we will still be face to face with the fact that $10,500,00 is needed for the State-aided hospitals, schools and homes.

In answer to my Resolution (No. 104) introduced on March 26th, the Democratic floor leader advised us that we did not need a Committee to gather data as to the present financial position of the Commonwealth and suggest a plan to raise the necessary revenue to cover the deficit. He said this task might be performed by any of us on our own responsibility. That this was but an idle gesture and an attempt to side-step the real issue was demonstrated on Monday night last, when bills were introduced and an effort was made to secure immediate consideration of measures designed to meet the unemployment relief needs for April and May by the transfer of funds to the amount of $7,500,000.

Why not try to deceive the public with these declarations? This is not a time to play politics. The issue is clear,—

The Commonwealth needs eighteen to twenty millions of dollars to meet its appropriation liabilities to the end of the biennium.

If we take out unemployment relief, the need is for eight to ten million dollars for the educational and welfare institutions.

The Governor's Tax Program will not supply this sum. The sick and distressed cannot be fed on a tax program.

Responsible men will face the issue and determine to find a way to meet it.

The offer of measures by Republicans will meet with no success unless there be cooperation by both parties.

The way to secure the needed monies is by the appointment of a committee of this House composed of both Democrats and Republicans to consider this question, devise a plan and report back by the first of next week.

It may be barely possible to raise the funds before the end of the biennium if we lose no more time. Another week's delay and the opportunity will be lost.

RESOLUTION

COMMITTEE TO FORMULATE REVENUE RAISING PROGRAM

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to offer a resolution and ask unanimous consent for its immediate consideration.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give its consent to the immediate consideration of the resolution? Are there objections?

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, before entering an objection I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Delaware.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Delaware permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, do I understand from the figures of the gentleman from Delaware that there would be an actual cash appropriation liability of approximately $20,000,000 at the end of the biennium?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, that is correct, somewhere between $18,000,000 and $20,000,000, for this reason if I may explain it—

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I do not care for the reason.

He has answered the question. I will assume that the figures of the gentleman from Delaware are accurate.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, taking into consideration when I say the appropriation liability, $10,000,000 for April and May.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, do I understand that twenty million dollars includes ten million dollars for unemployment relief?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, that is right.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, do I understand from the statement of the gentleman from Delaware that if we were to pass appropriate tax legislation, both by the Senate and the House and have it on our statute books, signed and approved by the Governor, we would then be relieved of ten million dollars of appropriation liability, bringing it down to ten mllion dollars.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I didn't so state. If I gave that impression, I would like to correct it, if I may have the opportunity.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I will withdraw the question. Do I understand that ten million dollars of the twenty million dollars is for unemployment relief?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, that is right.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, do I understand that the bills introduced by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Blumberg, authorize the transfer of approximately seven and one-half million dollars to unemployment relief?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, that is right.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, do I understand that if the transfers in Mr. Blumberg's bills were directed to the hospitals, the state aided institutions and the other appropriation liabilities of the Commonwealth, that that seven and one-half million dollars would then,—not including unemployment relief, but only including appropriation liability, would then reduce that to two and one-half million dollars?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I do not fully understand the question asked by the gentleman from York, Mr. Cohen.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I will ask the question in another manner. If the seven and one-half million dollars provided by the transfer of Mr. Blumberg were transferred to appropriation liability other than unemployment relief ,then outside of appropriation for unemployment relief we would then have remaining an appropriation liability of two and one-half million dollars?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, yes sir, about three million dollars.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, if the transfers requested by Mr. Blumberg are directed to unemployment relief, is it not a fact that the appropriation liability to state aided hospitals and to other functions of the Commonwealth will thereby suffer.

Mr. TURNER. No sir, Mr. Speaker, because these are special funds, from which these are being transferred.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, if the seven and one-half million dollars suggested to be transferred by Mr. Blumberg to unemployment relief are transferred those funds are then not available for transfer to state hospitals.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, that is correct.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, is it not true that by transferring the money as suggested by Mr. Blumberg to unemployment relief, rather than to state hospitals, state institutions and other appropriation liabilities, we are thereby jeopardizing the possibility of those institutions receiving money during this biennium?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, if you take the word, "jeopardize" from the standpoint of whether you would agree to transfer this money from the special funds—

Mr. COHEN. Providing we agree to transfer this special money.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, of course if you take the seven and one-half million dollars from the special fund for unemployment relief then you could not take the seven and one-half million dollars for the hospitals, and the homes and so forth.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, has the gentleman from Delaware not heard stated, both by the Governor of this Commonwealth and by the floor leader of this House, that if we have enacted and on our statute books the appropriate type of new tax legislation, there will be no necessity to provide in actual cash ten million dollars for unemployment relief during this biennium?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I have heard that statement made so many times by the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Ruth, that I think he must have record of it.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, and members of the House, I appreciate the time and effort that the gentleman from Delaware has expended upon this proposition, and in objecting to this resolution I feel that a word of explanation is due to the gentleman from Delaware and to the members of this House.

His analysis is complete and correct, and his analysis as presented to this House, is the best answer that the House could require for the enactment of tax legislation. He shows you by his accurate figures that we have to meet an appropriation liability of twenty million dollars; that we can wipe out ten million dollars of that appropriation liability by enacting the proper type of tax legislation. He further admits that there is available under the Blumberg bill seven and one-half million dollars of the moneys of this Commonwealth which can be transferred to the state hospitals, to the state institutions, and to the other appropriation liabilities of this Commonwealh, and by so doing it will reduce the actual cash deficit of this Commonwealth during the biennium to the mere pittance of three million dollars. Those figures which the gentleman from Delaware has presented to this House clearly indicate the futility of appropriating or transferring moneys in special funds to unemployment relief. The statement of the gentleman from Delaware in effect tells the House this, that if you transfer the moneys as suggested by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Blumberg, to unemployment relief, our state hospitals will suffer, our educational institutions will suffer and every type of benefit that the state wishes to give some of its agencies will thereby be set back. We cannot jeopardize what moneys we have in the particular funds, when we can meet the problem simply by enacting the proper type of tax legislation. By such an enactment we meet the immediate cash needs of this Commonwealth. By the enactment of the tax legislation we strike out from this current biennium ten million dollars; we save that money; we can appropriate it to institutions, which Mr. Turner has indicated are coming up here and crying and I might say justifiably, upon our shoulders. Here is the problem. Are we going to face actualities or are we going to wait for the proverbial prosperity that is around the corner? Are we going to stand on our two feet here today; are we going to emulate our forefathers in meeting an emergency, or are we going to say, "No, we do not have the initiative, we do not have the ability, we do not have the ingenuity, in order to solve this problem." All we can do in order to solve these problems is to dip into accumulations made by past Legislatures. All we can do, we as a legislature, the only idea we have is to infringe upon accumulations made by those who sat in these seats before us. All we can do is to act like parisites. All we can do is to live off the body created by somebody else. Are we to say to the people of Pennsylvania, having been in session since January 15,—shall we say to them, "We do not have the nerve, we do not have the ability, we don't have the guts, to create new revenue?" Are we going to say to the people of Pennsylvania since October 1934, when we met in this very same hall and did the very same thing and had the very same problem, that we still do not have the initiative or the guts to solve it? Are we going to tell that to the people of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania? Or are we going to stand on our two feet and say that we have a problem which must be met, and we are going to meet it, we are going to enact the proper type of tax legislation, we are going to put upon the statute books the type of laws which will save this Commonwealth an outlay of ten million dollars in this biennium? Are we going to say that by so doing we will have available funds to transfer, mark you, gentlemen, that are now to be replaced and are provided for in the budget; we are going to transfer money which we are going to collect over the next two years, not moneys that were taken from special funds, as they were in 1934, without any proper type of legislation to replace them; not moneys that were taken from special funds, and in their place put a blank note, as was stated in this House in October 1934 by the honorable gentleman from Berks who now presides in this House. We are going to take monies from the special funds, if the necessity arises, and apply that money to the hospitals, to the educational institutions, to the activities of the state government that require it, and we do not have to rob the state of one penny for unemployment relief. All we have to do is to resort to some of the initiative and activities of our forefathers and enact upon our books the proper type of legislation.

Mr. Speaker, I therefore object to the immediate consideration of this resolution.

The SPEAKER. The Chair hears objection and unanimous consent is not granted.

STATEMENT BY MR. BLUMBERG

Mr. BLUMBERG. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent to make a statement.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give its unanimous consent to the gentleman to make a statement.

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, I do not object at this time but I serve notice that I am going to object to any further statements after this one.

The SPEAKER. The Chair hears no objection and consent is granted.

Mr. BLUMBERG. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I desire to extend my thanks for the indulgence of the member from Berks. I do want to say that I did exercise great restraint not to voice my feelings during this debate here on the floor.

As you know, I have been vitally interested in the subject, and I had about decided that I had said enough on Monday night, but it has occured to me that the Chief Executive and the Senate certainly cannot be charged with a monopoly on stubborness. This House, particularly the other side of it, seems to have more than its share.

We have the Chairman of the Appropriations Committee telling us in one breath that he is satisfied to tap special funds for hospitals and institutions, but that he is not satisfied to transfer them for the purpose of continuing unemployment relief in Pennsylvania. Now, I was fully cognizant of that situation, and I placed the preference where I believed it was due, that as between a choice of continuing the institutions, who might borrow the money in order to keep open their doors and the unemployed can receive this money only through Federal grant, providing that the state does it just share as demanded by Washington we transfer that money particularly, solely and exclusively for unemployment relief.

The same program for repaying the money borrowed from special funds existed during the session of 1934; the same law that was in effect then is now in effect, and the same law and the same program for repaying money borrowed from special funds existed when the Governor procured this House to transfer three million two hundred thousand dollars for the blind and for unemployment relief by borrowing from special funds, exists today. We have the good faith of the House and the Senate behind that loan and you continue to have the good faith of the House and the Senate behind any transfer that we might make now.

Now, members, why be stubborn about the situation. It is perfectly true that the only tax program that has been presented rests in the Senate. It may be that it is perfectly true that the Republican party is on the spot, as one gentleman put it, but I want to tell you that this rises above party and that the Democratic party is on the spot as well, if anybody is on the spot.

You have a situation to meet and you can't hide behind that situation by saying the Senate will not do its duty. Members, the gentleman from Erie criticized the Senate for defeating the gasoline tax bill and yet by reference to the Legislative Journal I find that he himself voted against it when it was here on the floor of the House Why hide behind all this camoflauge? There has been nobody who has told us on the floor of this House, that Federal Administrator Hopkins refuses to appropriate money to this state for unemployment relief if we provide our share by transfer. Certainly he has said that he desires each state to show by some program that we will provide for unemployment relief. You and I know that is a physical impossibility by April 15, and the Senate is not going to be stampeded into any hasty action by any word or speech from the Governor, when it refused to be stampeded into hasty action when the Governor personally appeared in the Senate and requested them to pass that program. The Governor appeared before the Senate two weeks ago and spoke to them on the subject and on the following day the Senate failed to pass the gas bill.

By passing this resolution today we accomplish nothing. The Senate is not going to pay any attention to it, unless it is ready to pass a tax bill. Have we any assurance of it? No. But April 15 is next Monday, that is the deadline that you gentlemen on the other side told us exists, and are we going to let that deadline pass merely because some of you gentlemen say we should not take out of one pocket of the state money that is called special funds and appropriate it to the needy. Are we going to hide behind the excuse of the gentleman from York and give that money to the institutions, thereby reducing our appropriation liability, or are we going to give this money to those who need it and thereby insure Federal grants. So I say to you we have only one program, I said it Monday night. Pending six weeks until the end of this biennium we must provide the just share of the state; we must provide at lease the balance for the month of April of two and one half million dollars, and the full five million dollars for May. We can only provide that money by tapping special funds, a method that was approved by the special session of 1934, and a method that this House approved at the request of the Chief Executive. That is our solution and the only solution, and I tell you, men, you are accomplishing nothing and the responsibility is solely yours if you do not take those five bills out of committee and report them back to this House immediately and pass them by Tuesday of next week.

REQUEST TO CALL UP SENATE MESSAGE

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent of the House to call up from the Speaker's desk the resolution just passed by the Senate—the number thereof I don't know, nor do I believe it has a number, but the resolution dealing with the transfer of four million five hundred thousand dollars for unemployment relief.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give unanimous consent to call up the resolution at this time? Are there objections?

Mr. RUTH. I object, Mr. Speaker.

MOTION TO SUSPEND RULE 84

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I move that Rule 84 be suspended for the specific purpose of considering at this time the resolution just referred to, to wit, the Senate Resolution transferring or dealing with the transfer of seven million five hundred thousand dollars on five bills presented by the gentleman from Philadelphia. Mr. Blumberg.

On the question,
Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. RUTH. Mr. Speaker, I rise to object to this motion for the very reason that we have discussed it continuously for the entire week practically and I think that we all know where we stand on it, and I rise to object to the motion.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I agree with the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Ruth, that we have had ample discussion upon this subject. The matter was thoroughly debated and talked about and for that reason I will have no further remarks to make except to say that I believe it is imperative and compelling that this House carefully consider this resolution. I will ask the members of the House to vote in favor of the motion to suspend the rule in order that the members of the House may be on record as to whether or not they are for or against this resolution.

I will say that a vote against the suspension of the rule is tantamount to a vote against the resolution and will be so construed by the public.

Mr. Speaker, I ask for a roll call.

Mr. BLUMBERG. Mr. Speaker, I second the request for a roll call.

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, what will be the effect of calling for the order of the day at this time?

The SPEAKER. The calling for the order of the day is not in order at this time, because the House has already given its unanimous consent to take this resolution from the table.

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, did I understand the Chair to say that unanimous consent had been given? I understood that the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Ruth, objected.

The SPEAKER. For the information of the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Hoopes, the Chair wishes to state that the Chair was in error in regard to calling the order of the day. The order of the day can be called for and if it is called for the Chair will have to resume the second reading calendar.

A motion to suspend Rule 14 would have to be included in the motion of the gentleman from Philadelphia, in order that this matter could be considered at this time.

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, I do not see any point in having the roll called at this time and I, therefore, ask for the order of the day.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman calls for the order of the day. The order of the day is Bills on Second reading.

MOTION TO SUSPEND RULES 14 AND 84

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I move that rule 14, together with rule 84, be suspended for the purpose of considring the Senate resolution dealing with the seven million five hundred thousand dollars transfer of special funds for unemployment relief.

On the question,
Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Hoopes.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Berks permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman agree with me that the subject matter of this resolution is of importance to the people of Pennsylvania?

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, in reply to the gentleman, I agree that nothing is more important than the matter of unemployment relief, but I do not agree that taking a vote upon this particular resolution at this time is of particular importance, in view of the fact that it is a foregone conclusion what the result will be before the roll is called, and it is merely taking the time of the House.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, am I correct, therefore, in assuming the reply of the gentleman is to the effect that the only reason for the fact that he does not think it ought to be considered and a roll call had at this time is because he is of the opinion that the result is already known?

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, in reply to the gentleman I would say for the further reason that this matter having been debated for one hour and a half previously and for one hour Monday evening, I think that the views of every member of this House are already on the record and that to repeat them is mere redundancy.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, do I understand that the gentleman does not think that it is important that the people of the Commonwealth know how each man stands upon a resolution that has already passed the Senate and that deals with the question of unemployment relief, irrespective of whether it has been discussed or not.

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, you are not to understand anything of the sort. I think I have answered the question fully when I say that I thought every member's views are already on the record by previous roll calls, either on this particular question or one that is so closely related to it that there can be absolutely no doubt of the result of this roll call or of the view of any member of this House on the question.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, so the gentleman reiterates that the sole reason for his objection to the roll call being had at this time is because he believes that the mind of every member is definitely in the same shape as it was yesterday.

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, I have heard nothing in the debate which has taken half an hour of our time already this morning to indicate that a single member has changed his views from the way he voted on the same question the last two times.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the gentleman if he is not of the opinion that wisdom has been inculcated into the minds of some of the members of this House in view of the returns of the election held in Montgomery County yesterday?

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, In further reply to the gentleman's question, I would like to say that having been a member of this House for five years I doubt the possibility of the assumption which he makes.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, may I ask the gentleman from Berks, whether or not he will agree with me in the future to be consistent in the asking for roll calls upon matters concerning which he has good reason to know will be defeated by this House.

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker, in reply to the gentleman, in those cases that the members of the House are already on record on a particular question, I will agree to abide by that ruling. Do not, however, wish to place myself in the position where I may not obtain and exercise the right to have roll calls on matters that either have not been decided by the House or that have been in issue within a reasonable time before a roll call is demanded.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. WITKIN and Mr. BLUMBERG and were as follows:

RESOLUTIONS INTRODUCED AND REFERRED

By Mr. McCREARY. RESOLUTION No. 119.

In the House of Representatives, April 10, 1935.

Whereas, The power that may be exercised by standing committees of the Legislature has given rise to the term, "The Third House of the Legislature," as applied to the committee room; and

Whereas, The functions of these committees are of utmost importance to properly sift and sort the many bills introduced; and

Whereas, The present method of conducting House committee meetings is very unsatisfactory, confused and insufficient; and

Whereas, The same hours are frequently designated for many important committees to meet, so that legislators are unable to attend meetings which it is most important that they should attend; and

Whereas, The time allowed for committee meetings is much too short for proper consideration of important bills; therefore, be it

Resolved, That beginning Tuesday, April 16th, each Tuesday afternoon, from 2 P. M. until 10 P. M. shall be designated as the official time for holding committee meetings; and that a schedule establishing separate hours for the more important committees be prescribed by the Speaker of the House of Representatives; and that an hour's time be allotted to each committee.

Referred to the Committee on Rules.

By Mr. TURNER. RESOLUTION No. 120.

In the House of Representatives, April 10, 1935.

Whereas, It appears as of April 1st, 1935, that there is a net appropriation liability for the remainder of the present fiscal biennium of $37,357,865, of which amount $10,520,862 is required for educational and welfare purposes, and $10,000,000 for unemployment relief for the months of April and May; and

Whereas, It is apparent that the ordinary revenues of the State Government will be inadequate to meet these apropriations since the outstanding liability, as of April 1st, for the ordinary operation of the State Government was $16,389,397; and

Whereas, The appropriation to many of the State institutions and to the public schools and educational institutions are in arrears; and

Whereas, Unless sufficient revenues are raised during the present biennium to meet this over-appropriation liability the appropriations to these educational and welfare institutions and for unemployment relief will lapse; and

Whereas, It appears that the tax program submitted by the Governor will not provide the revenues, even if enacted, in sufficient time to meet these appropriation liabilities; therefore be it

Resolved, That a committee composed of three Democratic Members and two Republican Members of the House of Representatives be appointed by the Speaker of the House to formulate a program to raise the necessary revenue to meet these over-appropriation liabilities recited in the preamble hereof, and to make report to the House of Representatives by Tuesday, April 16th, accompanied with such drafts of legislation as may be deemed necessary to accomplish the purposes of this resolution.

Referred to the Committee on Ways and Means.

By Mr. MENTZER (Concurrent).

RESOLUTION No. 121.

In the House of Representatives, April 10, 1935.

Whereas, A number of bills have been introduced in the House and Senate dealing with the subject of liquor control; and

Whereas, The Pennsylvania Liquor Control Board has informed the committee investigating the liquor control system that it has under consideration needed amendments to the present laws; and

Whereas, Several bills have passed the Senate and repose in House committees and bills have passed the House and repose in Senate committees, while many others are in committee awaiting committee action; and

Whereas, It is apparent that confusion exists among Members of the several Houses as to the proper measure which should be framed; and

Whereas, It is to the interest of the dispatch of public business and economy that the various bills introduced and other amendments submitted should be studied and needed changes consolidated into as few measures as possible, therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the Speaker appoint three Members of the House and the President pro tempore of the Senate appoint three Members of the Senate who together shall constitute a special committee whose duty it shall be to draft a new bill or select and introduce a bill, either House or Senate, which in its present or an amended form, the committee deems to be a proper measure on the subject of liquor control, and to make report thereof to the Senate and House of Representatives as early as possible.

Referred to Committee on Law and Order.

RESOLUTION NO. 73

Mr. STOCKHAM asked and obtained unanimous consent to call up out of order Resolution No. 73, Printer's No. 560.

The Resolution was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, February 27, 1935.

Whereas, The Federal Government, in order to alleviate unemployment, is developing various useful public works; and

Whereas, There are many water projects which, if developed, would prove beneficial to Pennsylvania and to its citizens, and aid in the development of commerce; and

Whereas, There has been reported, by the Board of Engineers of the United States Army, under House Document No. 308, 69th Congress, a plan for thirty-two reservoirs projected for power and flood control in the Delaware and Lehigh River Valleys; and

Whereas, There has also been reported and recommended by the same Board of Engineers, as contained in House Document No. 24, 73rd Congress, 2nd Sessions, the deepening and the widening of the Delaware and Chesapeake Canal to a ship canal at an estimated cost of $12,500,000; and

Whereas, A Special Board's report, as published in House Document No. 219, 73rd Congress, 2nd Session, details a survey of a ship canal across the State of New Jersey at an estimated N. I. R. A. cost of $210,000,000, a second Panama Canal in importance to the East; and

Whereas, The Lehigh Valley area embraces one of the largest steel manufacturing districts in the country, employing 26,000 people, with $200,000,000 invested in homes and $100,000,000 invested in works; and

Whereas, This same district has a potential investment of upwards of $50,000,000 in cement plants, including moderate progressive replacements, producing in prosperous times 20,000,000 barrels of cement at a production value of $37,000,000; and

Whereas, This same area produces in a normal year 26,000,000 tons of anthracite coal at a production value of $114,400,000, with an estimate of 6,000,000,000 tons of unmined coal appraised at a wealth of $13,000,000,000; and

Whereas, All steel manufacturing plants are seeking water transportation facilities for the more economical handling of their raw materials; and

Whereas, It is reported that the Bethlehem Steel Company has lately invested $20,000,000 in new plants at Buffalo to thus secure such an outlet; and

Whereas, These great industries in the Lehigh Valley and many others in this rich and populous area are hampered by water competitive rates enjoyed by similar industrial plants in other parts of the country, thus denying added returns in earnings to the people of this district, endangering the continuance of the steel industry, restricting the development of the cement industry and excluding our anthracite coal from the New England markets; and

Whereas, The Delaware River water shed, with its numerous industrial cities is served by a vast net work of power lines operated by public utilities able to distribute additional power capable of being generated in this area, at little or no additional cost for distribution; and

Whereas, These plans leave out a most important link in this comprehensive development of this great Valley, namely, the canalization of the Delaware River from Morrisville in Bucks County to Easton in Northampton County to provide water navigation for the industries and cities in the Lehigh River area; particularly to serve the production of cement and coal and to save this great steel industry to this Commonwealth, thus protecting and benefiting 250,000 people depending directly or indirectly upon these industries; and

Whereas, These projects will put thousands of men to work on construction and other thousands in the manufacture and delivery of materials; and

Whereas, Such a comprehensive all-inclusive Public Works Project of the Delaware River Basin will serve a dense industrial area of upward of 20,000,000 Americans and benefit more people than any other plan under way or contemplated in the whole United States; therefore be it

Resolved, (if the Senate concur), That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania respectfully memorialize the President of the United States to consider the advisability and feasibility of including within the Public Works program the following projects:

(a) The construction of a ship canal across the State of New Jersey from the Delaware River to the Raritan River;

(b) The development of the Delaware and Chesapeake Canal into a ship canal;

(c) The canalization of the Delaware River from Morrisville to Easton;

(d) The development in Pennsylvania of works for flood control and water power looking to a practical and equitable arrangement with the public utilities for distribution of power through the area that shall promise the ultimate ammortization of the capital investment; and be it further

Resolved, If the Governor approve this resolution, he be respectfully requested to urge upon the President the construction of such public works; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the President of the United States by the Secretary of the Commonwealth.

On the question,

Will the House adopt the resolution?

It was adopted.

Ordered, That the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

STATEMENT BY MR. ATKINS

Mr. ATKINS asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement:

Mr. Speaker, I ask your indulgence and attention for a few minutes on a question which is, I feel, of vital importance to all of us and, being non-partisan, is of equal interest to every Member. That question is "When are we going to do something definite in regard to lessening the burden of taxes on real estate?"

In my campaign for election one of my principal pledges was that something definite would be done to relieve, of this overwhelming burden of tax, the home owner, the farm owner—that thrifty citizen of this great Nation upon whom its very foundations are built—that patriot who is willing and anxious to work and to use the fruits of that labor to gain for himself and his family the security that a land owner, a home owner of this great country has always felt.

As we all know, the high rate of taxes on real estate has reversed the situation of this erstwhile enviable citizen, and his is the greatest burden, while daily his little castle is falling under the Sheriff's hammer, and his dreams are shattered.

I have faithfully attended every Session of this House the past fifteen weeks, and can not see that anything has been done that will assure relief to the Real Estate Owner. The introduction last week of the graduated Income Tax for School purposes, was a noble gesture, were it assured that this Bill would be constitutional, but, personally, I object to this measure being used for the purpose of reducing real estate taxes because it is too uncertain that this Bill, if passed, would be able to stand up before the Supreme Court Test. The Attorney General of the Commonwealth, the Honorable Charles J. Margiotti, who drew this measure has repeatedly stated that he very much doubted the constitutionality of a graduated Income Tax under our present constitution. If this were not so, would not this Bill have been included with the other twenty-two Tax measures on the Governor's Program? Many other prominent attorneys agree with the Attorney General, and if the Bill is passed, and then found to be unconstitutional, and, in my opinion, it is unconstitutional, it will simply mean that another two years will pass without any means of relief, and the pledges and promises of a great many of us will remain unfulfilled.

Are we going to fool the overburdened real estate taxpayer by tricking him into believing that his taxes will be reduced through the proposed graduated income tax? Or shall we substitute a Bill which without doubt can be depended upon to take care of the situation? Or, if no substitute revenue measure can be agreed upon, then a system to provide more equitable assessment of real estate for taxing purposes should be taken up. But something must be done and that right quickly.

In order that a definite program may be worked out, I suggest that the "Steering Committees" of both parties arrange to meet within the next week to discuss this matter, and not only to discuss this question, but the entire taxation program. If the Steering Committees can not get together, then I suggest a caucus of all Members pledged for the reduction of real estate taxes.

The time for hedging has passed and we must act now, or the 1935 Session of the Legislature will be History and many Members will have little to show for their part in it. I feel that, if we can constructively accomplish relief for this real estate tax situation, we will in a measure have justified our being members of this House.

STATEMENT BY MR. RUTH

Mr. RUTH asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement:

Mr. Speaker and members of the House for fifteen years I have been reading the Philadelphia Inquirer. It has not effected my political beliefs, but today I believe it had the best editorial that I have read in the fifteen years that I have been getting the paper and I will ask the clerk to read that editorial.

The editorial was read by the Clerk as follows:

PENNSYLVANIA WANTS NO SALES TAX

A sales tax for Pennsylvania, whether at three per cent. or any other rate, should not even be considered. If there are legislative leaders at Harrisburg who are seriously contemplating pushing such a scheme, they would do well to forget it. Politically it would be a blunder. But basically a sales tax is not a question of politics. It is essentially one of economics.

First, it will bear down heavily on the poor. There are estimates that more than two-thirds of employed Pennsylvanians are paid wages or salaries not greater than $1500 a year. They spend this money—are forced to—in order to live. An additional burden would affect them seriously. The tax wouldn't hurt the well-to-do in anything like the measure that it would the poor or comparatively poor. These would be the real sufferers.

Second, there is the bearing that a sales tax would have on business. It would hit every retailer in every town. Even in the interior his sales would decrease. Near the State lines purchasers would cross the borders. Especially would Philadelphia be dealt a devastating blow, for Philadelphia is a border city.

This is no guess work. New York City has indulged in a sales tax, to the detriment of its merchants, and we have only to delve into its experience to ascertain just what would happen here. The stores of New York have felt the extortion severely. Customers in large numbers go across the Hudson, and the revenue that was expected to accrue to the City Treasury is falling far below expectations.

A tax on all retail sales would reduce purchasing power, whereas increased purchasing power is the object which recovery legislation has in view. Business, striving its best to climb the ladder to prosperity, can not stand this extra load. The poor man can not stand it. He would of necessity be obliged to cut his budget to lower figures. The proposal should have no place in the legislation of Pennsylvania. It would retard recovery. The Legislature should abandon all thought of it.

STATEMENT BY MR. WITKIN

Mr. WITKIN asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement:

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, along side of the editorial that has just been offered to be read by the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Ruth, is a very interesting editorial entitled "Behind a human shield," and I ask the clerk to read it for the benefit of the House.

(The editorial and remarks pertaining thereto were expunged from the record)

QUESTION OF INFORMATION

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of information.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from York will state his question of information.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, am I now in order to renew by motion to expunge from the record?

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from York is in order.

EDITORIAL AND REMARKS EXPUNGED FROM JOURNAL

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I move that the editorial and the remarks thereunder be expunged from the record.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, being serious for a moment, if there is in this editorial anything that is derogatory to the Governor, I am frank to say that precedent justifies the motion to expunge from the record and I would be the last one to oppose that portion of the motion, but the motion of the gentleman from York is entirely unfair. There are portions of this editorial that do not even refer to the Governor, in other words let us not abuse the freedom of speech on the floor of this House and if the gentleman will amend the motion to include only the portion that is derogatory to be expunged, I am perfectly satisfied, but I do object to expunging from the records those portions of the editorial that do not deal with the integrity or the thoughts of the Governor, and, therefore, say to the membership of this House if you vote to support this motion as it is, you are voting against the right of a member to make a statement or to put in the record that which he has a right to place in the record. Therefore, it seems to me that it is only fair and equitable that the gentleman from York amend his motion only to expunge the derogatory portion of this editorial. I am perfectly willing that the Speaker or any group of persons in this House be the judges thereof. You can pick them all from the Democrats.

Mr. Speaker, I ask for a roll call.

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I wonder what our constituents would think if they stood on the sidelines and listened to these schoolboy arguments that we are having here tonight?

I believe that there is enough good fertilizer in this House now to take care of all the farms in Dauphin county, and I believe that we ought to make an appropriation or have an opening in the side of the capitol so that the farmers can come up here with their wagons and haul it out.

Mr. Speaker, I wish to further say that I think the House should make an appropriation to buy all the Republican members newspapers so that they can read the editorials rather than have the taxpayers of Pennsylvania pay for editorials being read into the records.

Mr. HOOPES. Mr. Speaker in order to save the time of the House, I ask unanimous consent that this roll be taken by having all the Democrats as voted "aye" and all the Republicans and Socialists as voting "no" without going through the formality of calling the roll.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. WITKIN and Mr. WOOD and were as follows:

BILL ON FINAL PASSAGE

Mr. DIEHL. Mr. Speaker, I desire at this time to call up House Bill No. 1105, Printer's No. 436 on page 13 of today's calendar, bills on final passage postponed.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. DIEHL,

The House resumed the consideration on final passage of House Bill No. 1105, entitled:

A Supplement to the act approved the twenty-fifth day of June, one thousand nine hundred and thirteen (P. L. 555), entitled "An act providing for the regulation of dams, or other structures or obstructions, as defined herein, in, along, across, or projecting into all streams and bodies of water wholly or partly within, or forming part of the boundary of this Commonwealth; vesting certain powers and duties in the Water Supply Commission of Pennsylvania, for this purpose; and providing penalties for the violation of the provisions hereof;" providing for the payment of fees for the granting of permits under the provisions of said act; regulating the collection and disposition of such fees; and limiting the time such permits are effective.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. DIEHL. Mr. Speaker, this bill was presented at the request of the Department of Forests and Waters and it is intended to raise a part of the revenue to run the department. In 1913 due mainly to the breaking of the dam at Austin, Pennsylvania, with the destruction of thousands of dollars worth of property and the loss of seventy or more lives, the Legislature of Pennsylvania enacted a law providing for the regulation of dams. That act requires a person building a dam to obtain a permit from the Department of Forests and Waters, and it also requires that a certain amount of supervision or inspection be made of that dam while it is under construction. It also requires an annual inspection of all dams in Philadelphia. This inspection and this service by the Department has cost the taxpayers of Pennsylvania a lot of money.

This bill is proposed to raise some of the money required to run that department. It specifically states that one per cent of the estimated cost of the dam up to $100,000 be sent in with the request for the permit, one-half of one per cent of the next nine hundred thousand dollars, one tenth of one per cent on the next four million dollars and one twentieth of one per cent on everything over five million dollars.

This bill is designed to reduce taxes on real estate. The gentleman from Armstrong made a very fine address a while ago on the reduction of taxes on real estate. He will now have an opportunity to help reduce the taxes on real estate. This is not a party bill. It is in the interests of the real estate owners of Pennsylvania, and I ask everyone in this House to vote for this bill.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

BILL ON THIRD READING

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, I desire at this time to call up House Bill No. 889, Printer's No. 425, on page 21 of today's calendar, bills on third reading postponed.

Agreeably to order,

The bill having been called up from the postponed calendar by Mr. SARRAF.

The House resumed the consideration on third reading of House Bill No. 889, entitled:

An Act to amend sections one and six of the act approved the twenty-seventh day of April, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-seven (P. L. 437), entitled "An act for the protection of the public health by regulating the conduct and operation of public eating and drinking places within this Commonwealth; imposing certain duties on the Department of Health of this Commonwealth and on the local health authorities; and providing penalties;" including dining cars under the provisions of this act, and making it unlawful to sleep, or to permit persons to sleep in a room where food is prepared or served.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. SOWERS. May I ask the sponsor to explain the bill?

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, I think the bill as drawn up explains itself, but to clarify it for some of the members of the House, the bill is to prohibit anybody from using public eating places for sleeping quarters, including also dining cars.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the sponsor of the bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the sponsor of the bill permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SARRAF. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, on page 3 of the bill lines twenty-three and twenty-four it reads, "No person shall sleep or be permitted by a proprietor to sleep in a room where food is prepared or served." Does that apply to meals that are served in a hotel room? Can I get my breakfast in bed under this bill?

Mr. SARRAF. I think that the bill calls for where the public are being served.

Mr. ANDREWS. It does not so read.

Mr. SARRAF. If you will refer to the line and place I may be able to answer the question. I wish the gentleman would refer to the particular line that he is questioning on.

Mr. ANDREWS. Mr. Speaker, lines 23 and 24 on page three of the bill.

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman repeat the question?

Mr. ANDREWS. I am asking the sponsor of this bill whether under lines twenty-three and twenty-four it would be possible to serve meals in hotel rooms, or in hospital rooms, if the language of the act were observed?

Mr. SARRAF. I think it would.

Mr. MALE. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of the bill.

The SPEAKER. Will the sponsor of the bill permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SARRAF. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. MALE. Mr. Speaker, suppose I am an old bachelor and I am batching in a shanty, and I cannot get a woman to be my wife, am I permitted if I am a bachelor to eat and sleep in the same room?

Mr. SARRAF. I did not hear the gentleman.

Mr. MALE. Suppose a man is a bachelor but cannot get a wife, he is not good looking enough to have a wife, and he is batching, can he batch in a shanty and sleep in the same room?

Mr. SARRAF. Absolutely. This bill has nothing to do with that. This is public eating places.

Mr. MALE. If I own the shanty, I am the proprietor, and your bill says the proprietor. If I have a shanty I am the proprietor.

Mr. SARRAF. If you are a bachelor this bill has nothing to do with you.

Mr. MALE. Will the gentleman answer this question, please?

Mr. SARRAF. Yes.

Mr. MALE. Suppose I have a number of shantys and I rent them out by the month, only one man living in the shanty, how about that? I am the proprietor that lives in the shanty.

Mr. SARRAF. I think that the bill specifically states public eating places.

Mr. MALE. That is what you think; it is not what the bill says. Ladies and gentlemen of the House, I ask you to vote this bill down.

Mr. EBERHARTER. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, there seems to be some misunderstanding as to what this bill does.

This bill will not regulate the serving of meals in hotels or in private homes. This bill in its title says, "for the protection of the public health by regulating the conduct and operation of public eating and drinking places," so, therefore, none of the language in the act could be construed to include private homes or hospitals or any similar institution such as a hospital. The gentleman need have no fear of this act whether he be a bachelor or a married man.

Mr. SPROUL. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the sponsor of the bill?

The SPEAKER. Will the sponsor of the bill permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SARRAF. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SPROUL. Mr. Speaker, would not this prevent the serving of a meal in a Pullman car adjacent to a dining care if the person were old or crippled or in any manner incapacitated so that they could not obtain a meal without moving from one car to the other?

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, I don't think it prevents anybody from having their food served in another portion of the same train or car.

Mr. SPROUL. There is no provision in this bill, that would allow that, and I think it should be allowed. Why could it not be amended in some manner to allow that?

Mr. SARRAF. Mr. Speaker, I think according to the law it is already that way, and this is just an amendment to the law as it is. Normal conditions are that way.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, the yeas and nays were taken and were as follows, viz:

NAYS—0

The majority required by the Constitution having voted in the affirmative, the question was determined in the affirmative.

Ordered, that the Clerk present the same to the Senate for concurrence.

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1732, entitled:

An Act to amend section four of article five of the act approved the twenty-fifth day of June one thousand nine hundred and ninteen (Pamphlet Laws five hundred eighty-one) entitled "An act for the better government of cities of the first class of this Commonwealth" by authorizing the employment of women as policewomen

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. DENT. Will the sponsor of the bill for my enlightment please explain the bill?

Mr. SHEPARD. Mr. Speaker the bill is quite clear. It merely is an enabling act and provides for the employment of women as policewomen in cities of the first class.

Mr. DENT. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, probably they have a condition in Philadelphia that they need police women and maybe they don't, but knowing the conditions as they are in industry today, in every line of endeavor, I can readily see where a bill of this sort will have women walking the beats as policewomen. It may seem foolish at this time to say that, but I know, and the rest of the members of the House know, it is opening up another line of endeavor for women, and we know that they have quite a few lines opened up to them now. In all seriousness, members of the House, the police field is hardly one where you would want a member of the fair sex to be employed. Now, I don't stand up as a protector of the fair sex, but in all fairness the men, you have got to admit, have been supplanted in many fields of endeaver today by women. In fairness to them let us at least have the police jobs open to men. Sorry as I am to make this statemen I ask you to vote down any bill that allows women to be policemen.

Mr. SHEPARD. Mr. Speaker, I am glad that the gentleman from Westmoreland reminded us that he was serious. A bill of this kind certainly presupposes a certain amount of intelligence on the part of the police officials of the city of Philadelphia; the head of the police department. This bill enables him and the department to use women wherever he thinks that they can better serve the needs of good government. In New York and other cities—and in Pittsburgh even—policewomen have been used to very great advantage and have done notable pieces of work. There are certain duties in connection with the detection of crime and the enforcement of the law that can be better performed by women. It does not mean that they are going to march the beats and take the place of men. I don't think intelligent police officials would consent to any such use of women on the police force. This bill is very plain. It is an enabling act. It is not mandatory, it does not say that you must have policewomen. It simply says that the police departments may use policewomen in such capacities as they think women can best serve.

Mr. DENT. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, getting down to serious things as the gentleman from Philadelphia has suggested, we all realize the integrity and the intelligence of our police officials, but we must also come back and take into consideration the day when women first started in industry. Whoever thought that women would get down to building tires, we will say, or making cores, we will say, or going into the glass factories and running machines. I am talking from a serious viewpoint, and you know as well as I do that women should not be used as policewomen in any city where you give the city officials the power to put women on. I do not say that it will be done tomorrow but it may be done the next day. I am serious in this. I know that this bill will put women in the place of men, at least doing light jobs such a straffic cops, because I would not be one to say that the women could not act as a traffic cop. Anybody can call up a fellow and say, "You are violating the rules of traffic," and the women could do that. I mean it. For your own protection and the protection of these men in industry and on the police force look ahead, look into the future and vote no on this bill.

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Shepard.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Shepard, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SHEPARD. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Shepard, if there is anything in the law that prohibits the city of Philadelphia from employing policewomen now?

Mr. SHEPARD. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the language of the present act merely refers to policemen and under the present act there is no provision for the employment of policewomen. This bill is simply to give permission to the police department to engage the services of women as regular members of the force, doing such duties as they may see fit—that the department designates.

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, would the gentleman explain to the House whether or not in view of the fact that we have just passed a law prohibiting the employment of women over forty hours a week, this bill would not place a hardship, on them in case we hire policewomen in the city of Philadelphia.

Mr. SHEPARD. Mr. Speaker, I don't think it would, because of the fact that it won't be necessary for these women as policewomen to work more than forty hours and I don't know just what the salary of policewomen will be, but if it is about thirty-five dollars a week, of course, they may be classed as executives and thus be permitted to work more than forty hours.

Mr. REYNOLDS. Mr. Speaker, may I further interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Shepard?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be further interrogated?

Mr. SHEPARD. One more question, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. REYNOLDH. Mr. Speaker, is it not a fact that this bill is designed to make the preachers of the city of Philadelphia immune from the law?

Mr. SHEPARD. Mr. Speaker, if it were, it would be a very good bill.

Mr. SPROUL. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Shepard.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Shepard, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SHEPARD. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. SPROUL. Mr. Speaker in Section 4, on page one of the act, it says, "No person shall be employed," does the act provide that they may employ a policewoman?

Mr. SHEPARD. It does, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SPROUL. Mr. Speaker, may I ask where, please?

Mr. SHEPARD. Mr. Speaker, in that section, it has the same provisions for men as for women that is in the original act providing for the employment of policemen. This act merely amends that to include policewomen and is the same provision.

Mr. SPROUL. Mr. Speaker, perhaps the gentleman means that another section provides for it, but if you will read section four more thoroughly it says "No person shall be employed as a policewoman or policeman," but does not another section take care of the policeman without mentioning the policewoman?

Mr. SHEPARD. Mr. Speaker, this is an amendment to the original act, which says that no person shall be employed in the Department of Public Safety as a policeman or fireman and then it goes on, but this amendment to the bill, to the present act only includes policewomen—adds the policewoman.

Mr. SPROUL. Mr. Speaker, does the other section include policewoman?

Mr. SHEPARD. No; it does not, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SPROUL. Then, Mr. Speaker, I think it should be in there. The act is defective.

Mr. SHEPARD. It says at the bottom of page one, "No person shall be employed in the Department of Public Safety as a policeman, policewoman or fireman who is not a citizen of the United States or who has been convicted of crime unless pardoned or who cannot read or write understandingly in the English language or who shall not have resided within the State at least one year preceding his or her appointment."

Mr. SPROUL. Mr. Speaker, I would prefer that the gentleman would ask someone else and see if I am not correct.

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution the yeas and nays were taken.

Mr. DENT. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a verification of the roll.

The roll was verified and was as follows:

Mr. JACKSON. Mr. Speaker, and members of the House, the purpose of the bill is to prevent individuals from going out and begging money, in other words, the purpose is to stop an individual from soliciting money. It must come from some organization. In Philadelphia and all over the whole state, I understand from the Welfare Department, that they have had quite a lot of trouble with persons soliciting money and not turning it into the right source. This bill is to stop that abuse and to see that the money gets to the right source.

Shall the bill pass finally?

An Act to amend the act approved the nineteenth day of July, one thousand nine hundred thirteen (P. On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. MENTZER. Mr. Speaker, I move that this bill be recommitted to the Committee on Corporations for amendment.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. SCHWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the sponsor of the bill as to the amendments.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Westmoreland Mr. Mentzer, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. MENTZER. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. SCHWARTZ. Mr. Speaker, with reference to this bill, page 3, line 15, I merely want to call the gentleman's attention to the word after "such." Is it the intention of the gentleman to have it read "injury" instead of "inury?" If this bill goes back to committee, I would suggest that you correct the spelling, if you mean "injury."

Mr. MENTZER. I will, Mr. Speaker.

On the question,

RESOLUTION

STATE HIGHWAYS

Mr. DENT asked and obtained unanimous consent to offer a resolution which was read by the Clerk as follows:

In the House of Representatives, April 10, 1935.

Whereas, The painting of white lines on the State highways is a very effective safety measure and is a great aid to motorists in foggy weather and during the night in driving over mountain ranges; therefore be it

Resolved (of the Senate concur), That it is the sense of the General Assembly that white lines should be painted on the center of all State highways over the mountain ranges, and in order to distinguish such lines from those placed on highways as safety measures to warn motorists not to pass vehicles at dangerous spots, that such white lines be broken with blank spaces of approximately ten feet each.

Resolves, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the Department of Highways by the Chief Clerk of this House.

The SPEAKER. Will the House give its unanimous consent to the immediate consideration of the resolution? Are there objections?

Mr. FURMAN. Mr. Speaker, I object.

The SPEAKER. The Chair hears objection and consent is not granted. The resolution will be filed with the Clerk.

STATEMENT BY THE SPEAKER

The SPEAKER. The Chair wishes to state to the House that a number of request have been made that no session shall be held tomorrow. The condition on the calendar is such that we have only a few third reading bills, and it is up to the House to decide whether it wants a session tomorrow or not. The Chair would welcome a motion from some member on the floor in order to test out the sentiment of the House as to whether or not they want a session tomorrow. There are only a few bills on third reading. However, various committees wish to sit. The Committees can work and these bills can be advanced. There are also some hearings to be held.

TIME OF NEXT MEETING

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker, I move you that we have a session tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock, and that the Committees get together tomorrow and get a lot of those bills out of committees instead of going home.

On the question,
Will the House agree to the motion?

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

THURSDAY, April 11, 1935.

The House met at 9:45 a. m.

The SPEAKER (Wilson G. Sarig) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Reverend Marshall Shepard ,a member of the House, offered the following prayer:

O God, our Heavenly Father, we thank Thee for Thy care and Thy keeping through the watches of the past night. We thank Thee for this day and for the opportunities for service that it brings to us.

As we meet here today, we pray Thee that Thou would enable us to have that spirit of tolerance, forbearance that was exemplified in the life of the one whose natal day we shall celebrate today. May we re-dedicate our lives to the spirit of Thaddeus Stevens and may we give all that we have in the service of the people of this Commonwealth regardless of race, creed or color.

And now, Heavenly Father, may the spirit of good, righteousness, peace, and truth cover Thy earth as the waters cover the sea, that man everywhere may come to know Thee, Whom to know is life eternal. In His name and for His sake. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The SPEAKER. The Clerk will read the Journal of yesterday.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of yesterday, when, on motion of Mr. MALE, the further reading was dispensed with and the Journal approved.

The SPEAKER. At this time the Chair calls to the desk the gentleman from Fayette, Mr. Brownfield who will act as master of ceremonies during the short program in honor of the memory of that great commoner and that great citizen of Pennsylvania, Thaddeus Stevens.

Mr. BROWNFIELD in the Chair

The CHAIRMAN. Ladies and gentlemen of the House, it is a pleasure at this time to introduce Dr. Leslie Pinkey Hill, President of Cheney State Teachers College and school for colored young people planning to become teachers of this state. Dr. Hill is a graduate of Harvard Phi Beta Kappa and has with him this morning a chorus who will sing at this time.

Dr. HILL. Honorable members of the House, ladies and gentlemen, we are here this morning, because we want to bear testimony to our friend, Thaddeus Stevens, the great commoner, for our share in the benefits that flow from the free schools of our Commonwealth.

We want to thank our representatives who have made possible our coming here that we might contribute our little bit towards the celebration of this great event in the lives of our people, the saving of the free school system in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. But of course, you want to know that we are here from this College of Cheney with an additional thought in mind. Thaddeus Stevens gave the finest energy of his long and fruitful life, we gratefully remember, to the freedom and the advancement of the Negro.

Having been poor himself he believed in the poor, and he gave to the Negro the fullest measure of his confidence at the time when there were very few in our nation to share it, and he never wavered in the bestowal of that confidence in our race, and I think I am not exaggerating when I say that every Negro in Pennsylvania today and throughout the length and breadth of our nation feels that he has abundant reason for bowing his head in gratitude to God for this great benefactor. I know that his spirit in the heavens above must be rejoicing to see in this Assembly where he wrought his mighty work five of those men whose cause he championed when they could not champion their cause themselves, five of those men here right where he wrought his mighty work, justifying the faith which he gave to our race of helping to carry forward the great work which he inaugurated here.

I think that great spirit of his in the heavens is also happy when it beholds these young men and women from the college of Cheney which our generous Commonwealth still supports in order that the children of the poor may have a chance for the better things.

I am saying this merely as an introductory explanation of the profound sense of gratitude and obligation that every colored American has for this man who spoke for us when we could not speak and who never wavered in his allegiance to us.

The chorus will render an old English song "Art Thou Poor Yet Thou Hast the Golden Slumbers" a fine old song in praise of the honest poor, the spirit of which is that if a man is poor and is healthy and has a good conscience he is rich, but he may be rich and without a good conscience he is poor. That was the theme of Thaddeus Stevens. Then we are going to follow that with a Negro spiritual "Who Will Be a Witness?" that is to say as was the man we honor.

Singing by the Chorus.

The CHAIRMAN. Dr. Hill, I am sure that I can speak for the membership of the House and visitors when I say to you that we welcome you here this morning. We enjoyed the singing immensely. The gentleman from Lebanon, Mr. Horst, will give a short biography of Thaddeus Stevens.

Mr. HORST. Mr. Chairman, one hundred years ago today the Pennsylvania Free School Law of 1834 was saved from repeal in this House of Representatives solely by the stirring appeal of one of its members, Mr. Thaddeus Stevens of Adams County, in a speech that today is still recognized as one of the most outstanding masterpieces of oratory ever to be recorded in the activities of the General Assemblies of this Commonwealth.

Prior to 1834 various acts were passed by the General Assembly providing for free education for "poor children only," or "to teach the poor gratis." The outcome of this legislation was that parents refused to declare themselves "paupers" even to gain an education for their children. Consequently large numbers of children were denied any opportunity to attend schools. In the year 1832 it was estimated that of 400,000 children between 5 and 15 years of age, in this State, more than 250,000 were not in school. Only 17,500 children were entitled to free schooling in the entire State.

One of the chief objectives of Governor George Wolf when elected in 1832 was a free school law that would provide education for all. Through his efforts and those of Senator Samuel Buch of Philadelphia, the Free School Law of 1834 was passed and signed by Governor Wolf on April 1 of that year.

But the public did not like this free school law. Opposition to it came from many quarters. Free schools meant new taxes. Church people wanted to conduct their own schools. Those of German origin feared that free schools would eventually eliminate their mother tongue. Others declared that education of the masses was dangerous. As a result few communities actually took advantage of the new school law.

The opposition to the Free School System took on political importance in the election of the following year. That election resulted in having a great majority of members of both the House and the Senate committed to a repeal of the Common Schools Law of 1834.

When the General Assembly convened in 1835, the fight against the bill continued without abatement. Not unlike today, petitions, hundreds of them poured in upon legislators. 32,000 signers sought repeal. Only 2500 sought retention and strengthening of the act.

Early in April, 1835, the Senate passed the repeal measure and sent it to the House. It was taken for granted that the House would take similar action. But proponents of repeal reckoned without the effectiveness of Thaddeus Stevens. Stevens, the son of a poor Vermont shoemaker, whose mother's influence and early teaching had instilled in him a burning desire to have education made available to all on a basis of equality, represented Adams County in the Assembly. He was out of the city with a committee on investigation when the bill was called up in the Legislature. Following the Senate action he hurried back. He was told that defending the bill was of little use. That did not discourage Mr. Stevens. When the bill came up for final passage, Mr. Stevens rose to his feet and in a speech that made history in this Keystone State, he turned the tide of sentiment in the House. The bill to abolish the free school system in Pennsylvania was defeated 57 to 30. An eminent writer of our State's history of education has said: "Competent judges of all parties who witnessed the fight agree that had Representatvies Stevens not stood like a rock furnishing shelter and imparting strength to the free school combatants, and bidding defiance to the fiercest of those who would have struck them down, the law of 1834 would have been swept from the statute book and the day of universal education in Pennsylvania might have been indefinitely postponed."

Today we hail Governor George Wolf as the "Father of Free Public Schools in Pennsylvania." To Thaddeus Stevens we pay the tribute of being the "Saviour of our common schools."

The CHAIRMAN. Mr. Westrick will deliver the speech Thaddeus Stevens delivered one hundred years ago today in this hall.

Mr. WESTRICK. Mr. Chairman. "I favor the establishment of free public schools. I will briefly give you the reason why I shall oppose the repeal of the school law. This law was passed at the last session of the Legislature with unexampled unanimity, but one member of this House voting against it. It has not yet come into operation, and none of its effects have yet been tested by experience in Pennsylvania. The passage of such a law is enjoined by the Constitution and has been recommended by every Governor since its adoption. Much to his credit, it has been warmly urged by the present Executive in all his annual messages delivered at the opening of the Legislature. To repeal it now, before its practical effects have been discovered, would argue that it contained some glaring and pernicious defect, and that the last Legislature acted under some strong and fatal delusion, which blinded every man of them to the interests of the Commonwealth. I will attempt to show that the law is salutary, useful and important and that consequently the last Legislature acted wisely in passing, and the present would act unwisely in repealing it; that, instead of being oppressive to the people, it will lighten their burdens, while it elevates them in the scale of human intellect."

"If an elective republic is to endure for any great length of time, every elector must have sufficient information, not only to accumulate wealth and take care of his pecuniary concerns, but to direct wisely the Legislature, the Ambassadors, and the Executive of the nation; for some part of all these things, some agency in approving or disapproving of them, falls to every freeman. If, then, the permanency of our government depends upon such knowledge, it is the duty of government to see that the means of information be diffused to every citizen. This is a sufficient answer to those who deam education a private and not a public duty—who argue that they are willing to educate their own children, but not their neighbor's children."

"While but few are found ignorant and shameless enough to deny the advantages of general education, many are alarmed at its supposed burdensome operation. A little judicious reflection, or a single year's experience, would show that education, under the free-school system, will cost more than one-half less, and afford better and more permanent instruction, than the present disgraceful plan pursued by Pennsylvania."

"Pennsylvania has half a million of children, who either do go or ought to go to school six months in the year. If they do go, at two dollars per quarter, their schooling costs two millions of dollars per annum: If they do not go when they are able, their parents deserve to be held in disgrace. Where they are unable, if the State does not furnish the means, she is criminally negligent. But by the free school law, that same amount of education which would now cost two millions of dollars, could be supplied at less than one-third of this amount. The amendment which is now proposed as a substitute for the school law of last session is, in my opinion, of a most hateful and degrading character. Sir, hereditary distinctions of rank are sufficiently odious but which is founded on poverty is infinitely more so. Such a law should be entitled 'An act for branding and marking the poor, so that they may be known from the rich and proud.' "

"Many complain of the school tax, not so much on account of its amount, as because it is for the benefit of others and not themselves. This is a mistake. It is for their own benefit, inasmuch as it perpetuates the government and ensures the due administration of the law under which they live, and by which their lives and property are protected. Why do they not urge the same objection against all other taxes? The industrious, thrifty, rich farmer pays a heavy county tax to support criminal courts, build jails, and pay sheriffs and jail-keepers, and yet probably he never has had and never will have any direct personal use for either. He never gets the worth of his money by being tried for a crime before the court, allowed the privilege of the jail on conviction, or receiving an equivalent from the sheriff on his hangmen officers: He cheerfully pays the tax which is necessary to support and punish convicts, but loudly complains of that which goes to prevent his fellow-being from becoming a criminal, and to abviate the necessity of those humiliating institutions."

"Why, sir, are the colleges and literary institutions of Pennsylvania now, and ever have been, in a languishing and sickly condition? Why, with a fertile soil and genial climate, has she, in proportion to her population, scarcely one-third as many collegiate students as cold, barren New England? The answer is obvious: She has no free schools. Until she shall have, you may in vain endow college after college they will never be filled, or filled only by students from other States. In New England free schools plant the seeds and the desire of knowledge in every mind, without regard to the wealth of the parent or the texture of the pupil's garments."

"We are told that this law is unpopular, and that the people of the State desire its repeal. Has it not always been so with every new reform in the condition of man? Old habits and old prejudices are hard to be removed from the mind. Every new improvement which has been gradually leading man from the savage through the civilized up to a highly cultivated State, has required the most strenuous and often perilous exertions of the wise and the good. But, sir, much of its unpopularity is chargeable upon the vile arts of unprincipled demagogues. Instead of attempting to remove the honest misapprehensions of the people, they cater to their prejudices, and take advantage of them, to gain low, dirty, temporary, local triumphs. I do not charge this on any particular party. Unfortunately, almost the only spot on which all parties meet in union, is this ground of common infamy."

"I have seen the present chief magistrate of this Commonweaolth violently assailed as the projector and father of this law. I am not the eulogist of that gentleman; he has been guilty of many deep political sins. But he deserves the undying gratitude of the people for the steady, untiring zeal which he has manifested in favor of common schools. I will not say his exertions in that cause have covered all, but they have atoned for many of his errors. I trust that the people of this State will never be called upon to choose between a supporter and an opposer of free schools. But if it should come to that, if that should be made the turning point on which we are to cast our suffrages, if the opponent of education were my most intimate personal and political friend, and the free school candidate my most obnoxious enemy, I should deem it my duty, as a patriot, at this moment of our intellectual crisis, to forget all other considerations, and I should place myself unhesitatingly and cordially, in the ranks of him whose banner streams in light."

"Will this Legislature—will the wise guardians of the dearest interests of a great Commonwealth—consent to surrender the high advantages and brilliant prospects which this law promises, because it is desired by worthy gentlemen, who, in a moment of causeless panic and popular delusion, sailed into power on a Tartarean flood?—a flood of ignorance, darker and to the intelligent mind more dreadful, than that accursed Stygian pool, at which mortals and immortals tremble! Sir, it seems to me that the liberal and enlightened proceedings of the last legislature have aroused the Demon of Ignorance from his slumber; and maddened at the threatened loss of his murky empire, his discordant howlings are heard in every part of our land."

"Those who would repeal this law because it is obnoxious to a portion of the people, would seem to found their justification on a desire of popularity. That is not an unworthy object, when they seek an enduring fame which is constructed of imperishable materials. But have these gentlemen looked back and consulted the history of their race, to learn on what foundation and on what materials that popularity is built which outlives its possessor—which is not buried in the same grave that covers his mortal remains? Sir, I believe that kind of fame may be acquired by deep learning, or even the love of it, by mild philanthropy or unconquerable courage. And it seems to me, that in the present state of feeling in Pennsylvania, those who will heartily and successfully support the cause of general education can acquire at least some portion of the honor of all these qualities combined; while those who oppose it will be remembered without pleasure and will soon pass away with the things that perish."

"If you wish to acquire popularity, how often have you been admonished to build not your monuments of brass or marble, but to make them of ever-living mind."

"Who would not rather do one living deed than to leave his ashes forever enshrinded in ever-burnished gold? Sir, I trust that when we come to act on this question, we shall take lofty ground—look beyond the narrow space which now circumscribes our vision—beyond the passing, fleeting point of time on which we stand—and so cast our votes that the blessing of education shall be conferred on every son of Pennsylvania—shall be carried home to the poorest child of the poorest inhabitant of the meanest hut of your mountains, so that even he may be prepared to act well his part in this land of freedom, and lay on earth a broad and solid foundation for that enduring knowledge which goes on increasing through eternity."

The CHAIRMAN. "At the session of 1834-5 a most determined effort was made to repeal the law, both political parties, fearing to incur a crushing weight of odium should they say a word in its favor, combined to wipe the unpopular law from the statute book. To all minds, its fate seemed to be sealed forever. The vote, which was to roll Pennsylvania backward toward the dark ages, was about to be taken, when Thaddeus Stevers, then comparatively unknown, rose to speak against the repeal. It was perhaps his greatest effort. With a resistless torrent of eloquence, never surpassed, if ever equalled, he swept every objection out of sight and buried the opposition beneath it by the waves of his fiery eloquence forever and ever. When he closed, "the tree of knowledge was placed within the reach of every child in Pennsylvania for all coming time. Thaddeus Stevens still lives, like Saul, head and shoulders, intellectually, above all other men in the great Republic."

This memorable address of Thaddeus Stevens marked the greatest single effort of his entire legislative career. It was the solitary attempt at oratory in his long and eventful life.

According to historians, those who listened were awed by his courage, and stunned by the terrible sincerity of his grave endeavor. Thomas Frederick Woodley, a Pennsylvanian who recently has had published in this city a stirring biography of the Old Commoner, tells us that scarcely a man in this Chamber but realized Stevens was battling grimly for a righteous cause; fighting unselfishly for an opportunity for the generations to come; fighting to have the State see to it that because a child were born poor, poverty could not bar his way to a fair education.

Every listener knew that Stevens had thrown his political fate in the balance, willingly, even eagerly, in the knowledge that his plea for free Schools was tremendously unpopular. The weight of his speech is convincingly shown by the fact that the Senate, most of whose members heard him, very shortly afterward rescinded their action and joined the House in supporting his substituted amendment and enlarged the school law of the year before.

Woodley says "his majestic appeal jolted Pennsylvania back to her good senses" and brought credit from the bitter opposition newspapers, one of which felt "assured that a more beautiful effort at oratory was never listened to within the walls of this or any other legislative hall."

I want to call special attention to the closing words of Stevens' magnificent appeal, when he said:

"I trust that we—so cast our votes that the blessing of education shall be conferred on every son of Pennsylvania—shall be carried home to the poorest child of the poorest inhabitant of the meanest hut of our mountains, so that even he may be prepared to act well his part in this land of freemen, and lay on earth a solid foundation for that enduring knowledge which goes on increasing through increasing eternity."

Ladies and gentlemen—Pennsylvania has fulfilled Thaddeus Stevens' fondest hopes. Pennsylvania has "followed through" in a manner which has placed this Commonwealth in the front ranks of public education efforts in the Nation. Pennsylvania truthfully carries the blessing of education "to the poorest child of the poorest inhabitant of the meanest hut of our mountains."

One hundred years ago this day, this hour, this very minute, this House of Representatives was in turmoil as Stevens, the crippled son of rugged Vermont, prepared to launch his most enduring and lasting effort for the sons and daughters of his adopted state. It was an effort that opened a career which his biographers assert placed him well forward in the ranks of the first dozen Americans who have made a large imprint on their country's history. It was an effort that saved our Commonwealth from the disgrace of continued backwardness, founded "a system of common schols which disenthralled that State from its ignorance and brought it by knowledge to the stature and power of a gigantic Commonwealth."

It was not until twenty years had passed that anything like a uniform system was provided and attention was given to the preparation of teachers.

In another score of years there came the Constitution of 1873.

So every Pennsylvania child enjoys a constitutional right to an education.

Public school property in Pennsylvania today represents a valuation of more than half a billion dollars. The army of two million pupils attend classes in twelve thousand buildings where they are instructed by 62,000 teachers, the finest in the Nation. Ninety-nine of every hundred of Pennsylvania public school teachers has had two or more years of specialized preparation for teaching, and every third teacher is a college graduate.

To the children of the new century, to the rich and to the poor, to girls as well as boys, to native and to strangers within our gates, to all alike comes the invitation to share wisdom. Our Public Schools are for all the children of all the people. It is possible now for the child of humblest birth to learn more about the earth than Columbus ever knew, more of the laws of nature than Newton discovered, more astronomy than Galilo, more chemistry than the alchemists. In 1836 many Representatives failed to be reelected because they had voted to continue the free school act, in 1936 it would be impossible for any of us to be elected if we declared ourselves hostile to our system of public instruction.

And so, ladies and gentlemen, Pennsylvania's today can go proudly to the modestly marked grave in the small cemetery at Lancaster and say:

"Thaddeus Stevens, Pennsylvania has 'followed through' ".

The SPEAKER (Wilson G Sarig) in the Chair.

The SPEAKER. On behalf of the House the Chair wishes to thank the gentlemen from Fayette, Mr. Brownfield, Dr. Hill, Dr. Rule, Mr. Horst and Mr. Westrick, and all those connected with the program for the splendid program which they have rendered this morning. Especially does the Chair thank the chorus of Cheney School for coming here and giving us this excellent music.

ANNIVERSARY OF BIRTH OF THOMAS JEFFERSON

Mr. McDERMOTT offered the folowing resolution which was twice read, considered and adopted:

In the House of Representatives, April 11, 1935.

Saturday of this week will mark the one hundred and ninety-second anniversary of the birth, in the colony of Virginia, of Thomas Jefferson.

By blood and training a patrician, the one-time owner of nearly 10.000 acres of Virginia plantation land, he nevertheless, of all the galaxy of great men who collaberated in the founding of our nation, most clearly visioned and upheld the principles of true democracy.

During his service of more than nine years in the Virginian house of burgesses, his two terms as war governor of that embattled state, his service in the Continental Congress, his service as draftsman of the Declaration of Independence, his service as Secretary of State, Vice-President, and finally twice President of a new nation, he stoutly maintained those advanced principles, by many thought to be radical, until they were firmly embedded in our system of government; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania, by the adoption of this resolution, desire to call to the attention of themselves and the general public the qualities of the man, who, in times of great stress, was not afraid to go forward with new policies and new ideas, regardless of over-conservative opposition, who made honesty and knowledge his only tests in his associations with his fellowman, who knew absolutely no social distinctions in his willingness to perform services for the deserving, who, being born to affluence, was not afraid to risk the sacrifice of that preferred position for the good of the many; and, be it further

Resolved, That the members of this body feel that a study of the life and practices of Thomas Jefferson will be of inestimable benefit to those in public life today.

SENATE

MONDAY, April 15, 1935.

The Senate met at 9 o'clock P. M.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Thomas Kennedy) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. William E. Howard, D. D., offered the following prayer:

Endow us, Our Father, with Thy vision. We can see only a short distance into the past and all the future is unknown to us. "No man knoweth what a day may bring forth." Thus our most carefully laid plans are frequently frustrated, while our most fondly cherished hopes are shattered.

Yet, O God, we need not be discouraged if we implicitly trust Thee. Our experience teaches us that Thou doest all things well and that Thy plans for us are wiser than our plans for ourselves. This is true because Thou canst see the past, the present and the future, and back of Thy all-seeing eye is Thy all-loving heart.

According to Thy will lead the men who enact and execute our laws. Cause them to walk in the way Thou dost see and know to be best. Bestow upon them Thy wisdom. Grant Thy favor and blessing to rest upon our rulers and our people.

These things we ask in our Master's name. Amen.

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when on motion of Mr. SONES, the further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

UNITED MINE WORKERS OF AMERICA
724 Tower Building, Washington, D. C.
Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, April 15, 1935.

Honorable A. Boyd Hamilton
Secretary of the Senate,
Harrisburg, Pennsylvania

Dear Sir:

We have the honor to transmit herewith, for reading before the Senate and incorporation in the official legislative journal, copies of resolutions adopted this day at a meeting of the Executive Officers of the seven districts of the United Mine Workers of America in Pennsylvania.

Thank you.

Respectfully yours,

For the Executive Officers of
Districts 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 7, and 9,
United Mine Workers of America
JOHN N. YOURISHIN, Secretary

Whereas, the tax program of the Administration passed the House and is now in the Senate, and in our judgment it is an equitable, fair and just taxing arrangement; and,

Whereas, it is vital and necessary that this taxing program be enacted into law as speedily as possible in order to provide for unemployment relief in Pennsylvania; and,

Whereas, the Republican-dominated Senate, controlled by the invisible government representing big interests, is endeavoring to permit as usual the interests to escape taxation and it hopes eventually to put over a sales tax and again make those less able to pay bear the brunt of taxation in Pennsylvania; and,

Whereas, we believe these tactics of the Republican Senators are reprehensible and should not be tolerated further in Pennsylvania, therefore be it

Resolved: by the executive officers of the seven districts of the United Mine Workers of America in Pennsylvania representing 300,000 organized mine workers in Pennsylvania, that we petition and demand of the Republican Senators that the Administration Tax Program be reported favorably and passed by the Senate; and be it further

Resolved: That we strenuously oppose any counter proposition being enacted that in any way contemplates and calls for a general sales tax; and be it still further

Resolved: That we call upon the Senators representing coal counties to join with us in this demand upon the Senate for the immediate enactment of the Administration Tax Program to the end that revenue may be raised to provide for unemployment relief, work relief and for other legitimate State purposes. The responsibility rests squarely upon the shoulders of the Republican leadership in the Senate and we demand immediate and favorable action so that taxation may be more equitably distributed in Pennsylvania and the financial needs of the Commonwealth be adequately met.

Adopted at Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, April 15, 1935.

For the Executive Officers of
Districts 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 7, and 9,
United Mine Workers of America,
JOHN BOYLAN, Chairman
JOHN YOURISHIN, Secretary

Be it Resolved, By the Executive Officers of the seven districts of the United Mine Workers in Pennsylvania, that we urge upon the House of Representatives the immediate passage of the Administration's Workmen's Compensation Bill, and we also call upon the Senate to enact this bill when it is passed by the House and is in the hands of the Senate for action. We believe this measure is fair and just, and that the workers of Pennsylvania are entitled to this legislation which brings compensation standards of Pennsylvania up to that of surrounding competitive Districts, and be it further

Resolved, That we call upon the Administration to have presented as soon as possible the bill providing compensation for occupational diseases which we understand is now in course of preparation, and upon this measure we equally urge favorable consideration and passage by the House and Senate. We also urge that measures for Old Age Pensions, unemployment insurance, to be tied in with Federal legislation, should be given special attention at this time in view of the fact that the Federal Congress is about agreed in principle upon the important features to be incorporated in Federal legislation; and be it still further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be sent to the Secretary of the House and of the Senate for incorporation in the official journals of both Houses, and to the Governor of the Commonwealth.

Adopted at Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, April 15, 1935.

For the Executive Officers of
Districts 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 7, and 9,
United Mine Workers of America,
JOHN BOYLAN, Chairman
JOHN YOURISHIN, Secretary

Whereas, in keeping with the policies of the New Deal for Pennsylvania there is pending in the General Assembly Administration measures providing for better Labor and Social Security legislation and,

Whereas, many of these measures have passed the House and are now in the Senate where very little attention is being paid them by the Senate committees; and,

Whereas, we believe that steps should be taken to force action on these policies by the Senate, therefore be it

Resolved, That the executive officers of the seven districts of the United Mine Workers of America in Pennsylvania, representing 300,000 organized mine workers, that we petition and demand of the Republican leadership of the Senate of Pennsylvania, especially the committee chairmen, that committee meetings be held immediately for the purpose of releasing Labor and Social Security legislation, and that it be passed by the Senate and be it further

Resolved, That we request the Senators representing coal counties to work and vote to bring about the favorable reporting and passage of this legislation, and we call upon them to assist Labor in this battle for justice and progress for the people of Pennsylvania, and be it still further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be sent to the Senate of Pennsylvania for incorporation in the official journal thereof for the express information of those mentioned herein, to the Chairman of the Republican Party of Pennsylvania, and to the Government of the State, through His Excellency, the Governor.

Adopted at Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, April 15, 1935.

For the Executive Officers of Districts 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 7 and 9, United Mine Workers of America,

JOHN BOYLAN, Chairman.
JOHN YOURISHIN, Secretary.

Whereas, The House of Representatives has passed a bill providing for a miner's certificate law in the bituminous coal fields of Pennsylvania; and

Whereas, This qualification law is in keeping, in principle, with a similar law in existence in the anthracite region of Pennsylvania for many years; and

Whereas, We believe that this miner's certificate law is a real safety measure and will promote safety and efficiency in mining operations; and

Whereas, The application of the certificate law in the bituminous region will bring into being men who are certified and who can appreciate and understand the common dangers more so than those inexperienced; therefore be it

Resolved, By the Executive Officers of Districts 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 7 and 9, United Mine Workers of America, representing 300,000 organized mine workers in Pennsylvania, that we believe this law is vital and necessary and we urge upon the Senate Committee on Judiciary Special that they favorably report the bill and that the Senate pass it, and we call upon all Senators, and especially those from the coal counties, to personally work and vote to bring about the passage of this meritorious legislation.

Adopted at Harrisburg, Pennsylvania, April 15, 1935,

JOHN BOYLAN, Chairman,
JOHN YOURISHIN, Secretary,
For the Executive Officers of Districts 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 7, and 9, United Mine Workers of America.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. GRAFF. Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Armstrong, Mr. Graff, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. GRAFF. Mr. President and members of the Senate, a great deal has been said in this chamber and throughout the State relative to Relief. I heartily agree with the distinguished Senator from Somerset, Mr. Ealy, who recently in an address before this body, said it was the paramount question before us today. It is so vitally related to any tax program and is such a large part of it, that it seems to me some definite action should be taken dealing with it before any program of taxation can be worked out. If I gauge correctly the temper of the taxpayers of the Commonwealth in this matter, and I think I do, they are in no frame of mind to accept new and increased taxes as they look upon the debacle of waste, extravagance, inefficiency, and chiseling that is going on under the administration of the State Emergency Relief Board. No one, for one moment, would think of attempting to operate his own business in the way relief is being administered in the State, and yet the State Emergency Relief Board is going ahead day after day complacently doling out millions upon millions of dollars of the taxpayers' money with a reckless abandon that beggars description.

Recently I saw some of the payroll records of the State Emergency Relief Board. They disclosed in many instances that men today are receiving more on relief per hour and week than they ever earned in their entire lives for a similar period of time. We all know of countless instances where men have refused to go to work, preferring to remain on relief. I could tell you of cases of chiseling that are almost beyond belief. However, you are familiar with such cases. Several days ago a friend of mine, who owns a music store, told me some of his best cash customers are persons who are on relief.

As indicative of the feeling of many of the taxpayers of the State I quote very briefly from a letter received recently. It is similar to hundreds of others I have received: "Why vote more taxes, until the administration first puts its relief house in order? No worthy person should be allowed to starve, but lets prove them worthy first, before we put an additional burden on the already sorely harrassed taxpayer. Thank you for doing what you can to stop Mr. Earle's mad plan to sap the very life out of the rest of us who are struggling along trying to keep off the relief rolls."

I have here in my possession a summary of the administrative relief board payroll for the week ending March 16, 1935, for the Counties of Armstrong, Indiana and Jefferson. It discloses the fact that in these three Counties, which are in one set-up, there are 232 persons administering relief. In spite of this huge payroll, Mr. Johnson, State Administrator, under date of April 4th, came out with a statement that additional investigators will be hired by the State Emergency Relief Board. At the head of relief in Armstrong County we have a woman, a so-called social service expert, who does not even come from our section of the State, and who certainly does not know Armstrong County, her people, or conditions there. We have as investigators many young men and women without experience, who come from well-to-do families, while many heads of families who are well qualified for these positions, are on relief and walking the streets.

When formerly the money was allocated direct to the Counties and administered by them, I have a statement from the president of our board of County Commissioners, who had charge of this work, that the most it ever cost in any one month for administration, was one hundred dollars. Usually it ran under this figure. The County and her people were known to the administrative board, and relief was administered fairly, efficiently, and economically, and but a small fractional part of the money that is being used today, was expended then, and yet all deserving cases were taken care of. Today, I am informed, it costs at least $6,000 per month for administration in this same County. Contrast this with $100 per month under County administration. I have every reason to believe that similar conditions prevail all over the State.

A legislative inquiry or investigation is no doubt alright. It will however only disclose those things which we already know are in existence. In this connection I wish to quote a recent editorial in The Pittsburgh Post-Gazette. "As an emergency measure, however, the investigation resolution has one serious defect. An amendment injects an 'if'—if the inquiry is not completed by the end of the current session, the report is to be submitted to the 1937 Legislature. Emergencies are not of a nature to be dealt with leisurely. Economies in relief administration are needed now; waste should not be permitted to accumulate for two more years. What the Legislature can do to promote efficiency in the handling of relief it should do now."

I am not simply attempting to indict the present administration. It is rather the system, or lack of system, that I would condemn. It was wrong under the preceding administration and it is wrong today, and growing worse steadily. The fact is however that it is the duty and obligation of the present administration to lend a hand to clean this up. Bureaucratic and remote control, never have, and never will, work out satisfactorily.

If this monster, which is eating at the very vitals of the Commonwealth, is not destroyed, it will eventually bankrupt and destroy us. I suggest as the solution that one of the several bills now before the Legislature, providing for the abolishing of the State Emergency Relief Board and the allocating of the money direct to the Counties, be passed. I believe it is the duty of the Legislature to get back of this in earnest, and the duty of the administration to help see to it that one of these bills is enacted into law. If this is done, I am confident we will have gone a long way toward solving this tremendously important and vital relief problem.

SPECIAL COMMITTEE ON THE PART OF THE SENATE TO INVESTIGATE RELIEF ADMINISTRATION

The PRESIDENT. The President Pro Tempore of the Senate has appointed the Committee on the question of Relief Administration, and the names will be announced by the Secretary.

The SECRETARY. Members of the special committee to investigate relief administration under the terms of House Resolution No. 110, on the part of the Senate: The Senator from Somerset, Mr. Ealy, the Senator from Berks, Mr. Norton, and the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Rodgers.

PRESIDENT MEMORIALIZED TO CONSIDER CERTAIN PROJECTS FOR PENNSYLVANIA IN PUBLIC WORKS PROGRAM

He also presented extract from the Journal of the House of Representatives, which was twice read as follows and referred to the Committee on Federal Relations:

In the House of Representatives, February 27, 1935.

Whereas, The Federal Government, in order to alleviate unemployment, is developing various useful public works; and

Whereas, There are many water projects which, if developed, would prove beneficial to Pennsylvania and to its citizens, and aid in the development of Commerce; and

Whereas, There has been reported, by the Board of Engineers of the United States Army, under House Document No. 308, 69th Congress, a plan for thirty-two reservoirs projected for power and flood control in the Delaware and Lehigh River Valleys; and

Whereas, There has also been reported and recommended by the same Board of Engineers, as contained in House Document No. 24, 73rd Congress, 2nd Sessions, the deepening and widening of the Delaware and Chesapeake Canal to a ship canal at an estimated cost of $12,500,000; and

Whereas, A Special Board's report, as published in House Document No. 219, 73rd Congress, 2nd Session, details a survey of a ship canal across the State of New Jersey at an estimated N. I. R. A. cost of $210,000,000, a second Panama Canal in importance to the East; and

Whereas, The Lehigh Valley area embraces one of the largest steel manufacturing districts in the country, employing 26,000 people, with $200,000,000 invested in homes and $100,000,000 invested in works; and

Whereas, This same district has a potential investment of upwards of $50,000,000 in cement plans, including moderate progressive replacements, producing in prosperous times 20,000,000 barrels of cement at a production value of $37,000,000; and

Whereas, This same area produces in a normal year 26,000,000 tons of anthracite coal at a production value of $114,400,000, with an estimate of 6,000,000,000 tons of unmined coal appraised at a wealth of $13,000,000,000; and

Whereas, All steel manufacturing plants are seeking water transportation facilities for the more economical handling of their raw materials; and

Whereas, It is reported that the Bethlehem Steel Company has lately invested $20,000,000 in new plants at Buffalo, to thus secure such an outlet; and

Whereas, These great industries in the Lehigh Valley and many others in this rich and populous area are hampered by water competitive rates enjoyed by similar industrial plants in other parts of the country, thus denying added returns in earnings to the people of this dtsirtct, endangering the continuance of the steel industry, restricting the development of the cement industry and excluding our anthracite coal from the New England markets; and

Whereas, The Delaware River water shed, with its numerous industrial cities is served by a vast net work of power lines operated by public utilities able to distribute additional power capable of being generated in this area, at little or no additional cost for distribution; and

Whereas, These plans leave out a most important link in this comprehensive development of this great Valley, namely, the canalization of the Delaware River from Morrisville in Bucks County to Easton in Northampton County to provide water navigation for the industries and cities in the Lehigh River area; particularly to serve the production of cement and coal and to save this great industry to this Commonwealth, thus protecting and benefiting 250,000 people depending directly or indirectly upon these industries; and

Whereas, These projects will put thousands of men to work on construction and other thousands in the manufacture and delivery of materials; and

Whereas, Such a comprehensive all-inclusive Public Works Project of the Delaware River Basin will serve a dense industrial area of upward of 20,000,000 Americans and benefit more people than any other plan under way or contemplated in the whole United States; therefore be it

Resolved (if the Senate concur), That the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania respectfully memorialize the President of the United States to consider the advisability and feasibility of including within the Public Works program the following projects:

(a) The construction of a ship canal across the State of New Jersey from the Delaware River to the Raritan River;

(b) The development of the Delaware and Chesapeake Canal into a ship canal;

(c) The canalization of the Delaware River from Morrisville to Easton;

(d) The development in Pennsylvania of works for flood control and water power looking to a practical and equitable arrangement with the public utilities for distribution of power through the area that shall promise the ultimate ammortization of the capital investment; and be it further

Resolved, If the Governor approve this resolution, he be respectfully requested to urge upon the President the construction of such public works; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be transmitted to the President of the United States by the Secretary of the Commonwealth.

QUESTION OF PERSONAL PRIVILEGE

Mr. REED (Washington). Mr. President, I rise to a question of personal privilege.

The PRESIDENT. The Senator from Washington, Mr. Reed, will state his question of personal privilege.

Mr. REED (Washington). Mr. President, this Senate body has been in session for three months and upwards. Under legal authority it has assembled for the purpose of legislating for the people of Pennsylvania. It not only receives its power to thus convene from the people but it likewise obtains its remuneration from the public moneys of this Commonwealth. Being then employees of the people of this great State, it follows naturally that the members of this Senate should at least endeavor to perform services of sufficient value to compensate the people for the money expended. In contemplating this problem we are forced to consider what has been accomplished by this Senate during its present period of convocation. Determine this question for yourselves, my fellow Senators, and in so doing carefully analyze the record of the number of bills brought into the Senate and likewise the ones that have received final action. You will discover that hundreds of bills are now in committee, many of them dealing with matters of vital importance to the public, and yet, regardless of their importance, delay and procrastination continue to keep them hidden in the dark recesses of committee rooms. Day after day we assemble here, go through a certain perfunctory routine, and then adjourn without accomplishing anything touching the vital problems of the day. And while we thus continue to waste public time the legislative program of a distressed and agitated people remains dormant. After three months of hopeful anticipation, a patient and noble people are gradually becoming aroused, and their hope long deferred is being transformed now into an intensified and holy anger, fortified with a determination to ascertain the cause of their delusion and the consequent reason for this protracted stagnation.

I repeat, they are now fully aroused. From all parts of this great State numerous inquiries are flowing in seeking information concerning the status of presented bills. These inquiries are well founded. The people have a legal and moral right to know, and in the final analysis they shall know. I regret, that this criticism, just or unjust, is beginning to touch on the question of the efficiency and integrity of this Senate.

Investigation of these complaints generally leads into some committee room where secrecy prevails and over whose sacred portals ofttimes hovers the invisible inscription "All hope abandon bills that enter here." But our people are demanding that this inscription be removed and that faith and hope be restored. They are insisting that a full revelation of the action of us Senators, as their servants, be now and henceforth had. They want to know what is transpiring behind closed committee room doors. Their demand is no an unreasonable one, and in order to provide for a fulfillment of their rightful desire, I ask permission, Mr. President, to speak for them and in so doing offer the following resolution:

RESOLUTION RELATIVE TO AMENDING THE RULES OF THE SENATE

Whereas, the Senate of Pennsylvania is composed of members elected by the people of Pennsylvania and in consequence of such election become agents of the people; and

Whereas, all bills introduced in the Assembly have for their ultimate purpose the promotion of the general welfare of the people of Pennsylvania; and

Whereas, bills coming into the Senate are referred to appropriate committees for consideration; and

Whereas, many bills referred to committees are disposed of therein without any record or report of the vote of the members thereon or of the final action taken;

Therefore, In order that the action of all committees on all committed bills be made a matter of public record,

It is hereby resolved that it shall be the duly of the chairman of each and every committee of this Senate, and in the absence of the chairman, the Senator in charge, to bring before the committee, within a reasonable time after its reference, every bill received, for study and consideration, after which a vote of the committee shall be taken on the question of an affirmative or negative report, which vote shall be by yeas and nays, and a correct record thereof shall be kept by the chairman, or, in his absence, by the Senator in charge, who shall promptly thereafter make a written report to the Senate on the final action taken on each and every bill, and how each and every member voted, which report shall be read in the open Senate and entered in the Senate Journal; and that the President Pro Tempore of the Senate appoint a committee of three (3) Senators to prepare an amendment to the Rules of this Senate, consistent herewith and covering the subject embodied in this Resolution and submit the same to this Senate for final action.

Mr. REED (Washington). Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that Rule 39, which requires resolutions to be referred to an appropriate committee, be suspended, and that the Senate proceed to the immediate consideration of the resolution just read.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I object.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair hears objection. Under the rules of the Senate the resolution will be referred to the proper committee, the Committee on Rules.

COMMUNICATIONS FROM THE GOVERNOR

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced presented communications in writing from His Excellency the Governor of the Commonwealth, which were read as follows:

RESOLUTION RELATIVE TO STATE EMERGENCY RELIEF

April 15, 1935.

To the Honorable, the Members of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

I respectfully submit the following extract from the minutes of the special meeting of the State Emergency Relief Board held Friday, April 12, 1935:

"Upon motion of Speaker Sarig, seconded by Mr. Waters, it was

"'Resolved, That the Legislature be requested to pass adequate tax legislation during the week of April 15, 1935, so that unemployment relief in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania will not terminate on Monday, April 22, 1935.'"

The resolution set forth above was adopted pursuant to a report which I submitted to the State Emergency Relief Board following a conference which I had with Federal Emergency Relief Administrator Harry L. Hopkins and State Relief Administrator Robert L. Johnson on Thursday, April 11th, in Washington.

At that conference, the Federal Emergency Relief Administrator repeated the notice which he gave at a prior conference on March 25th that further relief disbursements to Pennsylvania would be withheld after April 15, unless this Commonwealth enacts tax legislation insuring Pennsylvania's contribution of $5,000,000 monthly as its fair share of the present approximate $20,000,000 monthly relief costs in this State when the revenues from such tax legislation become available.

The Federal Emergency Relief Administrator further pointed out that Pennsylvania had been allotted $68,000,000 since January 1, 1935, without putting up a single dollar of its own funds for unemployment relief.

Of that total, $10,725,000 had been allocated during the present month.

As a result of the developments above recited, Pennsylvania finds itself in the position today of having funds on hand sufficient to carry on unemployment relief only until the end of this week—that is, April 20th.

In view of the urgency of the situation, I request that the General Assembly remain in session for the remainder of the present week, for a sufficient number of Legislative days in which to pass adequate tax legislation which will assure the Federal Government that the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania intends in good faith to provide its fair share of the burden of unemployment relief.

Such legislation must be enacted if starvation privation and indescribable hardships are to be avoided for the 2,000,000 Pennsylvanians now on the relief rolls.

GEORGE H. EARLE.

The PRESIDENT. The communication is referred to the committee handling financial matters, to wit, the Committee on Finance.

VETO OF SENATE BILL NO. 56

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, April 12, 1935.

To the Honorable, the Senate of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

I return herewith, without my approval, Senate Bill No. 56, Printer's No. 9, entitled, "An Act to amend clause (d) of section ten of the act approved the first day of May one thousand nine hundred and twenty-nine (P. L. 1216) entitled 'An act to define real estate brokers and real estate salesmen and providing for the licensing regulation and supervision of resident and nonresident real estate brokers and real estate salesmen and their business' as amended by defining the powers of the courts on appeals from the Department of Public Instruction."

The present law provides that when a real estate broker's license is suspended or revoked, after a hearing by the Department of Public Instruction, the appeal therefrom shall be heard by the judge or judges of the Court of Common Pleas of Dauphin County, without a jury, and the department's findings and rulings shall be given similar weight, force and effect as are accorded to the findings and report of a referee selected or appointed under the provisions of the act entitled "An act to provide for the submission of civil cases by agreement of the parties to a referee learned in the law," approved May 14, 1874.

The present bill provides that the court shall fully scrutinize both the fact and the law and may, in its discretion, receive and consider any additional pertinent evidence, whether oral or written, either in open court or by depositions, as the said court shall direct.

The Department of Public Instruction is opposed to the proposed change in the law. Numerous protests against the approval of this bill have been filed by various real estate boards throughout the State of Pennsylvania. The reason is chiefly that it will make it far more expensive to enforce the real estate law, for the reason that witnesses from distant parts of the State who are called before the real estate board to testify, may have to appear a second time, before the Dauphin County Court, at some subsequent date, and many complainants, rather than appear the second time, at their own expense, from distant parts of the State, will not appear. As a result, defendants may be discharged because of failure of complainant to appear before the court and the enforcement of the law will be practically nullified.

For the reasons I have given, the bill is not approved.

GEORGE H. EARLE.

Mr. REED (Dauphin). Mr. President, and gentlemen of the Senate, I desire to call the attention of the Senate, and particularly of the Senator from Washington, Mr. Reed, who so eloquently spoke a few moments ago, to the fact that this bill passed the Senate on February 11th by a vote of 49 to 0, and on March the 27th passed the House of Representatives by a vote of 199 to 0. This bill has received, therefore, the unanimous assent of both Houses of the Legislature, and I am wondering what is the use of the Legislature passing bills if bills of this character, bills of this importance, for no reason at all, are to be vetoed by the Governor.

Mr. GRAFF. Mr. President, I second the motion.

BILL RECOMMITTED

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, I move that Senate Bill No. 839, on third reading, entitled:

An Act transferring money from the Veterans' Compensation Fund to the General Fund, and appropriating the same to the State Emergency Relief Board; and providing for the subsequent return from the General Fund of the transferred money be recommitted to the Committee on Appropriations for further study.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

BILLS ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 840, entitled:

An Act transferring money from the Liquor License Fund to the General Fund, and appropriating the same to the State Emergency Relief Board; and providing for the subsequent return from the General Fund of the transferred money.

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. LAW. Mr. President, I want to call attention again, as I did when the question was up before on the resolution about these bills, that these transfers of funds which have been set aside and pledged to the various municipalities throughout the State, and on that pledge those municipalities have levied their taxes,—if now the money is transferred, it is going to force back upon the people in the home communities more taxes.

One of the things we are down here to do is to relieve the tax on real estate, and we certainly cannot do it if we pass such a bill as this. We are here on a definite program, and I appeal to all members to get together on some definite proposition for some revenue program to take care of the Commonwealth for the next two years.

Mr. McCLURE. Mr. President, this bill provides for the return of this money to the Liquor License Fund on December 31st fo this year.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, with deference to the opinion of my colleague, the Senator from Delaware, Mr. McClure, I would like to call attention to the fact that although these transfers are recommended by the Committee on Finance, still no tax program appears which will reimburse any of these funds; the only tax program calculated to reimburse any of these funds from which we are about to take money has been the tax program which has been presented to us by His Excellency, the Governor.

It seems to me, as we approach consideration of Senate Bills Nos. 840, 841, 842 and 843 it demonstrates the deplorable inconsistency of the action of this body. It has been only a few moments ago that my colleague, the Senator from Armstrong, Mr. Graff, rose to a question of personal privilege, and spoke then in glowing terms of the deficiencies of the State Emergency Relief Board in its operation, and protested against the collecting of further funds for the support of the relief activities until such relief activities were cleaned up.

Now, if it is wrong to pass legislation enacting tax measures in support of a wrong activity, it is likewise wrong to enact transfers of funds for that purpose. If one action is wrong, the other is wrong also. Now, in connection with the remarks of my colleague, the Senator from Armstrong, Mr. Graff, let me call your attention to the fact that the remarks he made about levying a taxing program until the relief situation is entirely straightened out are entirely beside the point. These bills that are before this Senate at this time have passed the lower House; they came into the Legislature with the recommendation of the Governor, and they are not appropriation bills; they are taxing measures. The appropriation bills for relief purposes are, as far as I know today, in neither House.

Now, there is not anyone in this State that wants to correct the abuses that exist in this present relief situation more than I do; but whether those abuses exist or not, we have got to have taxes—not only to promote the relief agencies of this State government but to finance the ordinary activities of the State government. Last week I stated on the floor of this Senate that we were seven weeks away from the end of this biennium; now we are only six weeks away from the end of the biennium, and not one single tax measure has been enacted.

We have got to know what the revenues of this State are going to be before we can plan our ordinary as well as the extraordinary expenditures of this State government; and I say to you, Mr. President, that it behooves this body to pass some kind of tax measures. If the Relief Administration does not measure up to the standard we want it to, we can take that question up when it comes time to appropriate money to the relief agencies. It is no excuse at all to delay the passage of substantial tax measures on account of any bad conditions existing in the Relief Administration. Let that be taken up after this committee has reported and before our Appropriation Bill has passed. But I say to you, Mr. President, that it is a miscarriage of every angle of the whole situation to enact legislation such as is represented by these bills and at the same time let linger in committee tax measures without any true program of any other kind to substitute in their stead.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I would like to interrogate the Senator from Centre, Mr. Thompson.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Centre, Mr. Thompson, permit himself to be interrogated.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, I will.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Centre, Mr. Thompson, what point in the Governor's program he considers would raise any relief money between now and the end of this biennium.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, relief for what purposes?

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, for general purposes, for general relief.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, I think the Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman, has been sufficiently informed that we are not called upon to provide money but to demonstrate, by levying taxes, our good faith with the Federal Government, assuring the Federal Government that revenues will be provided. I have never seen one communication as yet, Mr. President, from the Governor or from Mr. Hopkins or from anyone else that said we have to have so much money in our pockets; all that Mr. Hopkins or anyone has asked of us is that we provide a business-like program to take care of the fiscal necessities of this State government.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I would like to ask the Senator from Centre, Mr. Thompson, who it is that doles out this money to the great Commonwealth of Pennsylvania from the Federal Government.

Mr. THOMPSON (Centre). Mr. President, I think the Senator from Bucks, Mr. Buckman, is sufficiently cognizant of the mechanics of the Relief Administration that I do not need to go into an explanation of that kind.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, in view of the answers of the Senator from Centre, Mr. Thompson, it appears that he does not care to answer my questions—and, of course, he is not obliged to; but let me remind you, Mr. President and members of this Senate, that it has never been the custom of this Senate to pass revenue measures until we know what the appropriation demand upon us will be. Apparently someone has said that Pennsylvania cannot have any more relief from the Federal Government unless we pass a tax program for the next two years. Who is this Caesar, that he has become so fat, that he should be able to tell us what we shall do here in Pennsylvania? Or, must we carry out his instructions and his will and wishes, in order that we may have any of that money which is our money?

Mr. PRESIDENT, if order is not to be maintained, I shall make a motion to clear the galleries and the corridors of the Senate.

The PRESIDENT. Let us have order.

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I say that this is our business; it has been our custom in years gone by, and it will be done by a majority of the Senate at this time; but it would be idle for us to pass a revenue program until we know what demands are going to be made upon us by the revenue bills yet to come from the House; and I, for one, do not wish to be a party to passing any revenue bills until we know what is going to be needed, and for what purpose that revenue is to be used.

As far as these bills now before us are concerned, I believe it is our duty to appropriate sufficient money to meet the necessities between now and June 1st, and I ask the members of this body to pass these appropriation bills.

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, the purpose of the appropriation deserves the praise of all members of this Senate without distinction. The relief of the needy and unemployed, Mr. President, is rightly the duty of the government they support, obey and defend in peace and in war.

Let me quote the words of a Republican Governor of this Commonwealth with reference to the needy and unemployed:

"Thrown out of employment they must become what are known in this country as 'tramps,' and the man who would work for a living if he could get employment is remitted to the highway and to want. Under the ragged clothes of a man called a tramp there may beat a heart as faithful to the government as yours, and no man with proper feeling will refuse a crust of bread to hungry humanity thrown out of work, and cast upon charity, even though he is called by the opprobrious name of tramp."

Mr. PRESIDENT, we agree with the Republican Senators upon the laudable purpose for which the money is transferred and appropriated.

In conclusion, Mr. President, we wish to inform the Republican members of this Senate that this bill, as well as several others, were introduced under a misapprehension.

As we understand, the Republican members labor under the belief that the Federal Government requires a monthly outlay of five million dollars in "ready cash" as a prerequisite to the extension of federal aid.

This, Mr. President, is not the requirement.

No "ready cash" is demanded and none is immediately required.

The only requirement is that we enact a budget and tax programme sufficiently adequate to insure this commonwealth's good faith in providing its contributive share of Emergency Relief for a reasonable time in advance.

It is unfortunate that a misapprehension of this character should happen at this time.

We believe that this misapprehnsion is responsible for much of the antagonism engendered between this Senate, the House of Representatives, and His Excellency the Governor, in the last few weeks. We wish this had not happened.

We trust that they will accept our sincere invitation to defeat this bill, as well as others of this nature, so that this Senate may presently enter upon the arduous and necessary task of enacting for the people a sound, adequate and balanced budget for the coming fiscal biennium.

Mr. President, if this invitation is accepted we can harmoniously proceed to satisfy the federal requirement; enact an adequate budget for the Commonwealth; create a sphere of confidence between this Senate, the House of Representatives and His Excellency, the Governor; and inspire with confidence and jubilation the people that we represent.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante.

The PRESIDENT. Will the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. CAVALCANTE. Mr. President, with pleasure.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I desire to ask the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, whether or not the next four bills on the calendar will provide $5,000,000 for relief.

Mr. CAVALANTE. Mr. President, I trust that the Senator from Allegheny County, Mr. Harris, has at least read the bills. I read them—I have read them very carefully, and I wish to inform the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Harris, that that is what the bills provide.

Mr. HARRIS. Mr. President, I understand then, from the Senator from Fayette, Mr. Cavalcante, that the next four bills on the calendar provide $5,000,000 for relief, and that they are the only bills now on the calendar that will give any relief to the State of Pennsylvania.

Now, Mr. President, I desire to inform my Democratic colleagues that only a few weeks ago, on the matter of transfer,—for old age pensions and for the blind, relief was applied, and bills similar to these were passed, on a vote of 38 to 6, including every Democratic member of this body. The entire program, on the same number of bills for almost the same purposes, was voted on by every Democratic member.

Mr. PRINCE. Mr. President, I think considerable truth has been uttered on both sides of this House tonight. I shall vote for these bills, for they provide cash which I understand must be provided before the end of this week; but I want to take occasion to say, in that connection—and I hope my words will not be interpreted as raising the white flag of surrender or beating a retreat before the heavy artillery barrage of His Excellency, the Governor—I want to state the position I hold, although not vocally expressed, ever since this session began.

I am convinced there are many good tax bills in the Governor's program. We must raise money, and I do not know how it can be raised more equitably than through certain of these measures; and I hope that they will be released from the committee where they are now held before very long.

Mr. McGINNIS. Mr. President, as I stated last week, I feel that we are merely shadow boxing here and wasting time. The Senators know that the House last week had this same question up, and passed a resolution denying transfer of these funds; and we, over on this side of the Legislature, in spite of that, bring up these bills, when we know that when they go over to the House—if they stick to what they did last week—they will be turned down. That will have but one effect—it will waste two or three days more of legislative time; and it does seem that there is a studied effort here in this body to waste time. We are not getting anywhere and a mere transfer of these funds, as I see it, is not necessary, is not demanded. The Federal Government has been pouring money into this State—$68,000,000, I believe, this year—and they will pour more money in here; but what the Federal Government does want is some definite program instead of shifting funds back and forth. It is true, a few weeks ago we all voted for the transfer of funds; but I will say that the Democratic House, on the heels of that, offered tax legislation to raise those funds—to raise funds to replace the funds we were taking.

Here we offer to transfer these funds but offer nothing to take their place, offer nothing to replenish the funds. Now, I feel that these bills should go over, in order that we may have a week here to decide what we are going to do, if we are going to do anything this week. We are advised by the Governor that it is not necessary to have actual cash; that we would be in much better shape if we offered some definite tax program rather than shifting funds.

So, Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the bill go over in its order.

The PRESIDENT. Is there objection?

Mr. BUCKMAN. Mr. President, I object.

The PRESIDENT. The Chair hear objection.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

The yeas and nays were aken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. THOMPSON (Center). Mr. President, I think that this bill perhaps as much as any one bill of this series that we are now voting on, demonstrates the utter futility of a measure of this kind. When I arose to speak against the resolution last week, there was a balance of $2,019,000.00 in this fund. This bill would take $2,000,000.00 of that money for the one purpose, leaving the fund practically exhausted, with only $19,000 in the fund. It shows that by measures of this kind, in effect, what we are doing is overthrowing the normal agencies of our State government. Certainly we want to provide for the poor and needy, but we at the same time must carry on the ordinary machinery of our State government and we cannot do it by these measures.

The House met at 9:00 P. M.

The SPEAKER (Wilson G. Sarig) in the Chair.

PRAYER

The Reverend E. K. Nichols, Pastor of Bethel A. M. E. Church, Harrisburg, offered the following prayer:

O God, Our Father, we have been taught in Thy word that man ought always to pray and not to faint. Certainly it is within our experience, facing the conflicts and trials of life that men need always to pray. We are insufficient within ourselves for the trials and temptations and conflicts of our lives, and especially do we feel that these men and women who are gathered here in this legislative assembly representing the great hosts of their constituency of this our beloved Commonwealth. We feel in our hearts that they are deeply sensible of their need of Thee. Give them wisdom, O God, give them unselfish spirits, give them the courage of their convictions, give them willingness to cooperate, even to the loss of many things which they personally may hold dear, feeling that it is far better that some pet measures shall fail of enactment than that a whole people perish. May we serve all these legislators and citizens alike as best we may the highest good of all.

Bless him who is the Governor of the State and those who are associated with him in directing the affairs of our beloved state. Give him wisdom and judgment and strength of heart and mind to direct the affairs of government aright in these crucial times. May all be possessed with the spirit of cooperation and unity. May we see one another, not as men of different races and conditions, but members of one great family that is facing great trials, and all working towards one common end, the fullness of life to the last man.

We can not accomplish the great purposes we ought accomplish save as we approach them in the spirit of the lowly Christ in whom none are Christian or Jew, bond or free, but all are one.

In His name we make this petition. Amen.

RESOLUTION

CONGRATULATIONS TO HON. FRANK BERNHARD

Mr. CORDIER offered the following resolution which was twice read, considered and adopted.

In the House of Representatives, April 15, 1935.

Yesterday, old Father Time chalked up Frank Bernard roaring by his fiftieth milestone.

Frank Bernhard, who, fifty years young, periodically deserts the quiet, drowsing, sleepy, fool-proof job of pulling a throttle on the Central Railroad of New Jersey for the excitement and action of the Pennsylvania House of Representatives.

A soldier's son who apparently takes to the smell of bituminous smoke as his father did to the smell of burnt powder; anyway, be it

Resolved, That the Members of this body wish to our brother member, Frank Bernhard, for the rest of his earthly run, a good road bed, no grades or curves over one per cent, the locomotive of his own choice, a fireman with a strong back, no more than a caboose or two filled with his friends to haul, all green lights, and at least fifty more milestones to roar by before the end of the run; and, be it further

Resolved, That a copy of this resolution be handed to the Honorable Frank Bernhard after the reading clerk has saluted him as follows:

Toot! Toot! Toot!

MOTON TO DISCHARGE COMMITTEE

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I move that House Bill No. 1361, Printer's No. 557, offered by Messrs. Sowers, Moore, Reynolds, Jackson, Gates, Merrell, Van Allsburg, Condon, Wasserman, Hart and Trout, and entitled "An Act imposing a State income tax on all residents of this Commonwealth, including fiduciaries, and an income on non-residents derived from property or business in this Commonwealth defining taxable income and requiring filing of returns thereof; providing for information at source; providing methods and proceedings for determination and collection of the tax imposition of liens therefor; imposing duties on prothonotaries, sheriffs, receivers, trustees, assignees, masters and other officers and on the Department of Revenue; prescribing penalties; and making an appropriation" and which was referred to the Commitee on Ways and Means on March 6, 1935 and reported on April 9, 1935 with a negative recommendation. be placed upon the calendar.

Mr. JACKSON. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the motion?

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, the motion that you have before you is to place on the calendar an income tax bill levying a flat income tax on all income. There is offered an amending bill to this bill classifying income and of course this bill passed by itself without the amending bill would be of little value.

Now, the issue is brought squarely before the House as to whether or not you are for an income tax graduated, but the bill that you have is not a graduate income tax; it is different.

Our Constitution provides that we can not impose taxes unless they are uniform. Our Constitution provides that the legislature may classify the subjects of taxation and then impose a uniform tax on each class. The bill that is now under consideration is a bill classifying income and then imposing the tax on each class.

That theory in this bill is different from every income tax bill that has been presented in this House. The theory of the other income tax bills has been graduation; the theory of this bill is classification of incomes according to the ability of the tax payer to pay; in other words, the income that is from nothing up to $2500 is taxed at one percent; the income that is from nothing on up and over and above $150,000 is taxed at eleven percent.

Now, the great hue and cry has been that Pennsylvania should pass an income tax bill. The authorities of all the states, all the leading text books all provide that in cases of clauses like we have in our constitution, then the legislature can classify the subject matter and impose a tax on each class.

Now, the theory back of this bill and that of House Bill No. 1362 is identical with what was adopted on the original Workmen's Compensation bill when that was presented to this House. All labor including domestic servants and farm labor was included, and then the amending bill was passed eliminating farm labor and domestic servants.

The theory back of House Bills 1361 and 1632 is identical with the original bill that imposes taxation on liquid fuel. When the original bill was presented imposing taxes on liquid fuel, gasoline, kerosene, and all other liquid fuels were included because it was found that in order to comply with the constitution all liquid fuels are fixed as to class and then the tax placed on that class. Then it was followed by supplementary legislation exempting all liquid fuels other than gasoline. If you are for an income tax, if you really believe that an income tax is the proper thing for Pennsylvania to have, then I respectfully request all of the members of this House, whether they be Democratic or Republican to step up and vote "aye" to place this bill on the calendar.

Mr. RUTH. Mr. Speaker, I ask the members of the House to vote against this motion because we have an income tax bill and we will report it out of Committee tomorrow on second reading.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, may I interrogate the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Ruth?

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Berks, Mr. Ruth, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. RUTH. I will, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. SOWERS. Is it not the platform principle of both the Republican and Democratic parties to ascertain and pass an income tax graduating or classifying the incomes so that those receiving larger incomes shall pay a higher rate of tax?

Mr. RUTH. Mr. Speaker, House Bill No. 1473 does exactly what the gentleman from Philadelphia says.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, is it not a fact that House Bill 1473 has the theory of graduation in it and not of classification?

Mr. RUTH. Mr. Speaker, that is correct.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, does the gentleman not think it would be better to comply with the constitution and classify the incomes and impose a rate of taxation on each class so as to avoid al probability of an unfavorable "decision"?

Mr. RUTH. Mr. Speaker, that is his opinion. As soon as House Bill 1473 has passed both houses and has been signed by the Governor the Supreme Court will immediately act on it and decide whether it is or not. It is every man's opinion now.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House. There is one phase of this discussion that has not been brought directly to the attention of the membership of this House. The Democratic majority of this House at the beginning of this session let it be broadcast throughout this House and through the state that there would be no attempt by the Democratic majority to stifle bills in committee, but that every opporunity would be given to the membership of this House to vote for or against the measures.

I sincerely believed the Democratic majority intended to fulfil that pledge when it was made, but they stand behind a technical way of killing the bill. The Ways and Means Committee controlled by the Democratic majority of this House in order to stop a vote on this bill, in order to stop every man from being reported either "aye" or "no," has reported it out with a negative recommendation which is tantamount to killing this bill in that it shall not have a vote.

The Democrats ought to be magnanimous. When they started this session they said that eighty-five members could discharge a committee, and they said that eighty-five members could place this bill upon the calendar. So in order that they might be like the Greeks bearing gifts, knowing that it takes 105 votes to get a bill on the calendar, that is reported with a negative recommendation they very cutely and very slyly report this important measure out with a negative recommendation in order that they may not have to go on record either for or against this measure.

I do not care whether you vote "aye" or whether you vote "no" when the measure comes up, but if you want to fulfill that which you promised at the beginning of the session you would, then I say it is your duty to let this bill come upon the calendar. This is not a vote either for or against this income tax bill. This is merely a vote as to whether or not you are going to vote one way or the other on the bill, and if you have the courage of your convictions and you are opposed to this bill that is your business and the business of the Democratic majority and the individual members thereof, but at least give us an opportunity of voting upon this bill, and let us put the bill on the calendar.

The gentleman from Berks, Mr. Ruth, calls your attention that tomorrow they will report out a bill. He knows that that is mere subterfuge; that is a different kind of a bill. By voting "aye" or "no" on that bill you will not necessarily be recorded on this particular income tax bill. So I say to the membership of this House vote "aye" so that you will have the opportunity to vote for or against the bill, and be courageous enough to place it on the calendar.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I think the members on this side of the House, for the benefit of the record, do not wish to have the members of the Republican minority tell us what we are voting for. The motion as presented in this House is to put the bill on the calendar. It had been reported by the committee negatively. By the reading of your histories you can so ascertain that. In simple words that means that the majority members of the Ways and Means Committee did not feel that this was a suitable bill for the consideration of the members of this House.

Now, those opinions were not facetious; that idea was not just conjured up in order to present the problem here, by the members of the Ways and Means Committee but good logic dictated that the bill is not suitable for the consideration of this House.

In the first place the bill applies twenty-five per cent of the income derived under that bill for pensions to the aged. If the membership of this House can remember they will know that at one time we appropriated twenty millions of dollars from the anticipated profit from the Liquor Control Board for the aged. That was a beautiful gesture but it accomplished nothing. In adition to that this bill provides that fifty per cent of the income derived thereunder shall be implied to the general fund. If this bill is a tax raising measure the general fund can anticipate to get fifty per cent of the moneys that may accrue from this bill, but there still remains a great possibility that this bill might be declared unconstitutional, and I say to the members of this House that this bill is not a suitable bill to which we should give our consideration because we cannot afford to have the anticipated revenues of this Commonwealth subject to the danger that this bill might be declared unconstitutional.

The bill to which the gentleman from Berks refers is a bill that does not impose any obligation on the general fund, but is a bill to relieve pressure of local taxes in local school districts. The bill can be declared unconstitutional without in any manner jeopardizing the finances of this Commonwealth, but if we finance this Commonwealth for the next biennium by passing the measure, it may be declared unconstitutional, and we are exposing all of the Commonwealth's activities to run at a decided loss, a far greater loss than is now being presented in the current biennium of the fifty million dollar deficit left by the last administration.

We can finance this Commonwealth with the solid dollar we must finance this Commonwealth with revenue which we know is going to come in, and not with revenue from which the Commonwealth might be deprived by a decision of the Supreme Court. I ask the members of this House to vote against this motion.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, I want to reply to my friend from York, Mr. Cohen. I first want to say to my Democratic friends, are you not for old age pensions? If you are, then his objection falls. If you are for an income tax, be for one now. As long as I have been in the hall of this legislature, I have heard the cry "We should have an income tax." Every time an effort has been made to force a bill on the floor of the House the argument of unconstitutionality has been raised.

I understand my Democratic friends clamor for an income tax. If they had produced a bill and it had been reported early in this session they could have had its constitutionality tested by this time by the courts.

I submit to you that you either want an income tax or that you are merely arguing, merely thowing dust into the eyes of the public to deceive them. Your whole argument of unconstitutionality amounts to nothing.

Let me read you a little principle of law: "The legislature may exercise wide discretion in selecting and classifying the subjects of taxation, and may arrange and divide the various subjects of taxation into distinct classes and impose different rates on the several classes without violating the requirements of equality and uniformity, provided the tax is uniform on all members of the same class, and provided that the classification is reasonable, and provided that it is not arbitrary."

Now, the classification set up in House Bill No. 1362 is reasonable, is not arbitrary, and if you honestly and sincerely want this matter to go to the Supreme Court for a decision as quickly as possible, you will stand up and say "aye," put this bill on the calendar and let the people of Pennsylvania know that you sincerely intend to keep your promises.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from York, Mr. Cohen.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from York, Mr. Cohen, permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, did not the gentleman from York, on the floor of this House at the beginning of this session state that the Democratic party was generous in that it was reducing the number of votes to discharge a committee from one hundred five to eighty-five?

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, may I ask if the gentleman from Philadelphia is quoting my exact words?

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, no, I am not. Did the gentleman not in substance state to members of this House that the Democratic party was going to enable more easily the discharge of a committee from the consideration of a bill by reducing the number from one hundred five to eighty-five?

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I at that time told the membership of this House that they need have no fear that the Democratic party would stifle any good social legislation. I undoubtedly think that in those words might be included the thought suggested by the gentleman from Philadelphia. The fact still remains that the rules for discharging a committee has been reduced from the constitutional majority one hundred five to eighty-five.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, so that it is a fact is it not, that the Democratic majority at the beginning of the session reduced the number of votes to discharge a committee from one hundred five to eighty-five?

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. O'KEEFE. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Allegheny will state his point of order.

Mr. O'KEEFE. The gentleman is not talking on the motion before the House.

The SPEAKER. The question before the House is on the motion to place this bill on the calendar notwithstanding the negative recommendation of the committee and the gentleman will please confine himself to that question.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman answer the question?

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman please repeat the question?

Mr. WITKIN. Is it not a fact, Mr. Speaker, that the Rules Committee composed entirely of Democrats suggested to this House and this House reduced the number of votes required to discharge from one hundred five to eighty-five?

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. O'KEEFE. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Allegheny will state his point of order.

Mr. O'KEEFE. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman is still continuing the interrogation and not talking on the motion before the House.

The SPEAKER. The point of order is well taken and the gentleman from Philadelphia will confine his interrogation to the question before the House.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from York this question: "Is it not a fact that about a week or ten days ago or rather on April 8, 1935, the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sowers, made a motion to discharge this committee from further consideration of House Bill 1361?"

If that motion had been permitted to have been placed before the House it would have required only eighty-five votes to put the bill on the calendar? Answer that question "yes" or "no", please.

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I can only say, in answer to the gentleman from Philadelphia, that whatever motion may have been made by the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sowers, that motion was withdrawn by Mr. Sowers himself.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, is not the gentleman aware of the fact that the reason it was withdrawn was because the Ways and Means Committee agreed to meet the next morning to consider this bill?

Mr. COHEN. Mr. Speaker, I imagine it to be the fact, inasmuch as the bill has come out with a negative recommendation, that they did consider it.

Mr. WITKIN. Is it not a fact, Mr. Speaker,—

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. KILROY. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia will state his point of order.

Mr. KILROY. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Philadelphia asked permission to interrogate the gentleman from York. To my mind he is holding a conversation on the floor.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia will proceed and confine himself to the question before the House.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, apparently the Democratic membership of this House does not desire to permit the gentleman from York to answer any questions. Apparently, also, the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Kilroy, is unable to distinguish between an interrogation and a conversation.

However, members of the House, the history of this bill is quite simple, and the tactics employed by the Democratic majority in this House are even simpler than that.

There was a motion made to place this bill on the calendar. That motion was made by the sponsor or one of the sponsors of this bill. It would have required but eighty-five votes in order to place that bill on the calendar. The bill had remained dormant in committee from the date of its introduction, I believe, if I am correct, about thirty days without any action on the part of the committee. When a motion to discharge was made, the Democratic Ways and Means Committee agreed to consider the bill the next morning.

I say to the membership of this House that when the Democratic majority the next morning reported the bill out with a negative recommendation, they knew well that by so doing they would stop what they said they were going to permit us to do, to wit, to get votes upon bills without killing them in committee, and I say to the Democratic majority of this House the only reason why they reported the bill out with a negative recommendation was because they wanted to stop it from being voted upon by this House. I also say to the Democratic majority of this House that by so doing you really played the part of giving us nothing when you gave us the rule of eighty-five to discharge a committee. I say further to the membership of this House and I reiterate in conclusion that you ought to vote on the merits of this bill. You have been a great liberal party, so you say, in this state, you are not going to stop the people from the right to vote. If that is true, then you should turn about face in this session and permit us to vote on this bill.

The gentleman from York makes the ridiculous argument that the constitutionality of this bill will be questioned and that the constitutionality of House Bill No. 1473, we are told is going to be tested once, as soon as it is enacted into law. The gentleman from Berks, Mr. Ruth, the majority floor leader, has said "pass it in the House, pass it in the Senate, and we will get a quick decision, so that" while we, he I assume he means, "we will know whether it is constitutional." So if that goes for 1473, it also goes for our 1361; "pass it in the House, pass it in the Senate" and it will receive the same quick decision. If you are going to act on 1473, act upon 1361, and don't give us that sort of an argument, because we on this side of the House as some of you on that side of the House know, that argument is most fallacious. Vote "aye" on this bill and don't kill it.

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sowers.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Sowers, permit himself to be interrogated.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I will.

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker, I would like to ask the gentleman from Philadelphia, inasmuch as this is an income tax bill, what is the smallest income that is taxed?

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, from nothing on up to twenty-five hundred dollars granting exemptions to single persons, and to married persons and exemptions for children; that is, an exemption of a thousand dollars for a single person—the same, I believe as the federal law—and four hundred dollars for each dependent child.

This bill is drafted along the lines of the Democratic income tax law that is now enforced by the national government.

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker, did I understand the gentleman, from Philadelphia, to say that all incomes up to fifteen hundred dollars for single persons are exempt from taxation?

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman did not understand me rightly.

POINT OF ORDER

Mr. EBERHARTER. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a point of order.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Eberharter, will state his point of order.

Mr. EBERHARTER. Mr. Speaker, I submit that the interrogation is out of order, for the reason that it is not on the question before the House. The question before the House is whether or not this bill should be placed on the calendar, not the terms of the bill.

The SPEAKER. The point of order is well taken. The merits of the bill are not under discussion.

Mr. MORAN. Mr. Speaker, before we vote on the bill, we ought to know something about it.

QUESTION OF PARLIAMENTARY INQUIRY

Mr. OMINSKY. Mr. Speaker, I rise to a question of parliamentary inquiry.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia will state his question of parliamentary inquiry.

Mr. OMINSKY. Mr. Speaker, under rule No. 38, am I to understand that more than five days have elapsed since this bill was reported negatively on the floor of this House? As I understand it, the bill was recommitted on April 9, I believe, that is six days since the report has been made negatively up to this time.

The SPEAKER. The Chair will state that heretofore under all rulings of this House, five days have been regarded as five legislative days. Unless they are specifically mentioned as five calendar days.

Mr. WASSERMAN. Mr. Speaker and members of the House, as one of the sponsors of House Bill No. 1361, I am in accord with the views of the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Moran, when he says how can we vote upon this measure without knowing what is in the measure. For that reason I think we ought to vote "aye" in order to place it on the calendar so that we may have an opportunity to discuss the merits of this bill, together with the merits of the other income tax bills. If the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Moran, will vote "aye" then we will have that opportunity, and if his other colleagues on the other side of the House will vote "aye" to place it upon the calendar, then we will have a good opportunity to discuss this bill.

The yeas and nays were required by Mr. WITKIN and Mr. SOWERS.

Mr. WITKIN. Mr. Speaker, I ask for a verification of the roll.

The roll was veried and was as follows,

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, April 15, 1935.

To the Honorable, the Members of the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

I respectfully submit the following extract from the minutes of the special meeting of the State Emergency Relief Board held Friday, April 12, 1935:

"Upon motion of Speaker Sarig, seconded by Mr. Waters, it was

'Resolved, That the Legislature be requested to pass adequate tax legislation during the week of April 15, 1935, so that unemployment relief in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania will not terminate on Monday, April 22, 1935.'"

The resolution set forth above was adopted pursuant to a report which I submitted to the State Emergency Relief Board following a conference which I had with Federal Emergency Relief Administrator Harry L. Hopkins and State Relief Administrator Robert L. Johnson on Thursday, April 11, in Washington.

At that conference, the Federal Emergency Relief Administrator repeated the notice which he gave at a prior conference on March 25th, that further relief disbursements to Pennsylvania would be withheld after April 15, unless this Commonwealth enacts tax legislation insuring Pennsylvania's contribution of $5,000,000 monthly as its fair share of the present approximate $20,000,000 monthly relief costs in this State when the revenues from such tax legislation become available.

The Federal Emergency Relief Administrator further pointed out that Pennsylvania had been allotted $68,000,000 since January 1, 1935, without putting up a single dollar of its own funds for unemployment relief.

Of that total, $10,725,000 had been allocated during the present month.

As a result of the developments above recited, Pennsylvania finds itself in the position today of having funds on hand sufficient to carry on unemployment relief only until the end of this week—that is, April 20.

In view of the urgency of the situation, I request that the General Assembly remain in session for the remainder of the present week, for a sufficient number of Legislative days in which to pass adequate tax legislation which will assure the Federal Government that the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania intends in good faith to provide its fair share of the burden of unemployment relief.

Such legislation must be enacted if starvation, privation and indescribable hardships are to be avoided for the 2,000,000 Pennsylvanians now on the relief rolls.

GEORGE H. EARLE.

COMMUNICATION

The SPEAKER laid before the House the following communication which was read by the Clerk.

WORKMEN'S COMPENSATION

A resolution from the Executive Officers of Districts 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 7 and 9, of United Mine Workers of America, urging the passage of the administration Workmen's Compensation Bill.

Referred to the Committee on Labor.

STATEMENT BY MR. HART

Mr. HART asked and obtained unanimous consent to make the following statement:

Mr. Speaker and members of the House, on the twentieth day of February, I presented a bill here which afterwards became House Bill 1016.

The purpose of that bill was to amend sections one and two of the act approved the thirty-first day of May, eighteen hundred and ninety-three. The purpose of that amendment was to make the fourth day of April, being the anniversary of Thaddeus Stevens' birthday, a legal holiday.

The bill in question was then referred to the Committee on Banking. Why it went to the Committee on Banking, of course, I do not know. I spoke to the chairman of that committee for the purpose of having the bill brought out on the floor of this House. Up to the present time there has been no reaction to my request that this bill be presented to this House.

I have no desire to discuss the merits of this bill tonight, but I do feel that this bill ought to be turned out of committee, so that the members of this House can act intelligently upon it and decide whether or not the Father of Public Education in the State of Pennsylvania should be honored by having the anniversary of his birth, the fourth day of April, set aside as a legal holiday.

I have been a member of this House for quite a number of years and I have but once voted for the discharge of any committee and I am not going to ask you to vote for the discharge of this committee here tonight. I am going to ask, however, that the members of this House shall decide by their vote whether or not the birthday of Thaddeus Stevens shall be honored, so that our school children may know who is responsible for our system of free education, instigated by Thaddeus Stevens one hundred years ago.

MOTION FOR COMMITTEE TO RETURN

Mr. HART. I, therefore, move that the Committee on Banking be requested to return House Bill No. 1016, in order that the members of this House may vote intelligently upon it and decide whether or not they feel that the birthday of Thaddeus Stevens should be so honored.

The SPEAKER. Did the gentleman from Philadelphia made a motion?

Mr. HART. Mr. Speaker, I made a motion.

Mr. SOWERS. Mr. Speaker, I second the motion.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman restate his motion?

MOTION TO DISCHARGE COMMITTEE

Mr. HART. Mr. Speaker, I will go back to what I hesitated about doing. I move, Mr. Speaker, that the Committee on Banking be discharged from further consideration of House Bill No. 1016.

The SPEAKER. The Chair insists that the motion be made in writing.

Mr. HART. Very good, sir.

Mr. STONE. Mr. Speaker, the Committee on Banking will meet tomorrow and take this matter up and dispose of it one way or the other.

The SPEAKER. Is that satisfactory to the gentleman from Philadelphia?

Mr. HART. Mr. Speaker, that is perfectly satisfactory and I will take the gentleman's word in the matter, because that will make it possible for us to go ahead without any unkind remarks about discharging the committee.

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Philadelphia withdraws his motion.
